RECORD CROWD ATTENDS MADOC FAIR

The Madoc Annual Fair was held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week and this year's exhibition was probably the best in the long history of the society, which was formed in 1905. Fine weather, a record-breaking crowd, excellent exhibits, a good midway and a crowd pleasing program is ample proof that fall fairs are still one of the most popular events in rural communities.

This year's fair was officially opened by Lea Grills, M.P. for Hastings, who complimented the President and Executive on the fine exhibition. He referred particularly to the calf clubs and excellent showing of beef cattle. He pointed out that this had been a bountiful year with good crops and that there was no finer place in the world to live than here. We should count our blessings and love our neighbours, he said, and fall fairs bring a large number of people together as neighbours.

Harold Harris, president of the Madoc Fair Board, welcomed the guests while Mr. Allen Ketcheson, Reeve of Madoc Township, introduced Mr. Grills. Other speakers included Clarke T. Rollins, M.L.A., and Mrs. Leonard Trotter, President of the Ladies' Division of the Fair Board.

Friday saw the exhibiting and judging of Dairy Cattle, Carriage and Roadster Horses, Sheep and Cheese.

Friday evening, a large crowd turned out for the Drawing Matches when eight teams competed in the light class and five teams in the heavy class. Winners were as follows: Light Horses, Cecil Woods, Madoc; Clinton Grear, Richmond; George McLean, Little Britain and Gerry Barry, Queensboro. Heavy Horses, Victor Cox, Minden; Mac McGillivray, Bancroft; Lorne Gunning, Tweed and Cliff Manion, Plevna.

Saturday, the big day at the fair, saw the 4-H Club program, 4-H interclub competitions, the showing and judging of heavy horses, beef cattle, swine and poultry, horse races, chariot races and platform program.

The Star Broadway Show dominated the midway with seven rides including a roller-coaster, a first at Madoc Fair. The midway was well patronized as were the games and refreshment booths.

The platform program was in charge of Doug Pigden and Grant Ketcheson, as master of ceremonies, who did an excellent job of keeping the program of professional entertainment by the County Jewels and Cedar Valley Boys and contests going at a fast clip throughout the entire afternoon. Other entertainment included a display by the Centre Hastings Secondary School Gymnastic team and Square Dancing by the Madoc Merry Mixers and Hitts and Misses from Belleville.

Contest Winners:

Nail Driving for Men — Glen Baker, Mr. Bowers and Dan Fortune.

Nail Driving for Ladies — Mrs. Marie Ray, Harper Bateman and Mrs. Marguerite Sedore, Roblin.

Step Dancing, Boys and Girls — Master Pat McWilliams and Garry McWilliams, both of Corbyville, and Garry Lamb of Flinton.

Balloon Contest — Barbara Bronson, Joe Courneyea, Mary O'Riordan and Jeff Broad.

Fiddling Contest — Louis Cassibo, Roslin, Norman Pounder, Ivanhoe and Wm. Laird of Trenton.

Soda Biscuit for Children — Paul Courneyea, Bob Williamson, and Don Forestall.

Step Dancing, ladies and gents — Dan Fortune, Peter Monigham and Harry McWilliams.

Person Travelling the Farthest to attend Madoc Fair — Mrs. Hallie Reid, Stoneboro, P.A., U.S.A.

Bubble Gum Contest — Marilyn Houston, Garry Kotwa and Debby Rose.

REV. MARNEY PATTERSON VISITS MADOC

The executive of the Centre Hastings Crusade met on Monday, September 16th., at the Madoc Wesleyan Church, with fourteen members present and Rev. W. Sedgwick in charge. Rev. Marney Patterson and Mrs. Patterson were present to add advice and experience to the committees.

Mrs. Fred Bailey will assume the position of Chairman of Delegations with Rev. Vaughan taking over the chairmanship of Operation Andrew. Rev. J. Thompson reported that nine Prayer Fellowship groups are in operation and three more are expected to begin next week.

Mr. H. Brintnell gave a report on the Music Committee and two choir rehearsals are planned, one on Sunday, October 27th., and one on November 17th. The next meeting of the executives will take place in St. Peter's Presbyterian Church on October 7th. at 8:00 p.m.

The Committee Chairmen were very much impressed with Rev. Patterson who will conduct the services for the Invitation to Live Crusade, scheduled for Trinity United Church from November 24th., to December 1.

DEAR DORIS

advice from
Doris Clark

Contact lenses are good

DEAR DORIS — I am a teacher, 43. I have worn glasses since I was 13, and I hate them. They make me look old and ugly.

Tell me about contact lenses. Can anybody wear them? Can you use them to read with? Would they be harmful to the eyes if they were worn for a number of years?

Mrs. Chips

DEAR MRS. CHIPS — Almost anybody can wear them, if they can get through that first three months, while the eyes are making their adjustment. If you want them badly enough, you're likely to make it.

There are now some good bifocal types, greatly appreciated by teachers, public speakers, ministers — or anyone else who has to address an audience while referring to notes.

Not harmful. Helpful and wonderful to many persons with eye problems.

DEAR DORIS — I was interested in the letter from "Clueless." Would you please mail me a copy of the list of recommended books on love and marriage?

I understand the young lady's problem for I, too, am in her position. My mother tells me that such information is for married people only. I might add that I am of marrying age; responsible enough for this step; and am in love with a wonderful fellow.

To whom can we talk out our fears and ignorances? In this fast-moving day and age, no one is much interested in helping; just ridiculing others on their helplessness.

Unadvised

DEAR UNADVISED — One wise father I know says: "Give your girls and boys the ammunition they need and then let them go out and fight life's battles." The ammunition is knowledge: in this case facts about love and marriage, told lovingly and naturally. And told by the person they look to first.

The ones who must wait until marriage for such instruction start off with two strikes against them. What on earth is wrong with knowing about sex?

I'd suspect your mother is hiding her own fear and false modesty about the subject behind her lame excuse. I'm sending you my list.

DEAR DORIS — My sister-in-law is making trouble between my daughter and her husband, and between them and us.

Is it an emotional upset that makes them deny the truth when asked a question that we fully knew the answer to beforehand? I call my sister-in-law a treacherous snake-in-the-grass.

She has interfered in her own brother's family until he kicked her out. That cured her and she never went back. I have prayed my daughter and her husband would have the sense to do the same.

My mother used to say "Do nothing. Everything will come out in the wash."

Humiliated

DEAR HUMILIATED — So much depends on personalities, and on the nature of the lies and rumors, that it is hard to say something helpful from here.

Your mother might just be right. There is a lot to be said for waiting it out; being your own friendly selves and letting the truth dawn on your loved ones without any recriminations from you.

But don't wait forever. The time may come when you will feel it is right for you to clear the air with your daughter and son-in-law.

To Fun-Maker — I'm sending you my latest leaflet "Halloween, A Night That Meant for Fun," along with the basic one I did a while ago on "Throwing A Halloween Frolic."

Lots of hi-jinks for you: ideas about invitations, ghostly games, weird sound effects, food and drink. (May be had by anyone writing in for them and enclosing 10 cents for each leaflet desired, along with a five-cent, stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

TWEED HIGH SCHOOL SALE DRAWS CRITICISM

A fight is shaping up between the new county board of education and the Tweed-Hungerford High School Board over the sale of the Tweed High School to the area's separate school board.

At the heart of the problem is the question of whether Tweed would have any secondary education after the new county board of education takes over in January.

Chairman of the Tweed board, B. J. Hunt, said Tuesday morning the 13-room school would be sold to the separate board so "we can retain some sort of high school in Tweed."

Separate board chairman, Simon Meraw says his board has offered $138,000 for the school, but the sale has not yet been authorized by the department of education.

He said that he expects some of the protestant students attending the Tweed school would remain. "We will have to charge them though," he said.

Chairman of the committee looking into the problems involved in setting up the new county-wide school board, James Clarke charged "the Tweed board is letting local considerations overrule the educational requirements of the children."

Committee officials believed earlier that the school could be used as a public school once an addition is completed at Centre Hastings High School in Madoc. The public school in Tweed is now using ten portable classrooms.

But that was before the Tweed board decided to sell the school.

"We've been accused of not telling the public school board we were selling the school, but I advised their inspector, Frank Tate, last spring that the school would come up for sale," board chairman Hunt claimed.

"It's been rumoured for three or four years that the students would be transferred to Madoc, so we took the matter into our own hands. We want to have a high school in Tweed."

The decision to sell the school was reached at a meeting of the Tweed board on September 9th. Four members favoured a motion that "the Tweed High School is no longer required" — effective June, 1969, while two voted against and one abstained.

On a follow-up motion that the board sell the school to Tweed CRC-SS in July, 1969, five voted in favour, one against and one board member abstained.

Public school officials believe it would be illegal for the board to sell the school. "Under section 38 of the school act they must show where the displaced students will attend classes," Tweed public school administrator, Clifford Cotton said Tuesday.

Area superintendent for the department of education, Ralph Froats, Kingston, said he is studying the issue. "The legality of the situation is being looked into by the department."

Separate board chairman Meraw says his board needs an answer soon. "If we can't buy the school, we'll have to build an addition on our present school," he said. "Also, if we can't buy the school, we won't offer grades nine and ten."

The Interim School Organization Committee meeting at Centennial Secondary School Monday night had the controversial matter brought to its attention by Mr. Cotton.

Both Mr. Cotton and Herbert Cox, Hastings County School Area No. 2 representatives on ISOC, said they had been told that when the high school was closed, their board would have an equal opportunity with St. Catharines' board to bid on purchase of the building.

We heard no more of the matter until we were informed the school had been sold to the separate school board," Mr. Cotton told ISOC.

Tweed-Hungerford High School Board members had assumed the Tweed High School would be closed June, 1969, following formation of the new county board.

"We wanted to retain secondary education as long as possible in Tweed," said B. J. Hunt, ISOC member and chairman of Tweed Hungerford high school board.

His board felt this would be ensured by the separate school board's intention of adding grades nine and ten to its program in Tweed.

"If this sale goes through, the county board will have to find accommodation next September for Tweed's 235 students in Madoc's already overcrowded school," ISOC chairman, James Clarke, said.

An addition to Centre Hastings High School in Madoc is now on the drawing board and may not be completed until January, 1970. In the meantime about one-half its students are housed in temporary quarters in the armories.

Apparently all the interested parties were not included in the negotiations," Mr. Clarke added. "It's unfortunate the new county board is not yet in existence and has no one to represent its interests."

"Timing of the sale is wrong," agreed Hugh Gray, Sidney. "If there is no way of placing these students in school next September, the school should not have been sold now. It's a waste of the ratepayer's money."

F. B. Allore, separate school superintendent, told the meeting that enrolment at Tweed High School was almost equally divided between children of public and separate school supporters.

If, as expected, all grade nine and ten students remain in Tweed to attend the proposed separate high school, only about 150 students would have to be transported to Centre Hastings High School in Madoc.

Enrolment at the Tweed school to date is 235, but several more students are expected when their summer employment is finished. Fifteen teachers are on the staff.

ISOC members debated whether the contracts to purchase, signed by the high school board and St. Catharines' board, were binding on the new Hastings County School Board.

"It's a pity that before it comes into existence the new board is committed to the loss of one school", commented Mr. Clarke.

A formal motion of protest was carried, 7 to 2.

In addition, F. Tate, chairman of the ISOC secretariat, and Mr. Clarke will write to the department of education, outlining the reasons for protest, and the difficulties in accommodating students next year if the sale goes through.

Although the student population at Tweed High School is about 50 per cent Catholic — 50 per cent Protestant, assessment figures for Tweed-Hungerford give a different picture.

There is $2,189,000 in public school assessment and $603,000 in separate assessment.

Would you throw money out your car window? It will cost the Department of Highways more than $700,000 this year to keep Ontario's highways neat and tidy. Don't be a litterbug — it could SAVE YOU MONEY!

Mon Dieu, mes amis

The French-speaking nationalists who have gained power in Quebec face a very difficult problem in attempting to protect and promote their language and culture.

Their almost-ferocious attempts to make Quebec a one-language state are, of course, aimed at building dykes to protect their French-speaking island from the tides of assimilation in the sea of 200-million English-speaking North Americans.

To do this, Quebec must cast off any kind of bilingual cover. But in so doing, it isolates its five-million French Canadians, drives off economic investment from outside, and ensures Quebec's continued isolation.

The result is to restrict the abilities of its people to compete in the English dominated world of modern commerce and science.

Quebec's rejection of the kind of bilingual policy which had been held out as a goal for all of Canada, means also that the English majority in the rest of the nation will stiffen its resistance to bilingualism. If Quebec cannot accept a bilingual Canada, how then can the rest of the country be expected to do so?

Just as the settlement of the West was left to migrants from Ontario and across the sea, so also will the frontiers of the future be manned by other than French Canadians.

There are already signs of this in Montreal, where to the horror of the Quebec establishment, attempts to make French the dominant language, have so far met with failure.

The fact is that Montreal is still as great an English bone in the throat of Quebec as it ever was. This partly accounts for the emotion of Quebec's Cultural Affairs minister, Jean-Noel Tremblay, in declaring that both employers and immigrants should have to work and do business in the French language.

This position, in the main supported by Quebec premier Daniel Johnson, contrasts sharply with the views of Prime Minister Trudeau.

The Prime Minister, genuinely committed to a "One Canada" policy which respects the rights of citizens to the language of their choice — be it French or English — views Quebec's drive toward a one-language state as both deplorable and misguided.

He has said: "Our position is that we hoped that rather than withdraw privileges from the English minority in Quebec, the privileges would be given to the French minorities in other provinces."

The English rights which Ottawa can protect in Quebec are only those built into the BNA Act. These are limited to the protection of English in the legislature, the courts and the statutes of the province.

The language bill which the Quebec Government will announce shortly, is expected to contain certain protections for English rights.

The most important protection, however, is in the field of education, not in laws respecting language. And Quebec is committed constitutionally only to providing schooling for Protestant and Catholic faiths. There is no law that education has to be in English as well as French.

This is why the Montreal suburb of St. Leonard has become a battleground between the languages. The Roman Catholic school board there has decided to phase out English as a language of instruction year by year — starting this year with all-French Grade One. English-speaking parents — including many Italian immigrants who realize their future in the New World depends on their mastery of English — have pulled their children out of school and are refusing to pay school taxes.

Unless some kind of a reasonable compromise can be worked out, there is no doubt that Quebec will indeed become a French-speaking only state. But the results will be as disastrous for French Canadians as they will be disappointing for the rest of Canada.

PUBLIC MEETING HELD RE REMOVAL OF C.N.R. STATION AGENT

A public meeting of great concern to the Village of Madoc and surrounding community was held in the Centennial Room of the Madoc Public Library at 3:30 p.m. on Tuesday, September 24th, 1968.

The meeting was called by Mr. C. W. Polley, District Inspector, Railway Transport Committee, to review the application of the Canadian National Railways for authority to remove the station agent at Madoc, Ontario, and appoint an "on hand Representative".

Mr. Polley, chairman of the meeting stated that it was an informal meeting to gather information and to report to the committee the amount of loss and inconvenience to the public that may result from the action proposed by the Railway.

Mr. H. J. Fast, Manager, Rideau Area, Canadian National Railways, Belleville, Ontario, was asked to speak on the proposal. Mr. Fast stated that the cost of maintaining stations is all out of proportion with the revenue.

Seaway, Airlines and Trucking with highly concentrated locations can offer services for less. The C.N.R. realized it could no longer continue a business that is more expensive than its competitors. Request for service is no further away than a person's telephone.

In order to expedite service, a new freight terminal has been built in Belleville with mechanized sorting facilities. They could not modernize the system by continuing small stations. We must adjust to the times — to meet competition we must give service where service is needed.

Mr. Polley called on Mr. T. Burnside, Reeve, who in turn called on Mr. Harry Roscoe to present a brief on behalf of the Village.

Mr. Roscoe reviewed the Master Agency Plan that was put into effect November 14, 1966, without considering the wishes or needs of the people of Madoc. It is not satisfactory to the local industries.

Also there is undue delay in processing damage claims on Express.

There is no passenger service.

Sending and receiving telegrams via phone is also unsatisfactory. Sending money by telegraph can only be done by travelling to Belleville.

It is felt that the removal of the agent will adversely affect the prospects of attracting new industry. It is also felt that removal of the agent is the first step in the removal of the rail line. Local industries are forced to hire extra help to replace the services formerly supplied by the local agent. No hired help can replace the good will and intangible services rendered to the public on behalf of the C.N.R. by the local agent. In conclusion, Madoc Village Council strongly protests the removal of the local agent at Madoc and submits that the alternate service offered is not satisfactory to the needs of the community. We respectfully request that the Railway Transport Committee deny the application of the C.N.R. as outlined above.

Mr. Polley, commending Mr. Roscoe on the brief, stated that there had been no application to remove the rail line.

Mr. Gordon Pigden, representing the Chamber of Commerce, felt that rather than improving the system, the C.N.R. was depreciating it further.

Mr. Fast replied that the C.N.R. was in constant touch with new industry — they have been aggressive in locating new industry. He stated emphatically that they were not even studying and there was no intention of removing the Railway from Madoc. This year there was a decided increase in business from one local industry. In Belleville the C.N.R. has modern communications — instantaneous Dial System — must place equipment where there is a heavy volume of traffic.

Mr. McGillivray stated that claims were slow because they have to be approved by the claims manager in Montreal.

Mr. Robert Kirkwood, Manager, Canada Tale Industries, spoke on the inconveniences experienced under the new system — condition of cars, loading cars, billing and damages — which was formerly looked after by the agent.

Mr. Wotton assured him that a representative would come from Belleville at any time to inspect the cars. He also said that the Railway had invested money in cars expressly for the tale industry and the Rail Line is not likely to be removed.

Mr. Doug Pigden mentioned that the delivery of express had improved but it was apparent that the shipping by carloads had not.

Mr. David Kernohan spoke for Stoklosar Marble Quarries; Mr. Hous-ton for Grenville Aggregates and Mr. R. A. Woods for the Madoc Co-operative, all voicing their appreciation of the agent, Mr. Madgett and their opposition to his removal.

Mr. Polley, in closing, said he would report to the committee and in case of a decision in favour of the Railroad, all interested parties would be notified and would have twenty days to respond. Reeve Burnside read a telegram from Mr. Lee Grills, M.P., regretting his inability to attend and requesting that every consideration be given to maintaining the present services.

A letter was also received from Senator George White regretting his inability to attend.

Meeting adjourned at 5:45 p.m.

Olive G. Ashe, Clerk-Treasurer.

Among ways that the young people can help, plans were discussed for an advertising "blitz" which will take place in Madoc on or about November 17. A time of prayer followed the address by the General Chairman and the Prayer Breakfast was concluded with the reading of the Crusade Prayer.

Mr. Wotton assured him that a representative would come from Belleville at any time to inspect the cars. He also said that the Railway had invested money in cars expressly for the tale industry and the Rail Line is not likely to be removed.

Mr. David Kernohan spoke for Stoklosar Marble Quarries; Mr. Hous-ton for Grenville Aggregates and Mr. R. A. Woods for the Madoc Co-operative, all voicing their appreciation of the agent, Mr. Madgett and their opposition to his removal.

Mr. Polley, in closing, said he would report to the committee and in case of a decision in favour of the Railroad, all interested parties would be notified and would have twenty days to respond. Reeve Burnside read a telegram from Mr. Lee Grills, M.P., regretting his inability to attend and requesting that every consideration be given to maintaining the present services.

A letter was also received from Senator George White regretting his inability to attend.

Meeting adjourned at 5:45 p.m.

Olive G. Ashe, Clerk-Treasurer.

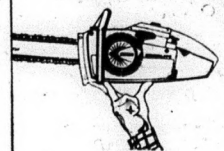

YOUTH PRAYER BREAKFAST

About fifty young people attended a Youth Prayer Breakfast held recently in the Anglican Parish Hall, Madoc. The Breakfast was sponsored by the Youth Committee of the Centre Hastings Invitation to Live Crusade.

Following a breakfast served by the Anglican Church Women of St. John the Baptist Anglican Church, the young people heard a talk by the General Chairman of the Crusade, Rev. Wendell Sedgwick of Queensboro United Church. He explained the purpose of the Crusade to be held from November 24th to December 1st of this year. He also invited the youth to "get involved" and play their part in the Crusade.

If sufficient interest is shown by the teenage golfers of the area, this could become an annual event.

HASTINGS CABLE VISION TO EXPAND SYSTEM IN MADOC

"The acceptance of Cable Television in Madoc has far surpassed the predictions of the experts", states Glen Nickle, one of the owners of the Community Antennae Co-axial Cable System of the Village.

Hastings Cable Vision Ltd. began to operate their complicated and very modern plant less than two years ago. Customer praise and acceptance began at the very start, so that at this time over 60 per cent of the homes are wired to the distribution lines that already exist. Mr. Nickle informs us that the experts in the field say this goal could not be reached for five years of operation. He attributes this mark of success to the need of better reception by the people of Madoc whose aeriels are shadowed by the hills that surround the community.

Expansion of the system took place in three stages, and now the company is planning the biggest and last stage in wiring up the West and South-West portions of the village. They hope to have this segment in operation by Christmas.

T.V. signals from nine different Stations, representing all of the major networks, are picked up on a 170-foot high tower on Mr. Ed. Sexsmiths farm, east of the village. These signals are amplified thousands of times and then fed to a 'Trunk' cable. This 'Trunk' carries it to other amplifiers scattered around the village, then fed to 'Distribution cables'. Customers are then tapped to the distribution cable by 'Subscription Cable' by attenuators and transformers. All of this insures that each subscriber is isolated from interference caused by his neighbour and also insures that he gets as good as signal as the home 'right next' to the Tower.

Not many villages of the size of Madoc can boast of the facilities offered by Co-axial Cable.

HASTY PEES TO HOLD 24th ANNUAL REUNION

Once again the veterans of Eastern Ontario's famous 'Plough Jockey' Regiment are preparing for their annual reunion. At one time all roads, for the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, led to Rome. This year, however, the road leads to Belleville for the weekend of October 12th, 13th and 14th.

All who are able to attend, will do well to pause for a few moments of reverent silence, as they pass the beautiful Memorial on the Armouries lawn. This Memorial was erected last year, by the Hastings and Prince Edward Regimental Association, to the lasting memory of those who passed on, to form the White Battalion.

To ensure the continued life of this Association, it has been decided to extend the qualification required for membership. Anyone who has a clean military record, is over twenty-one years of age and who has served three years (or more), with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment (Reserve Unit) is now eligible for membership. All members or former members of the Reserve Unit, with these qualifications, are cordially invited to attend this twenty-fourth reunion.

With the willing co-operation of Colonel Allan and his staff, everything will be in readiness, at Belleville Armouries to make this one of the better reunions. All of the unit's wartime commanding officers have been invited and it is hoped that most of them will be on the saluting base, for the march past. Farley Mowat has been invited as guest speaker and should be able to provide a most interesting educational half hour.

Some of the planned highlights are: Saturday evening, a dance in the Armouries; Sunday, at 10:00 a.m., the annual Business Meeting of the Association, 12:00 noon, Church Parade to the Cenotaph, 2:00 p.m. Regimental Banquet on Armouries main floor. All members, member's wives, (or, but not and) member's girl friends, will be welcomed at this banquet.

The Association Executive has worked very hard to make this reunion a success. Now it remains for the membership to ensure that their effort has not been wasted. If you are, or have been, a member of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, Active or Reserve, welcome to Belleville on Thanksgiving weekend.

23 LB. MUSKIE

Gordon Pigden landed his fifth muskellunge of the season this week when he caught one weighing 23 lbs. while fishing at Moira Lake.

During the week of September 22, 1968, to September 28, 1968, officers of the Madoc Detachment, Ontario Provincial Police, investigated seven motor vehicle accidents, all of a property damage nature. Total damage estimated at $1,835.00.

There were 54 occurrences reported, six thefts, one break and enter, one assault, three disturbances, one hunting accident, seven requests for assistance, with 35 miscellaneous occurrences.

62 vehicles were safety checked, 40 traffic warnings, with 17 charges laid under authority of the Highway Traffic Act of Ontario.

Four thousand, six hundred miles of area roads were patrolled during 440 working hours.

Twenty-six hours were spent in Magistrate's Court, Madoc, with Magistrate R. C. Jackson registering 56 convictions.

DRIVERS: Remember This! Young children, five and under, and older people, our senior citizens, are in the age groups most likely to be involved in pedestrian traffic accidents. Whenever you drive, keep our young children and older people in mind, and you'll be doing a lot to keep them out of accidents.

MOTORISTS: Here is an emergency vehicle reminder when you hear a Police, Fire, Ambulance or Public Utility Siren. The law requires that you bring your vehicle to a stop as near to the right hand curb as possible.

REMINISCING

Taken from the Review files of 50, 25 and 15 years ago.

50 YEARS AGO
October 3rd., 1918.

Recently a shipment of $125,000 worth of silver bullion was made by the Deloro Refining and Smelting Co. from Bonar-Law. The shipment was in 80-pound bricks, each worth $1,025, and took up one big truck. It was being sent to England.

The most important discovery of natural gas ever made in this district was struck recently when a well was being drilled at the west end of Stirling Village on the premises of Wm. Wallace. The drill had reached a depth of 80 feet when suddenly there was a strong upward rush of gas. The men operating the drill could not remain in the vicinity, so strong was the odor. A match was applied to the aperture and a brilliant flame shot up to a height of twelve feet. A few feet above the ground the blaze was more than a foot in diameter. The gas was left burning all night and was this morning blazing with undiminished volume and brilliance. Immediate steps will be taken to cap the well, which, if it proves permanent, would furnish both light and heat for the village.

Born — In Madoc Village on September 3rd., 1918, to Mr. and Mrs. James Caskey, a son, Robert Haig.

Obituary — On September 11th, at ten o'clock a.m., there passed away at her home in Madoc Twp., Ada, beloved wife of Harry A. Johnson, aged 38 years.

There passed away on Saturday, September 28th., Lena De Rushia, beloved wife of Mr. P. Kellar at the age of 28 years. Left to mourn her loss are her husband and four children. Funeral services took place on Wednesday at West Huntingdon.

25 YEARS AGO
Sept. 30th., 1943.

Two pant suits now available — The Canadian male got this news from the Prices Board today. He can again buy trousers with cuffs and get two-pant suits. These things were banned in March last year because developments in the Pacific indicated the entire Australian wool supply might be cut off and because the rapidly expanding Canadian Armed Forces created vast demands for uniforms.

Hon. George H. Doucett, Ontario Minister of Highways has announced that no new licence plates will be issued to motorists in this province next year because of the steel shortage. "Vehicles will carry a windshield sticker to be supplied when the licences are purchased", he said. Mr. Doucett explained that the stickers are to be issued in place of steel markers because of Wartime Prices and Trade Board has prohibited use of steel for licence plates. He warned however, that the 1943 markers now carried on the rear of an automobile should be retained and advised all motorists to preserve present plates.

Mr. W. J. Hill informed the Review that a large moose was seen at Coe Hill at noon on Monday. The animal was as large as a horse and had horns five feet across.

Births — In Belleville General Hospital on Tuesday, September 28th., to Mr. and Mrs. Francis Feeney, a daughter.

Weddings — A very pretty Autumn wedding was solemnized on Saturday, September 25th., at the home of the bride's parents, Crookston, when the Rev. O. Wagar united in marriage Thelma Jean Downey, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Downey of Crookston, to Ernest B. Holland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Holland of Campbellford played the wedding music. Miss Helen Downey of Kingston, cousin of the bride, was her only attendant. Mr. Kenneth Holland attended the groom.

Deaths — In Bannockburn on Monday, September 27th., Alexander Finlayson, aged 96 years.

In Belleville Hospital on Saturday, September 25th., Clarence Whittington Carman, aged 58 years.

15 YEARS AGO
October 1st., 1953.

St. Peter's Presbyterian Church ended two weeks of special events with a turkey dinner last evening. The occasion for the celebration was the 100th anniversary of an ordained ministry in St. Peter's.

Although the rain was pouring down Saturday evening, September 19th., it did not dampen the spirits of the people who gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Post to help them celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Every member of the families on both sides were present, also Mr. and Mrs. Mark Howard, as they are close friends of all who were there. Mr. Howard was chairman and, after a short speech, placed two chairs for the bride and groom of twenty-five years and asked them to accept the lovely gifts which were presented to them. Margaret and Elgin were taken completely by surprise and both made suitable speeches of acceptance for the gifts.

Fish and Wildlife Inspector Robt. Sheppard, says 1953 will go down in history as an outstanding year for swimming events. A return trip of the English Channel, someone set a record for the Straits of Gibraltar and records were broken at the C.N.E. Finally he says, a racoon swam across Mazinaw Lake at the widest point. Local residents are sure the animal was trying to establish some kind of record for a non-stop trip and vouch for the story. Coons are noted speckled trout fishermen, but usually their activities are close to shore or off a log lying across a stream. This one, speculated Mr. Sheppard, might have been just another non-resident coming back for his exportation limit before freeze-up.

Births — At Mrs. Keller's Nursing Home on Friday, September 25th., to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Nayler, a son.

In Belleville Hospital on Tuesday, September 29th., to Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Casselman, a son.

Marriage — Wesleyan Methodist Church, Belleville, was the setting on Saturday, September 26th., of the marriage of Vivian Alma Bell, daughter of Mrs. John Bell and the late Mr. Bell, to Oliver Trotter of Madoc. The Rev. J. S. A. Spearman officiated. Mrs. Arthur Stewart, sister of the bride, was matron of honour, little Miss Marilyn Spearman, niece of the bride, was flower girl, and Mr. Ray Hall of Belleville attended the groom. Death — Mrs. Fanny Eliza Danford died at the home of her son, Mr. Sam Danford, on Wednesday, September 23rd., aged 75 years. She is survived by her husband, Joseph Danford, one daughter and four sons, also nineteen grandchildren.

DUCK HUNTERS BASK
DURING OPENING DAY

Conservation Officers in the Tweed District checked over 800 hunters on the opening day of the duck shoot and examined over 11,000 birds. On the average, each hunter had one and a half birds and it took him two and a half hours to kill one.

Mallards were the most common and accounted for nearly 23 per cent of all ducks shot, followed by blacks, woodducks, blue-winged teal and green-winged teal in that order of abundance.

Other species taken were ringnecked ducks, pintails, redheads, widgeons and one Canada goose. The little hooded mergansers were quite in evidence and although not included in the daily bag limit, were taken by some hunters.

A good retriever is important in waterfowl hunting, but who needed a dog when the temperatures got up into the eighties. If you don't believe the swimming was good, ask John Williamson from the Napanee office. John "duffed" his clothing and swam out after a duck shot by a reluctant hunter who didn't have a dog (up to that point).

We are not sure of John's pedigree — or if he's for sale or hire.

Conservation Officers made 21 seizures on the opening day for infractions such as: hunting without a Federal Waterfowl Permit, loaded gun in power boat and shooting migratory non-game birds.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police were also checking duck hunters and although the exact number of seizures are unknown, several were made.

The use of the Hunter's Back Patch which accompanies the small game ($3.00) hunting licence got off to a poor start, owing to a mistake during printing. The white background did not meet with our safety program. The intended yellowish-orange back patches are now either in the hands of the issuers or will be as soon as Conservation Officers can get around to contacting them. The new patch will be mailed out to hunters who previously obtained their licence, with or without the white patch.

ALL WHITE BACK PATCHES ARE TO BE DESTROYED.

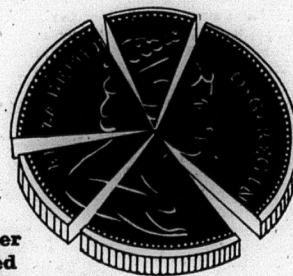

The back patch, which has a number corresponding with the licence originated largely to help ease the situation existing on private lands will somewhat poor hunter/farmer relationship and the consequent prohibing of hunting on private lands will only change for the better when hunters conduct themselves accordingly: with respect.

The hunter with the back patch conspicuously displayed, knows that he can readily be identified and traced by the number. He is now far more apt to get the necessary permission to trespass in order to hunt and to treat other's property with due respect. All true sportsmen should and do agree to this.

By regulations, the back patch must be worn at all times in effect and in conjunction with the regular hunting licence. A big game hunter who is licenced only for bear, deer or moose won't have a back patch, but if he also has a small game licence, we highly recommend that he wear the back patch.

Nobody knows for sure, but maybe a fish goes home and lies about the size of the bait he stole.

THE SPORTS BEAT

By Glen May

From the dressing room

Head coach Leo Cahill sat in the catcombs of the Canadian National Exhibition, now known as home of the Toronto Argonauts, smoking a cigarette taken from one reporter's pack and accepting a cigar from another scribe. The cigar was plunged into his shirt pocket.

Cahill did his swivel chair and shake hands with every visitor to the coaching off ice of the Argos. His team had just vaulted into first place in the Eastern Conference, and as he put it: "It's taken us 31 games to get this far."

Defensive backfield coach Jim Rountree sat discussing the excellence of corner-back Jimmy Dye; two key interceptions by him opened scoring marches.

"They really worked on Dye, but he kept hanging in there," praised Rountree.

Assistant coaches Dave Ackerman and Frank Johnston, both perspiring heavily from an afternoon in the spotter's booth, kept saying to no-one in particular: "We really came back and laid it on 'em (Montreal Alouettes)."

Lou Hayman, an Argo executive, dropped by and congratulated Cahill, not warmly. His remark about the game was: "Did Taylor (Bobby) blow a couple of pass patterns?"

Twice Taylor went one way and quarterback Wally Gabler's passes went the other, one intercepted, the other went off the fingertips of a Montreal defender.

Cahill answered that Taylor did indeed miss a couple of patterns.

Neither man mentioned that Taylor caught two touchdown passes as well as two other important grabs.

Cahill referred to the Alouettes as "a real fine football team." He praised the Montreal team for its balance, and added that "they're going to beat a lot of people before the season's over."

With the roar of 30,000-plus voices still ringing in their ears, the Argo players didn't hurry for a shower. They stood about congratulating each other and being congratulated by mobs of press and well-wishers.

Quarterback Wally Gabler, usually one of the first into the warm water and one of the last to leave, stood undressed in front of his locker shaking hands and saying: "It's taken a long time to get there, but now we've got 12 guys on offence and 12 guys on defense."

Punt returner Jim Copeland smiled: "Hamilton and Regina hit the hardest," and then gave you that look which said: "We've still got a long way to go."

Dick Thornton, who had scored a touchdown on his first carry from scrimmage, told his story: "I told the coach to give Dillard (Jim) a rest and put me in if he wanted six points."

Copeland came in with: "Geez, did the coach ever give us hell at half-time." Argo were tied 9-9 at the half. He continued: "But Cahill is a great coach. Not like Shaw (Bob, Cahill's predecessor) who used to chew you out and make you frightened about making a mistake. Cahill treats you like a man and you want to do the job for him."

The other players were talking about "playing each game, one at a time," and other copy, hackneyed, cliches. But, yet, there wasn't much you could say against their words and thoughts, not during their finest hour.

After all, they were members of the number one team in Eastern Canada.

And you just can't find too many faults with the best.

CENTRE HASTINGS WINTER SPORTS AREA HELD SECOND MEETING

The second meeting of the Centre Hastings Winter Sports Area was held Friday, September 20th, at the Legion Hall in Coe Hill.

Those present were: Frank Graham, Wollaston, President; Gordon Bennett, Highlands of Hastings, Secretary; Aubrey Aggett, Wollaston; Cecil Woods, Madoc Twp.; C. R. Hagerman, Madoc; Ken Cassidy, Elzevir; E. P. McNamara, Marmora; Joe Brintnell, Tudor and Cashel; George Fox, Marmora and Lake; M. J. Hamm, Limerick; Frank Bird, Marmora and Lake; Chas. Baker, Limerick; V. A. McMurray, Highlands of Hastings; O. Goodman, Dept. of Lands and Forests; with Clarke Rollins, M.L.A.; Keith Warner, George Warner, Archie Bird and Robert Hiltz of Coe Hill; Wm. J. O'Brien and Clarence Batchelor, both of Wollaston and Frank Woodcock, Coe Hill, in attendance.

After the meeting was called to order by the president at 8:15 p.m., the minutes of the first meeting were read and adoption was moved by M. J. Hamm and seconded by Aubrey Aggett.

Mr. Clarke Rollins was introduced and addressed the meeting. He congratulated the membership on their vision and cooperation, pointing out that through a united effort much can be accomplished. He promised his cooperation as M.L.A. in assisting in the endeavours of the organization.

Mr. McMurray reported on the meeting with a senior ARDA representative in Belleville. It was pointed out that the present project was not broad enough in scope to win ARDA support. A much more comprehensive study in greater depth would be required. Since this is impossible to obtain in a short time, it is apparent that ARDA support cannot be obtained for several months at the earliest. Mr. McMurray stated that the Highlands of Hastings Area Tourist Council would assist financially by matching dollar for dollar any money spent by the municipal councils with the provisions that all planning and trails be part of an overall project approved by the committee as a whole.

Moved by George Fox and seconded by M. J. Hamm that this organization continue as now constituted and proceed on its own resources with the assistance offered by the Highlands of Hastings Area Tourist Council.

A proposed constitution was read and amended and copies will be forwarded to each municipal Council. This constitution will be presented for further amendment and formal adoption at the next meeting.

It was moved by E. McNamara and seconded by C. Hagerman that two co-ordinating committees, one representing the northern part of the area and one the southern, be appointed to approve the trail layouts proposed by the municipal Councils.

The following were appointed to the Committees: North - Aubrey Aggett, M. J. Hamm, Ross Sprackett; South - Joe Brintnell, George Fox, Cecil Woods, Ken Cassidy.

Mr. Woods nominated Gordon Bennett to serve as Acting Treasurer pending the appointment of a permanent Secretary-Treasurer. Carried by acclamation.

It was moved by Mr. Hamm and seconded by Mr. Brintnell that the

ST. PETER'S TO OBSERVE 115th ANNIVERSARY

On October 12 and 13, Thanksgiving Weekend, St. Peter's Presbyterian Church will observe its 115th Anniversary. A special effort is being made on this occasion and a Homecoming Weekend is being promoted in connection with the Anniversary.

An Anniversary Supper is planned C.H.W.S.A. not charge trail fees, and thereby not accept any responsibility for the first part of the season. This decision is not to prevent any local organization from organizing local snowmobile meets and charging as they see fit.

Moved by Aubrey Aggett and seconded by E. McNamara that thanks be extended to Branch 581 of the Royal Canadian Legion for the use of their hall.

Moved by Cecil Hagerman and seconded by George Fox that the secretary request that the minutes of these meetings be published in the local newspaper.

Adjournment was moved by Mr. Hamm at 10:45 p.m.

for October 12th, beginning at 5:30 p.m. This will be open to all who wish to attend. At 8 p.m., a former Minister of St. Peter's, the Rev. Robert Sinclair, Smith Falls, will speak in the Church Sanctuary. Rev. Sinclair was minister here from 1960 to 1964.

There are three meetings planned for October 13, Sunday. At 9:00 a.m., the Sacrament of Holy Communion will be observed. This is planned especially for the visitors who will be returning for the Anniversary. At 11:00 a.m., the Rev. T. G. Marshall, a former Minister of St. Peter's (1925-1931) will be the Anniversary Speaker.

Rev. Sinclair and Rev. Marshall are the only two former ministers of St. Peter's who are still living and active in the ministry.

At 7:30 p.m., Sunday evening, there will be a congregational sing-song, special music and greetings from some of the guests. The history of St. Peter's will also be read at the evening meeting.

We invite everyone to participate with us in this Anniversary weekend. You will receive a warm welcome and meet many old friends.

SUGAR AND SPICE

by Bill Smiley

Ian is quite a lad

Young people, however fine their ethical standards, have a knack of getting themselves, and innocent bystanders, into some unholy messes. Herewith a couple of examples.

Our neighbor's boy, Ian, is a good lad. He's clean, honest, polite and law-abiding. He's about as normal a young fellow as you'd meet. Likes girls, plays football and works hard at everything except school.

He and his gang are mad about motors. Motorbikes and cars occupy much of their waking time. Ian had a Honda, then a Volks, and this summer bought a convertible for $60.

It runs. Last week, his group was out cruising around, looking at used cars. They had no money to buy one. Just looking. And they came across a deal no red-blooded car-lover could resist.

It was a hearse. A huge, black, 1950 Cadillac hearse. It hadn't been stripped down into a vegetable truck or something of the sort. It was a genuine, ready-for-work hearse, complete with purple upholstery and every detail, right down to a crucifix.

Think of the history in that black behemoth's years of service. Think of all the good souls who had their first and last ride in a Cadillac in that long, sombre body.

I don't think the boys pondered much on these things. But they were hooked. They'd have the coolest transportation in town. And a Cadillac.

But what did it was the price. One hundred dollars. Ian, the only one with any money in the bank, wrote a cheque on the spot. The others were to come in on shares when they raised the money.

I don't blame them. If I'd seen it first, I'd have bought it as a second car for my wife. It would certainly be a conversation piece.

And that's exactly what it turned out to be. When Ian drove out and parked it in the driveway, and his parents found out what he'd done, there was some conversation, all right.

He was told in no uncertain terms that he had made a grave error, that he'd taken on a stiff proposition, and that this was not a motorbike, but a hearse of a different color. But the damage was done. The menacing black hearse had been seen in the driveway. The phone began to ring. The neighbors started taking up a collection for flowers. The Potato Man, who calls regularly at the back door, hat on his breast, tears in his eyes, and said brokenly, "I didn't know whether I should call today, when you've had a sadness in the family."

Ian was told to get that hearse out of sight. He let one of the other lads take it home. The latter's mother told him not to park it within a block of their house. People chased him away when he tried to park in front of their homes. And so it went the rounds of the boys and their parents.

It is now hidden behind the cottage of one of the families involved, deep in the woods. But the boys, undaunted by ghostly or gruesome associations, are planning some fine parties and fishing trips in it next summer, when the heat is off.

The second incident occurred at our school this week. These days, teachers are trying all sorts of novel methods to make learning come alive. Some work; some don't.

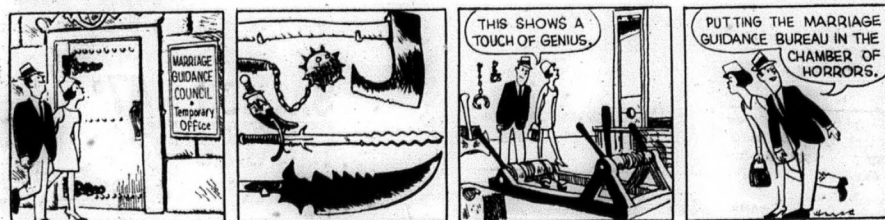

One of our young history teachers had carefully planned a mock trial. He arranged for one of his students (a girl with a beginner's driving license) to "steal" his car, take it to the students' parking lot and try to drive it out of there at noon, which is verboten.

She was to be apprehended in the felony by a "detective", the vice-principal, questioned, then turned over to her classmates for trial.

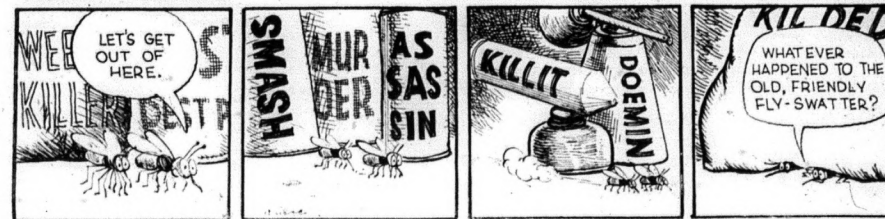

All went well. She got the car started. The teacher had it pointed in the right direction. Then all hell broke loose. She had trouble with the hand-brake or the clutch or something, took a leap forward and staved in the side of the teacher's car on the bumper of another one parked there.

Net results: history teacher has a $100 body repair bill looming; one hysterical teenager felt worse than if she had stolen a car. But it was a good idea.

PUBLIC SCHOOL SOCCER

The Madoc Public School Soccer League got underway last week. Sixty boys, ten to fourteen years old, from the Public School make up a four-team league.

The Spurs are coached by Rev. Thompson; the Road Runners by Chas. Gordon; the Hawks by Min Mah; and the Chargers by Bev. Browning.

In the opening game the Chargers came from behind twice to edge the Road Runners 3-2. Allan Parsons opened the scoring in the first half to give the Road Runners a 1-0 lead.

Early in the second half, the Chargers fought back to tie the score when Steven Johnston booted in the first of two goals. Parsons again put the Road Runners one up, but this was quickly erased when Johnston again tied the score. With five minutes remaining, Danny Forestell put the Chargers ahead to stay.

The second game saw the Spurs come from behind twice to edge the Road Runners 3-2. Allan Parsons opened the scoring in the first half to give the Road Runners a 1-0 lead.

TRENT VALLEY JAMBOREE BROADCAST FROM STIRLING

The original Trent Valley Country Jamboree was started in November of 1966 by Jack McCaughen of Stirling and Ken Stapley of Belleville. The Jamboree has been so successful in drawing crowds to the Stirling Theatre that to date there have been thirty-three performances.

Each performance this year, starting in October, will be broadcast in part for one hour direct from the Theatre stage by remote control over radio station C.J.B.Q., Belleville, the 800 spot on the dial at 9:00 p.m. The Jamboree starts each show at 8:30 p.m. This radio broadcast of the Jamboree will make it more like the country music shows in Nashville, Tennessee and Wheeling, West Virginia. Customers at the Theatre will actually be taking part in the broadcast.

QUEENSBORO GIRLS CLUB MEETING

The Queensboro Girl's Club met at the home of Mrs. Allen Sager on Monday evening, September 30.

The election of officers was held, also a lengthy discussion on 'fruits'. Record books were started with some new and helpful suggestions. The next meeting was planned to be at the home of Mrs. Harold Tokely on Tuesday evening, October 8.

"AT HOME"

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burke will be "At Home" to their friends, relatives and neighbours for a social evening and dance in Sacred Heart Parish Hall on Saturday, October 19th, from 9:00 to 12:00 on the occasion of their Twenty-Fifth Wedding Anniversary. No gifts please.

CENTRE HASTINGS SOFTBALL LEAGUE HOLDS BANQUET

On Saturday night the Centre Hastings Softball Association held its first annual banquet. The president of the league, Cyril Shaw, acted as chairman.

After a turkey supper served by the Girls' Athletic Association of Centre Hastings Secondary School, the guest speaker, Captain Thompson, was introduced by Allan Curtis. Rev. Thompson gave an informative talk on the background of the game of softball. Ross Bailey, the league secretary, thanked the guest speaker.

Several trophies have been added to the league. Brian Armstrong received an individual trophy as the All-Star Pitcher. The Most Valuable Player Award was presented to Ted Sexsmith by Mrs. Kel Kincaid. This trophy was donated by Kincaid's I.G.A. Mr. Allen Ketcheson, Reeve of Madoc Township, presented the Clarke T. Rollins, M.P.P. Trophy for the batting championship to Gordon Donaldson. Gord's average was .600.

The League Play-Off Trophy was presented by the league president to Jung Mah, the captain of the league-winning Juveniles.

The members of the Juvenile team were Keith Morgan, Brian Armstrong, Tom Burnside, Fred O'Riordan, Min Mah, Gord Donaldson, Ralph Francis, Don Donaldson, Jung Mah (captain), Elton Reid, Larry Brintnell, Dick MacKenzie, Bob Brooks, Ron Hogg, Bob Bateman (coach), Ernie Carswell (coach) and Bud Reid, (manager).

Fine entertainment for the evening was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Donaldson and daughter of Millbridge. Michael Devolin of Queensboro also rendered several selections.

TEENAGE GOLF TOURNAMENT

Under sunny skies, despite the early morning frost, the first annual Golf Tournament was held on Saturday, October 5th, on the Par 3 Golf Course at the Madoc-Tweed Art Centre.

Stephen Graham of Madoc was the winner of the $10 prize. This is his second season of playing golf. With a 45 for the first nine holes and 43 for the second, making a total of 88 for the eighteen holes, he was 7 points ahead of the next contestant.

The professional from Ottawa who laid out the course three years ago described it as "sporty" and that's just what the players in the Tournament thought about it.

PUBLIC SCHOOL SOCCER

Last Saturday, the Road Runners briefly climbed into first place by edging the Spurs 3-2.

After Richard Brown had given the Spurs a 1-0 first half lead, the Road Runners fought back to outscore the Spurs 3-1 in the second half. Roger Elliott, Paige Hill and George Martin booted goals for the winners while Earl McKnight added a single for the Spurs.

Monday afternoon the Chargers clipped the Hawks 5-0. Ronnie Smith and Steven Johnson gave the Chargers a 2-0 first half lead, while Danny Forestell scored twice and Peter White added a single in the second half. The win boosted the Chargers back into first place.

Thursday afternoon the Hawks and Chargers meet again while the Spurs, hoping to get even with the Road Runners, will play the Road Runners on Friday afternoon.

Standings:

UNUSUAL HAPPENING

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reynolds, R.R. 4, Madoc, had an unusual experience Wednesday night when while eating their supper around 5:30 p.m., they were startled by a crash in a downstairs bedroom. On investigating they discovered that a partridge had flown through the window and lay stunned upon the floor. Mr. Reynolds nabbed the bird, and needless to say, it is now on his menu.

LOCAL ORGANIST MEETS WITH CRUSADE COMMITTEE

Stanley Hawthorne, organist at Trinity United Church, Madoc, met last week in Toronto with the music committee of the Invitation to Live Crusade. At this meeting the choir and music were discussed in preparation for the week of Evangelistic Services starting at Trinity on November 24th.

The first choir practice will be held on Sunday afternoon, October 27th, at 2:00 p.m. and every organized choir in Central Hastings is invited to attend. It is estimated that about 150 vocalists will be on hand to join together for a Crusade Choir.

Mr. Harold Brintnell is in charge of the music and he is being contacted every day by members of various churches who are willing to serve in a mass choir for the occasion.

THE SPORTS BEAT

By Glen Mc

Lunch with Dick Thornton

Dick Thornton sat eating lunch in the dining room of the 33rd floor of one of Toronto's finest hotels, discussing football in general and himself in particular.

Dressed in grey slacks, maroon jacket, white turtleneck, gold medallion and a beaded chain the all-star Toronto Argonaut drew looks from both females and males. But people turning their head to look hasn't bothered "Tricky" as he has been a controversial figure in Canadian football since he arrived in Winnipeg eight years ago.

Thornton has been accused of being a prima donna, showboat, clown, blow-hard, etc. There have been stories written about him which have said he would conduct his own press conferences by telling any member of the news media what a great football player Dick Thornton is.

In fact, he has even been referred to as "Flakey." For the uninformed, "a flake" is an overworked oddball.

How does he feel about it all?

"There is a firm line between cockiness and confidence. Actually, it's all a state of mind," said Thornton. "Being called Flakey doesn't bother me."

An answer of that nature doesn't need any explanation. It can be summed up by saying that Dick Thornton is the type of individual who practices what he preaches, although sometimes his methods may flow against society's grain.

On the subject of the Toronto Argonauts, Thornton was quick to point out that head coach Leo Cahill has "corralled a bunch of renegades and given them leadership and guidance."

"The only way we'll lose is if we beat ourselves."

Again he pointed out that it was "a state of mind."

Thornton maintains he has never said anything he "can't back up." And from his past performances as defensive end offensive halfback, along with stints at quarterback, what he says has to be taken as the gospel truth. Dick Thornton believes in "do as I do."

To him football is 80 percent mental and 20 percent physical. He is convinced the public doesn't look at it this way as they expect football players to always be big and tough, compared to the average fellow.

He is definitely looking toward the future.

"I play football today for the opportunity to express myself and hope it will lead toward another career. Yes, the money is very important."

At 28 years of age, Dick would like to play for the Argos for another few seasons before turning his skills over to another professional career. Looking at the playoffs and the Argos' future, he is positive Ottawa looms as the big stumbling block for his Toronto team's advance into the Grey Cup.

What would happen if quarterback Wally Gabler was injured and Dick Thornton had to take over?

"I'm not as good a quarterback as Wally, but there are 31 other guys on the team behind me. I could move the ball club, and I'd know I had to get the job done. I couldn't let my team-mates down."

After leaving Thornton you sort of glance at your notebook and think about those stories you've read about him being tabbed a flake and an oddball.

But you realize that all Dick Thornton wants to do is to win in every aspect of life... and he doesn't mind saying so. And really, how can you hold that against anybody?

A Message to Farmers ... HAY & PASTURE MIXTURES

Don't you believe it! Seed is not scarce this year; prices are not likely to rise substantially, and there is no reason for you to be 'hustled' into placing an order today!

It's the usual high pressure sales line with all the advantage on the seller's side; none at all on yours.

We conventional dealers are prepared now, with firm prices on certified forage seeds and Hay and Pasture Mixtures of all kinds. We will book your order for spring at no increase over these prices and the advantages are all yours: No C.O.D.'s to pay; no bank drafts to sign; no freight to pay at the rail station; no more salesmen to make excuses to.

Deal locally where service is available at your convenience before, during and after sale.

COUNCIL URGES DRIVERS TO PRACTICE DEFENSIVE DRIVING

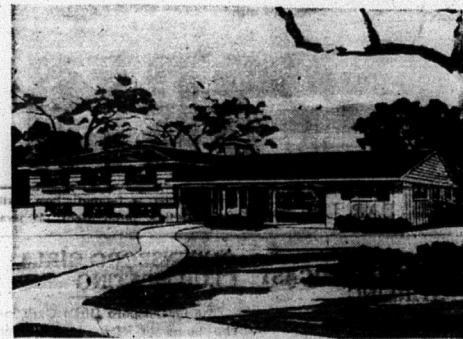

Unless Canadian drivers operate more safely than in the past, the Canada Safety Council estimates that between 65 and 75 people will die in traffic accidents during the Thanksgiving long weekend.

To avoid such a toll, the council urges drivers to practice Defensive Driving — be alert and be prepared at all times to avoid accidents.

The period covered by the forecast is from 6:00 p.m., October 11th, to midnight, October 14. During this period last year, 78 people were killed; in 1966 there were 109 killed and in 1965, the figure was 83.

Weather could be a factor in the accident picture. During the past two months, sunny and warm weather has led to abnormally high numbers of fatalities during weekends.

Write to husband: "O.K., now I'm a blonde. Chase me!"

THE REASONS. Some of the principle problems faced by the residential construction industry today are mortgage finance, serviced land, taxation and the rising percentage of non-construction costs in the production of housing, according to E. L. Mayotte, president of the National House Builders Association. He hopes the Federal Task Force headed by Transport Minister Paul Hellyer will solve these problems.—TNS Photo

GOING FOR COLOR?

DON'T MISS THE BEAUTY AND REALISM THAT LIFE-LIKE COLOR ADDS TO YOUR ENJOYMENT OF T.V.

BUT BEFORE YOU INVEST, TAKE A COUPLE OF HINTS

HAVE IT INSTALLED RIGHT — There is no set on the market that does not require several adjustments by an experienced Color T.V. Technician, right in your own home.

MAKE SURE YOU HAVE COMPETENT SERVICE AVAILABLE — Only the Technician who has kept up to date in Electronics can hope to tangle with the much more complicated Color T.V. set.

We Have Been Servicing Color T.V. Since 1957

Two of our Technicians hold Diplomas for passing the Coveted Electrohome Color Service Examination.

The same two Technicians hold Department of Labor Certificates of Qualification as Radio - T.V. Technicians.

The third has just completed the three-year Electronics Course at Ryerson.

This space was for our pictures but we're really not good looking.

DEAR DORIS

advice from
Doris Clark

Don't give up

DEAR DORIS — I am gradually going deaf and have been told it would be possible for me to learn lipreading, even though I am 53.

Do you think I could? How could I find out more about it?

Going Deaf

DEAR GOING — Of course you could. It's not so much a person's age as the strength of their desire, which counts. You need both determination and faith. Some older people give up too easily.

You can get lesson material and have your best friend work with you at first. Your helper sits with the light on his face, speaking clearly and avoiding extravagant mouth movements.

Later you can talk to your mirror and become conscious of movements of face muscles that a hearing person never sees.

For lessons, write to the Alexander Graham Bell Association for the Deaf, 1537 35th Street N.W., Washington, D.C. This is world headquarters for lipreading and other helps for the deaf.

DEAR DORIS — Junior got behind at the country school and when going to the larger school he was just put into the next grade when he was not ready for it. He is a reserved boy, yet under some teachers he blossoms and work improves.

He failed his grade 11 and at age 18 is ashamed and does not wish to go back to our school. Do you know of a school which would help him?

Tried and Failed

DEAR TRIED — In an overloaded class, it's the shy boy who loses out. The aggressive type would tend to hold up progress until he got any sticky point in the lesson clarified.

Several years of not speaking up can result in complete bewilderment and failure.

I'm betting Junior can make it. His principal will either guide you to tutoring help or to the school which can provide the individual attention he should have had years ago.

DEAR DORIS — My husband has emphysema along with chronic bronchitis and an ulcer, and is still trying to lick the drinking problem. He belongs to the A.A. and is doing fine, but he stopped smoking for three weeks and it drove him to the bottle.

I am sick with worry, but he did say he would read your pamphlet about how to quit smoking, so could you please send me one.

Troubled

P.S. Well-meaning friends keep telling him what a hard time they had quitting and it always seems to be just when he makes up his mind to quit.

DEAR TROUBLED — My leaflet "Why Smoke?" is enclosed. The helpful ideas in it might just do the trick for your husband. Emphysema handicaps the lungs and makes breathing difficult enough, without the additional handicap of breathing smoke — ever.

When we give up something, it is good sense to substitute something else for it. Has he a talent he isn't using? A new hobby — woodworking, art, music, photography — could be a life saver and I mean a LIFE SAVER — this time.

(Note to Readers: You may have "Why Smoke?" by writing to me for it, in care of your own newspaper, enclosing 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

To Who's Mature? — We suggest the following earmarks of maturity and immaturity (M and I):

(1) M is socially conscious; I does not understand people.

(2) M is self-reliant; I is more or less dependent.

(3) M is capable of independent judgment; I has to be told what to do.

(4) M is responsible for his actions; I simply obeys (or disobeys).

(5) M has learned that happiness comes from giving up something for somebody else; I is selfish and thoughtless.

(6) M has discovered himself; I knows neither his faults nor his talents.

(7) M is developing his interests and skills; I is not.

(8) M has a disciplined mind; I lacks self-discipline.

REMINISCING

Taken from the Review files of 50, 25 and 15 years ago.

50 YEARS AGO

October 10, 1918.

Not only do motorless Sundays help to make the world safe for democracy but, incidentally, they give pedestrians a chance for their lives one day a week.

Last week the Review was presented with a fine branch of raspberries of second growth. The branch was heavily laden, some of the berries already ripe. These were found on the property of Mrs. Thos. Bailey. Mrs. Bailey states there are several more bushes and with a little sun to ripen them she could easily gather a pint. Considering the weather we have had this fall, this discovery was indeed a surprise.

According to the fuel controller's original estimate sent out from Ottawa, Ontario consumers of coal will receive 70 per cent of their anthracite requirements this year. Investigation goes to show however, that there is a possibility that a large number of communities may be 100 per cent short.

The Wearton town council has bought a 50-acre bush lot about five miles from town. It is their intention to put men to work at once and get a good supply for next winter. It is thought that the wood could be sold to the families in town for $3.50 per cord.

Hymeneal — A quiet wedding was solemnized in the church of St. John the Baptist, Madoc, on Wednesday, October 6th, when Annie, daughter of Mr. Joseph Armstrong of Lake Twp., was united in marriage to Mr. John Wilson Landon of Tudor Twp. by the Rev. T. H. Hall.

The marriage of Theda Louise, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. McCabe, to Mr. Roscoe Claude Wright took place on Wednesday evening at St. John the Baptist Church, Madoc, Rev. T. H. Hall officiating.

The marriage took place on Tuesday at 8:00 p.m. in St. John the Baptist Church, Madoc, of Mary, daughter of Mr. John Hart, to Mr. Harold E. Bowerman, Madoc. Rev. T. H. Hall officiated.

Deaths — Mrs. Ellen Bass, wife of John Bass, died in Belleville on Monday. Twice married, Mrs. Bass is survived by her husband, three sons, Murray and Charles Rollins of Manitoba, and Roy Rollins of France, and three daughters, Mrs. Chas. Bacon, Madoc, Mrs. B. Vankleek and Mrs. Chas. Henry of Manitoba.

The largest and best exhibit of dairy cattle ever on display at Stirling Fair were there on Tuesday at the annual Black and White Day, sponsored by the Hastings County Holstein Friesian Breeders Assoc. and Stirling Agricultural Society. In all, there were one hundred and eighty-eight entries. Highest honours in the male classes were won by W. K. Caskey of Madoc whose "Madoc Supreme Prince" was judged grand champion bull. The reserve grand champion was won by "Lilloc Lucky Strike", owned by Earl Burnside of Madoc. In the female classes the grand champion and the reserve junior championship went to "Pabst Posch Fancy Burke", owned by Earl Burnside, and reserve grand championship of "Lois Hartog Posch", owned by Philo Harris.

Birth — At Cornwall General Hospital, September 29th, 1943, to Major and Mrs. C. L. Wallbridge, a son, John Campbell Miller.

Obituary — Death came suddenly to Charles Wm. Sandford of Eldorado on October 6th, age 67 years. Mr. Sandford is survived by his wife (formerly Annie May Moore), three daughters and two sons.

Showing at the Empire Theatre, Madoc — Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour in "They got me Covered"; also Jean Arthur in the "The More The Merrier".

A tribute to airmen who lost their lives in the Second World War, but have no known graves will be heard on the C.B.C. Trans-Canada network on October 17th, when Her Majesty the Queen unveils the Commonwealth Air Forces Memorial at Runnymede, Eng.

Unfavourable weather and the World Ploughing Match at Cobourg are believed to be the reasons for a drop in attendance at Madoc Fair this year. The weatherman was most unkind on Tuesday when a cold rain fell throughout the day and night. Wednesday was fair but cold and as the day receipts show there were not nearly as many present as last year when the total receipts were over $4,000. This year's receipts amounted to only $2,648.71, but those present were given a full afternoon's entertainment with one of the best horse races that had been witnessed here in some time.

Births — Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Yates announce the birth of their daughter, Marlene Jean, sister for Melvin and Keith, on September 30, 1953, at Grace Hospital, Toronto.

In Oshawa General Hospital on Saturday, October 3rd, 1953, to Mr. and Mrs. David Kernohan, a daughter: Deaths — Died in Detroit on September 24, 1953, Mrs. Lyall (nee Pearl Jarvis) aged 59 years.

Born in Madoc in 1865, Mrs. Sara M. Wilson, widow of the late Charles Wilson, died recently at Deloraine Memorial Hospital in her 88th year.

Empire Theatre, Madoc, presents Charlton Heston and Rhonda Fleming in "Pony Express" also Burt Lancaster and Shirley Booth in "Come Back Little Sheela".

HUNTINGDON TWP. COUNCIL MINUTES

SOLUTION

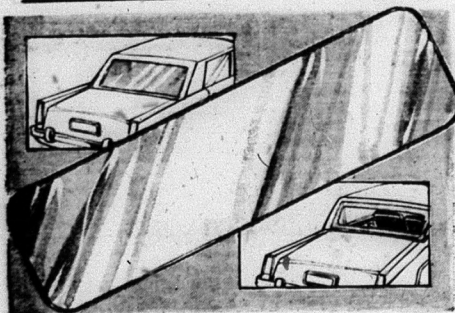

If you're planning to modernize your home, here's the place to begin.

Modernizing your home can be a delightful experience. Home improvements can do a lot to help make your way of living better than ever. But before you start to modernize, you should take care of one thing first: your household wiring.

If you begin your modernization programme by re-wiring, almost everything about your home will suddenly seem better. You'll have all the electrical outlets you need. Your appliances will perform better, and you can add all the new ones you're ever likely to need without the annoyance of overloaded circuits or blown fuses. Re-wiring will let you take advantage of the new ideas in household lighting. With decorative exterior lighting you'll be able to enjoy patio living on pleasant summer evenings. You will, in fact, be opening the doors to the joys of all-electric living, including the quiet comfort of electric heating. Start modernizing your home by re-wiring.

Call a qualified electrical contractor or ask your Hydro.

SUCCESSFUL FASHION SHOW HELD AT ACTINOLITE

If the United Nations could trade politics for fashions, we would have world peace in no time flat, and that is not as frivolous as it sounds, according to Jean Smith, the proprietress of the West Wind Boutique.

On Wednesday, October 2nd, the members of the U.C.W. of Actinolite held an "evening out" in the newly decorated Twp. Hall, with a showing of clothes of all nationalities, presented by Mrs. Jean Smith of the West Wind Boutique.

The models, Miss Beth Price, Actinolite; Mrs. Ruth Burnside, Madoc; Mrs. June Way, Tweed; Mrs. Ella Thompson, Queensboro; Mrs. Sadie Armstrong, Madoc; Miss Jane Scott, Belleville; Mrs. Elaine White, Madoc; and Mrs. Ruth Oatman of Tweed, wore a collection of outstanding clothes such as Laplanders from Norway; Leather from Israel; Cashmere from Scotland; Woolen from Italy; Silks from England — and not to be outdone, the cream of Canadian Crafts.

Mrs. Margaret Bakay of Belleville made the event very enjoyable by being humorous as well as knowledgeable in her history of the making and care of cashmere, leathers and knit goods, and with her commentary.

Several door prizes were donated by the West Wind Boutique and presented during the evening. These were won by C. M. Donnelly, Tweed; Mrs. Margaret Connor, Madoc; Miss Shawnee Craig, Belleville; Margaret Morton, Tweed; Mrs. K. Little, Tweed; Mrs. G. H. Craig, Belleville; Mrs. Cecil Taylor, Madoc; Mrs. Shirley Coveney, Tweed; Mrs. Violet Gaylord, Actinolite and Mrs. Hilda DeClair, Queensboro.

The evening also proved to be an excellent example of community closeness, with antiques on display from Tweed; hair styles from Tweed; make-up from Madoc and flowers from Belleville.

To complete a traditionally feminine outing, the U.C.W. served tea and dessert.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all my relatives, friends and neighbours for all the lovely cards, plants, fruit and candy which I received while a patient in Kingston General Hospital.

MADOC VILLAGE COUNCIL MINUTES

A meeting of the Madoc Village Council was held on October 8th, at 7:30 p.m., with Reeve T. Burnside and Councillors, J. M. Caverly, Bruce White, C. R. Hagerman and Harry Roscoe present.

White — Roscoe — that the minutes of the last regular meeting be adopted as read.

The clerk was instructed to write King-Seagram, requesting to know when the new fire truck would be ready for delivery.

Mr. Fred Green of Frank Cowan Company reviewed the Village Insurance Policies.

Roscoe — Hagerman — that Council instruct Mr. G. Brett to increase our non-owned automobile policy coverage from one hundred thousand to one million dollars. Premium increase to be three dollars per annum. That coverage for Municipal Liability be increased to three hundred thousand inclusive. That coverage on the shed on Baldwin Street be reduced from three thousand to two thousand and that two thousand coverage be added to the contents.

Caverly — Roscoe — that the Workmen's Compensation Benefits for Fireman be increased to seven thousand dollars.

Hagerman — Roscoe — resolved that the Madoc Village Council agree for Lightfoot Construction to complete the paving on Elgin and Wellington Streets at their quoted price of $11.00 per ton.

The Clerk was directed to send replies to the following letters: Maurice H. Rollins Construction Ltd., Leader Wholesale Distributors, Bay of Quinte District High School Board.

Caverly — Roscoe — that the following communications be received and filed: Office of the Fire Marshall; Centre Hastings Winter Sports Area; Department of Highways.

Caverly — Hagerman — that all accounts signed by the various chairmen be paid and those paid during the month be ratified.

Accounts: — Ralph Anglin, $80.00; Fred Sexsmith, $12.60; Murray Smith, $256.00; Lightfoot Construction, $102.25; Chas. M. Derry Ltd., $7.00; Geo. S. Shell, $13.04; Hagerman's Radiator Service, $16.00; C. Buck Carswell, $10.00; Jack Martin, $5.00; Ralph Anglin, $275.00; Elliott's Dominion Hardware, $10.02; British American Oil, $59.62; C.P.X., $12.75; Wallace and Tiernan, $91.98.

Council went into committee as a whole on By-Laws with the Reeve in the chair.

Hagerman — Roscoe — that By-Law No. 897 being, a By-Law to regulate traffic on Elgin Street, be given its several readings and passed and forwarded to the Department of Transport for approval.

Council resumed as before. The next regular meeting will be held on Friday, November 1st, at 7:30 p.m.

Reeve Burnside reported on a meeting held in the Town Hall on the previous evening regarding recreation in the village, recommending that a Recreation Committee be formed by a local By-Law. There was much discussion and the matter was left over for further study.

Council adjourned.
Oliver G. Ashe,
Clerk - Treasurer.

IN MEMORIAM

ROHRBACK — In loving memory of our dear grandson, Raymond Rohrbach, who passed away October 13, 1968.

So sad was the parting no one can tell;
So sudden on earth the sorrow fell.
The blow was hard, the shock severe

To part with one we loved so dear.
Dearest still as years depart,
Raymond's memory lives within our hearts.

Always remembered by Gram and Grandpa Everingham.

IN MEMORIAM

SHERROW — In loving memory of a dear daughter and sister, Lucy Wanda, who passed away October 11, 1965.

Somewhere back of the sunset
Where loveliness never dies,
She lives in the land of glory
Mid the blue and gold of the skies.
To us she has not gone away;
Nor has she travelled afar —
She has entered God's lovely garden
Always remembered by mother and family.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to our friends and relatives for their kindness and sympathy during our recent loss of our dear husband and father.

Mrs. Fred Canniff and family.

REPORT SAYS POLLUTION DESTROYING LAKE ERIE WATERS

Pollution is destroying Lake Erie, but the lake can be saved if corrective measures are taken immediately, according to a U.S. Government report released recently.

The report, produced after five years at a cost of $3-million, was made public by Joe Moore Jr., commissioner of the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration, at a news conference.

"Every moment lost in allowing the destruction to continue will require a longer, more difficult and more expensive corrective action," the report said.

Mr. Moore said Lake Erie is the most sensitive to pollution of all the Great Lakes, but its physical characteristics make it most amenable to corrective measures.

The report said Lake Erie has aged 15,000 years because of what man has dumped into it. Bacteria from sewage are a direct health hazard, particularly near metropolitan centres such as Cleveland.

It said the aging process could be arrested by reducing the municipal industrial discharge of phosphorous to 9,000 pounds per day. Phosphorous causes excessive growth of algae and when that happens, the balance of life in a lake is upset.

Phosphorous is the one nutrient amenable to treatment and control, the report said, adding that of the 137,000 pounds now discharged daily into the lake, 72 per cent comes from sewage. Sewage Treatment Plants which do not remove substantial amounts of nutrients accomplish little to save the lake.

Other points the report made included:

- Sewage is a principal cause of pollution in the lake and its tributaries, but industrial waste is another major cause.

- Geographic areas primarily responsible for the lake's present condition include Detroit and Wayne County in Michigan and Toledo, Cleveland, Akron and Euclid in Ohio. The Ford Motor Company at Dearborn and Monroe, Mich., is responsible for 19.7 per cent of the total industrial wastes and Republic Steel Corp. at Cleveland and Lorain in Ohio and Buffalo, N.Y., ranks second with 14.9 per cent.

The report said industries must reduce their waste discharges. It calls on states to mutually set limits on wastes discharged by an industry. Only Michigan and Pennsylvania of the Great Lakes states do that now.

The report also recommended stricter enforcement, stronger state programs, consolidation of waste treatment plants and regional financing and planning.

OBITUARY

ALBERT PETER WELLMAN (Crookston)

A life resident of Huntingdon Twp., Albert Peter Wellman of Crookston died Sun., October 6, 1968 in Belleville General Hospital after a ten-day illness. He was 84.

Born in Huntingdon, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wellman, he was a retired stationary engineer. Mr. Wellman was a member of the Madoc Standard Church.

He was predeceased by his wife, the former Ellen Keller, a son and daughter, three sisters and a brother.

Mr. Wellman is survived by a son Lorne Edward Wellman of Corbyville, seven grandchildren and 28 great grandchildren.

ST. PETER'S W.M.S.

The Thank-offering meeting of the Women's Missionary Society was held in the Sunday School auditorium. Visitors from Stirling West Huntingdon, Tweed and Madoc were present.

The president, Mrs. Bailey, conducted the meeting assisted by Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Brett and Mrs. McCaffrey. Several hymns were sung during the service with Mrs. Crawford as pianist.

Mr. Tozer introduced the guest speaker, Miss Dorothy Bulmer, who was one of our Missionaries, appointed to serve in Nigeria in 1957. Her work there had been directing training courses of various sorts for leaders of girls' groups, as well as for choirmasters. In her message, Miss Bulmer presented a straightforward account of the terrible conditions in Biafra. However, in spite of the tremendous suffering they are enduring, CANNIFF — In loving memory of a dear son and brother, who passed away on October 9, 1967.

One year ago today, oh how our hearts were crushed

When God took you oh so quickly and we all in gloom were thrust.

In the bloom of life death claimed you

In the prime of manhood days:

What we would give if we could say

"Hi, Brian", in the same old way;

To hear your voice, to see your smile;

To sit with you and chat awhile.

We were not there to see you die.

To hold your hand or say goodbye:

But we'll remember our whole lives through

The last words we had with you.

Each time we see your picture

You seem to smile and say,

"Don't cry, I'm only sleeping, and

We will meet again someday

And never have to part."

SUGAR AND SPICE

by Bill Smiley

Do we really need it?

Many people have a peculiar idea of "progress". They confuse it with growth or with change or with size. In many cases, these things represent regress, rather than progress.

I try not to be bitter, but I have a perfect example of that kind of progress right outside my front door. When we moved here, it was to a quiet residential street, a leafy tunnel of voluptuous maples and stately oaks, with a green boulevard.

It was gentle and pleasant and safe for children. The town council, in the name of progress, tore out the boulevard, cut down some trees and widened the street.

Results? We now have a speedway out front, and you can scarcely risk crossing the street to the mailbox. The squeal of tires makes the night hideous, as the punks try their spurs. The remaining trees are dying because their natural environment has been disturbed. Much beauty lost, and the only ugly things, hydro and telephone poles, left standing in their nakedness.

Just to complete the picture, there has been a "development", which is automatically "progress" in many minds, at the end of our street. What was once glorious bushland is now a desert of asphalt, containing a supermarket, two gas stations and a Provincial Police barracks.

Because of the development, traffic on our street has quintupled, and every quarter-hour an ancient, snarling bus, belching poison, goes by the front door.

Tough luck, you say. But I've seen it happen so often in handsome old streets in small towns that it makes me sick. The first move of the progress-happy boys is usually to cut down the trees, some of them 100 years old, so that they can widen the road. Grace and shade and dignity are sacrificed to the automobile.

In the cities, it's even worse. Potential park lots are turned into immediate parking lots. Thruways slaughter miles of greenery.

Another plague are the "developers". They take a section of beautiful bushland, fertile farmland or lush fruitland. They send their bulldozers in to make sure everything remotely pretty is made ugly. Then they carve it into 50-foot lots and stick in the jerry-built houses, check-by-jowl, at swollen prices. This when Canada has more land that is useless for anything else but building than it can ever use.

Oh, progress has many faces. It has many sounds. Far below the whoosh of the billion-dollar rocket may be heard the whimper of a starving child.

It has many smells. Behind the sweet emissions of the Public Relations Dept. can be discerned the unmistakable stench of greed, poverty, pollution and waste.

Progress will take a beautiful trout stream and poison it with chemicals or detergents because, "We need the industry."

Progress steadily takes more money for "defence", another phoney word, and less and less, comparatively, for the old, the sick and the helpless.

Progress adopts a liberal attitude toward drugs, but looks down its nose at the dirty, hungry, sick and frightened children of the drug age.

Progress means bigger cars that will go faster on better roads, driven by people who can drink more.

Progress taxes everything but the living breath of the poor, but encourages the boys with the expense accounts and credit cards to cheat.

This may seem like a pretty dim view of "progress". It is, as many people look on it. But I'm not down on the real meaning of the word. I think man can and will progress morally, socially and intellectually.

Oh, well, there's a rumor that the can people are going to start putting their cans out in pastel colors. This would save a lot of bother. We could cut all our forests down. Then, instead of going for a drive on a fall day to see the magnificent autumn foliage, we could have it all year 'round. Mountains of multi-colored beer cans.

OCTOBER IS HOME AND SCHOOL MONTH

The month of October has been proclaimed as Home and School Month throughout Canada, to encourage parents to take an interest in their child's school and their child's education.

Educators and parents agree that the two greatest influences in the life of any child are his home and his school. Children benefit directly when co-operation and understanding prevail between their parents and teachers. This results in both being more effective in their own teaching area.

Home and School is an organization that works continuously and steadily for the improvement of public education at the local, provincial and National levels. It is a channel through which progressive principals and teachers may interpret the school program, develop an informed public opinion, and secure solid support for improvement and change.

In Home and School parents have the opportunity to meet with the teacher and the administrator to have explained the needs of the school. There is a great need for good public relations between the educator and taxpayers who support the school.

Public education and the image of the school in the community will never be better than the public's understanding of the school. School authorities and Home and School members in each province are combining their efforts to study the program and needs of the school. They are doing their part towards ensuring the best educational program possible to the maximum of their abilities and resources.

There is a great need for more active support and a need for more parents and teachers interested in children and youth. Start in October to attend your local Home and School Association. Join and participate and help it, help your children and your community.

CONSIDER CANADA SAVINGS BONDS

With all the emphasis on "buy now, pay later", proposals that we are subjected to every day, we sometimes wonder if anyone ever plans ahead or saves their money for something they really want.

The lure of ignoring the future in order to enjoy the pleasures of today must be particularly strong for young people under the age of 30 who now are more affluent than at any other time in our history. Nevertheless, a good many of these young people do save for things they want, whether it is a new home, a new car or the opportunity to go into business for themselves.

This "sense to save" is also shared by many of our New Canadians who, besides saving for all or any of the above reasons, also save to take a trip back home to see their relatives and friends, or else to bring a loved one to Canada.

One uncomplicated way these people save is by investing in Canada through the purchase of Canada Savings Bonds which are now being sold across the country in chartered banks, investment companies, trust and loan companies and through payroll savings plans in many plants and offices.

Canada Savings Bonds are a safe and easy form of investment for everyone and the terms of the new series are particularly attractive. The regular interest coupons pay interest at the rate of 5.75 per cent per annum for the first year; 6.50 per cent for the second year; 6.75 per cent for each of the next three years and 7 per cent in each of the last nine years. The average interest yield over the 14-year period to maturity is 6.75 per cent.

A prevailing feature of interest to all Canada Savings Bonds purchasers is the instant "cashability" of the bonds for full face value plus accrued interest.

It is 22 years since Canada Savings Bonds first appeared — back in 1946. At that time, the main policy objective was to provide a new and attractive channel for the small savings of individuals — something better to take the place of the Victory Loans and War Savings Certificates that were so widely supported by Canadians during the war years.

Canada Savings Bonds have continued to fill that role for Canadians. But they do more. They also provide the Government of Canada with an excellent and practical means of financing its operations, with less reliance on the regular capital market or on the banking system.

Much of the government's requirements for borrowed funds arises from its capital programs which are designed to improve the social and economic structure of the country as a whole — harbours, roads, airports, hospitals, public housing and many other services.

It is quite fitting that these should be financed to a significant extent from the personal savings of Canadians in all walks of life. The several millions of Canadians who currently own Canada Savings Bonds can be justified for feeling a touch of pride about the stake they hold in our country, along with their satisfaction that the stake is such a profitable one.

The battle of the sexes has lost some of its steam since it's so difficult to tell who's which.

NOT FOR SALE. The Canadian Government has put three more hallucinogenic drugs of the restricted list, making it illegal to offer them for sale in this country. The drugs — DET, DMT and DOM — are now banned along with LSD, which was restricted earlier. All are members of the amphetamine family. — TNS Photo

Buy into Canada.

There are probably as many good reasons for buying Canada Savings Bonds as there are Canadians. There are the hopes, plans and ambitions you have for yourself and your family. There is the desire, which all of us share, to play a part in building the future of our country. The simple, safe, profitable way to help realize these goals is to buy Canada Savings Bonds.

They offer an excellent return. The average yield to maturity is 6.75% a year. There are fourteen annual interest coupons which begin at 5.75% and rise to 7.00% for each of the last nine years. These can be cashed each year as they become due. Better still, if you choose to keep these coupons uncashed, you can earn interest on your interest. Take full advantage of this option and, when your Bonds mature, your total interest earnings plus your original investment will amount to $250 for each $100 invested.

They are available to everyone. Canada Savings Bonds are available to every Canadian resident in amounts from $50 up to $50,000, for cash or on instalments, wherever you work, bank or invest. Adults, children, businesses and institutions—all may buy them.

They are instant cash. You can cash them any time at any bank in Canada at their full face value plus earned interest.

Few investments are so profitable. None builds more surely for the future. Buy into Canada today. Buy Canada Savings Bonds. It pays.

It pays.

THIS WEEK AND NEXT

Watch Hubert carefully

There are less than four weeks left in the American election campaign, and if the polls are right, Hubert Humphrey and Richard Nixon can quit campaigning right now.

All the portents, the indicators and the signs point to a massive repudiation of the Democratic party in the presidential voting November 5th. Except for the possibility that third party candidate George Wallace might split either man from getting a majority, it appears that Nixon has a solid grasp on the key to the White House.

This outlook is based on the splintering of the Democrats and the break-up of the historic coalition of big labor, the farm vote and the "Solid South" which has traditionally delivered a majority of the electoral votes to the Democratic party.

Reduced to European terms, the Democrats have been almost a worker's and peasant's party. The Republicans, in contrast, have found their strength among the business classes.

The nature of American society has changed so radically in the past decade that the old party lines have become blurred. The bloc vote has gone into the ashcan of history.

A very similar occurrence has marked the development of the Canadian political scene, except that the Liberal party, under Pierre Elliott Trudeau, recognized what was happening and changed its appeal.

The almost solid conviction among political observers that Humphrey has no chance whatever of beating Nixon (and in fact could run third behind Wallace), is supported by the lukewarm reception the Vice-President has received from his own key supporters.

The civil rights policies of President Johnson have failed to pacify the nation. Law and order is the No. 1 domestic issue — and in fact the only issue on which Wallace is building his campaign.

Meanwhile, the continued stalemate in Vietnam is hurting Humphrey in that while Nixon offers almost exactly the same policy as the Democrats, it is the Democrats who are tarred with the war, not the Republicans.

As far as the war is concerned, it would be that the election of Richard Nixon is the only way by which the United States can extricate itself from this conflict.

The North Vietnamese have made it clear they will give no concessions to Lyndon Johnson. They demand a halt to the bombing as a necessary step to meaningful peace talks. Never mind about concessions on Hanoi's side (which Johnson, Humphrey and Nixon say they must have before they would agree to a bombing halt).

It is probably a safe guess that almost any settlement engineered by Mr. Humphrey would be condemned by a large section of the American public as a sell-out. On the other hand, a settlement on much the same terms from Mr. Nixon would probably be viewed as his first triumph after taking occupancy of the White House.

For all that Mr. Nixon is now cast in the role of a winner, there are nevertheless some signs that his conquest of the Democratic party might not be as certain as it has seemed.

The Humphrey campaign has been picking up momentum. His campaign organizer, Kenneth O'Donnell, engineered the Kennedy victory of 1960. Important Democrats like George Ball — who quit as ambassador to the U.N. to work for Humphrey — are beginning to line up with the Vice-President. And Humphrey's increasing dovish tendencies have been winning over left-wing Democratic dissidents.

Finally, Lyndon Johnson is yet to be heard from. Despite his widespread unpopularity, he still holds the power of the presidency, and if he decides to put it to work for Humphrey, the results could be almost magical.

In other words, don't write off HHH. There could be another 1948 shaping up — when Thomas Dewey was a "sure winner" for the Republicans, but Harry Truman's "Give 'em hell" campaign miraculously made him the winner on election night.

WOODS, WATERS AND WILDLIFE

By JAMES WOODFORD

Birds leave monarch butterflies alone because the large orange-and-black butterflies are fluttering parcels of poison.

The poison in the monarch butterfly's system is similar to digitalis, a drug with two faces in relation to the heart. Administered in small doses, digitalis becomes a beneficial although habit-forming, heart medicine. But, a large, sudden dose can be fatal.

The reaction of most birds to their first monarch butterfly is quick and direct. They spit it out and refuse to test another monarch. A few birds that seem not to mind the taste become ill while digesting a monarch.

A team of scientists at the University of Basel, in Switzerland, recently determined that the heart poison in monarch butterflies comes from the food they eat as larvae. The monarch mother lays eggs on milkweed. The young monarchs spend their feeding lives munching upon milkweed leaves.

The fact that young monarchs eat milkweed is a little unusual itself. As any dairy farmer can tell you, milkweed is at least mildly poisonous.

Young monarchs concentrate the poison to an extent that not only do they retain a load of it as an adult, but also even monarch eggs contain a trace of it.

As the good doctors of Basel point out, the monarch's association with milkweed gives it cradle to grave security.

Since milkweed is both poisonous and unpalatable, large grazing animals avoid it. Thus, young monarchs escape the fate of many butterfly larvae which are gulped down along with the vegetation by cattle. In fact, the only efficient predator on monarch larvae seem to be mice, which are relatively unaffected by digitalis-like poison.

REQUEST TO ESTABLISH CORN AUTHORITY

The Ontario Minister of Agriculture and Food has been asked to establish a corn authority in co-operation with the federal government.

The request is from the Ontario Federation of Agriculture which says the situation is so urgent the new body should be appointed — rather than elected by the producers — if this is necessary.

The Federation says imports of U.S. corn have suddenly become heavier and the Canadian market is threatened. As of September 4th, more than 8 million bushels of U.S. corn were in storage in Canada and another three million bushels were on the way.

The Federation believes the heavy importation may have been triggered by the suggestion of another major farm organization of a withholding action. Dealers would be protecting themselves in case the price was far out of line with the prices of other grains.

To control the entry of corn into Canada, a national corn authority would be needed, or a provincial authority with some powers allocated by the federal government. The Federation believes no organization now existing could fill this role.

In their visit to Minister William A. Stewart, the Federation carried four requests: they want a body with authority to create orderly marketing for grain corn used in Canada; they want it set up fast, if necessary, without a vote by producers; they want control over all grain corn marketed in the country and over imports; and they want inclusion of all groups in the corn industry — producers, processors, elevator companies and the like.

Following the all-afternoon meeting in Mr. Stewart's office, OFA president, Charles Munro of Embro, Ontario, said creation of the new organization "will have to be fast if it's to do any good this year."

WEDDING

WILSON — VAUGHAN

White gladioli, yellow carnations and fern decorated the altar of Canington Baptist Church, Saturday, September 7th, 1968, at three p.m. for the marriage of Margaret Jean Vaughan, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Vaughan of Madoc, formerly of Canington, and Donald Vernon Grat-ham Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon W. J. Wilson of Lindsay.

Officiating at his daughter's marriage was Reverend Vaughan, assisted by Rev. J. Jones. The wedding music was played by Mrs. E. Evans of Lindsay, who accompanied the soloist, Mr. Jon Vaughan of Montreal, brother of the bride. He rendered 'O Perfect Love', 'Consecration' and 'The Wedding Prayer'.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked truly stunning in her floor length wedding gown of white French shimmering crepe saten. The main centre of attention was focused on the detachable chapel train of chantilly lace, cascading from the back shoulders. A French circlet of seed pearls and crystals held a shoulder-length veil of white tulle illusion and she carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations accented with stephanotis.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Gloria Snaddon of Sunderland as matron of honour, Mrs. Nancy McGuire of Oshawa, sister of the bride, Miss Gaye Hammond and Miss Lynda Broadhead, both of London, as bridesmaids. They provided a colorful background in their floor-length gowns of turquoise satapeau. Yellow carnations and roses made up their bouquets and they wore carnations in their hair.

Little Master David Vaughan, nephew of the bride, acted as ring bearer.

Mr. Jim Wilson of Lindsay, brother of the groom, acted as best man and ushering the guests were Mesars. Glen Searle of Pontiac Mich, Wayne Wilson of Lindsay and Garry Lay of Guelph.

A reception was held in the church basement following the ceremony. The mother of the bride received her guests wearing a pink sparkle crepe ensemble with a metallic gold and pink hat and black patent accessories. She was assisted by the groom's mother who chose a white and silver dress, complemented with a deep pink hat and accessories of black patent.

For a honeymoon trip to the East Coast, the bride donned an ensemble of emerald green corded silk with black patent accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are residing at 64 Sussex Street South in Lindsay.

TRENT VALLEY AREA WOMEN'S INSTITUTE CONVENTION HELD

The 42nd. Annual Convention of the Trent Valley Area Women's Institute, comprised of the combined districts of Hastings, Prince Edward, Northumberland and Peterborough met at the Club Canara, Belleville, Thursday and Friday last week.

The seven districts totalling seventy-nine branches and over 240 in attendance. The theme of the meeting is Human Rights Year — Love thy neighbor.

Mrs. T. M. Grasham, Area President, chaired the morning session. Mrs. C. H. Dallison, Hilton, as song leader, with pianist, Mrs. Kenneth Bell, Wooler, ably led the sing-song during all sessions.

Roll Call of Districts was answered by the District Presidents with a two-minute comment of the theme. The thoughts were varied and interesting.

Each officer's report had its own interesting highlights, proving Canadian Centennial a very busy, happy year.

Entertainment by Kitchen Band from Peterborough livened the first session.

Miss H. MacKercher, Director of Home Economics, in her address discussed changes in Agriculture and homes during the past ten years across the Province of Ontario. She reminded members of their goals and urged a drive for membership this year. A 1,000 increase in membership last year shows the growth and importance of the W.I. to every community.

The Thursday afternoon session was chaired by Mrs. Clifford Barber, Belleville, 1st Vice President.

Mrs. J. Calnan, Board Director, introduced the Provincial President, Mrs. E. Small, Essex.

In her address, she praised the members for their various projects, especially to extend the friendly hand to potential members. She reported on the many conferences and meetings she had attended and the pride all maintained in the W.I. Organization and urged all present to work constantly toward "a world with better understanding and peace", through the W.I.

Enjoyable entertainment was presented by West and East Northumberland.

The results of the election of 1968 officers and convenors of the Trent Valley Area Women's Institute were:

Officers: Past President, Mrs. Harry Shearer, R.R. 1, Lakefield; President, Mrs. Thos. M. Grasham, Elgin St., Colbourne; 1st Vice President, Mrs. Clifford Barber, 456 Victoria Avenue, Belleville; 2nd V. President, Mrs. Gordon Macklin, R.R. 4, Cobourg; 3rd V. President, Mrs. Clifford B. Reid, R.R. 4, Belleville; Sec'y, Treasurer, Mrs. Gordon McCulloch, R.R. 4, Campbellford; Assistant Sec'y, Mrs. Percy Ray, R.R. 1, Halloway; Public Relations, Mrs. Harry DeClair, Queensboro; Curator, Mrs. Ralph Sills, R.R. 1, Halloway.

Board Directors: Subdivision 5, Mrs. Edison Sine, R. R. 2, Frankford; Alternate, Sub. 5, Mrs. John Reid, 165 Yeoman St., Belleville; Sub. 6, Mrs. A. J. Calnan, Grafton; Alt. Sub. 6, Mrs. Floyd Bilcox, Colbourne.

Area Convention Committee: Mrs. W. A. Goodfellow, Codrington; Mrs. H. G. Digweed, Warsaw; Mrs. Rex Rollins, R.R. 3, Madoc.

Auditors: Mrs. O. W. Seale, 468 King Street, Cobourg; Mrs. Harold Johnston, 242 Sinclair St., Cobourg.

Convenors: Agriculture and Canadian Industries, Mrs. Lorne Reid, R.R. 2, Halloway; Citizenship and Education, Mrs. Albert Bailey, Madoc; Historical Research and Current Events, Mrs. Alex Nickol, Lakefield; Home Economics and Health, Mrs. Clarence Mann, R.R. 4, Peterborough; Resolutions, Mrs. Harry Shearer, R.R. 1, Lakefield.

OBITUARY

JOSEPH HENRY LEE

In failing health for the past two years, Joseph Henry Lee, R.R. 5, Belleville, died in hospital early Friday morning, October 11, 1968.

Mr. Lee was born at Somerset, England, 84 years ago, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Lee and has resided near Belleville for the past three years. For many years he farmed near Madoc, but has been retired for some time.

He was member of St. John the Baptist Anglican Church at Madoc.

Surviving are five daughters, Mrs. N. (Alice) Willman, R.R. 4, Harold; Mrs. J. (Frances) Lacroix, Pembroke; Mrs. J. (Leila) Griffin; Mrs. E. (Annie) Griffin and Mrs. J. (Marguerite) Martell, all of Madoc; and two sons, George Lee, Madoc, and Fred Lee, Ivanhoe.

Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. F. (Florence) Ethier, Belleville, Mrs. T. (Myra) Brownson, Marmora, one brother, Ben Lee, Madoc, 14 grandchildren and 22 great grandchildren.

Three sisters and two brothers are predeceased. His wife, the former Sarah B. Bateman, died some years ago.

The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon, October 13th, from the MacKenzie Funeral Home, Madoc, to St. John the Baptist Anglican Church where service was conducted by Rev. J. H. Thompson.

Bearers were: Jack Reynolds, Clayton Whiteman, Earl Good, Douglas Lee, Edward Hyde and Robert Pressick. Interment took place in O'Hara's Cemetery.

SUGAR AND SPICE

by Bill Smiley

Ah, memories are fond

These days I have a rough idea how an old chorus-girl feels. Nostalgia, regret, and yet certain pride that one day, in the dim past, you were up there under the footlights, doing your wiggle, your grind, your bump, or whatever, with the best of them.

All this is because of a young fellow called Alex. He's a friend of son Hugh. He's in the armed forces and was recently transferred to a nearby base. For some reason, despite their obvious and many shortcomings, he has taken to the Smileys, and usually drops around on the weekend.

He's a pleasant and intelligent lad and we enjoy his company. He's rather lonely, is a long way from home, and like a home-cooked meal. I don't blame him. There's nothing sadder than an officer's mess on a weekend.

But what really hucks me up is that the kid is learning to fly. He hopes to wind up on helicopters, flying with the navy. But in the meantime, he has to learn to fly a conventional aircraft.

And this is where I begin to feel like the old chorus-girl aforementioned. There's very little difference in the procedure he must undergo and that which I underwent 25 years ago. I bask in his awe as I feel off the yards, true, untrue or just slightly embellished, of my flying-training days.

Oh, I'm properly scornful. "No, we weren't given much instruction before going solo. It was do or die, survival of the fittest. Of course, we didn't have radio-compass and ground-to-air control and all that jazz. We had to be natural pilots. Yes, you had to get out of a tight spot with quick wits and sheer nerve." And so on.

I curdle his blood a bit. "Yes, we had to fly in everything: rain, snow, fog. Lost a lot of student pilots. Twelve killed on my course alone. The brave and the lucky got through. And of course most of them were killed on operations."

But I'm also very helpful. When I looked over his procedures, I found they were basically the same as mine. You had to get the ruddy thing started. You had to taxi it to takeoff point without hitting a gas truck or a mechanic. You had to get it off the ground, somehow, without breaking it, and you had to get it back onto the ground, somehow, without breaking it. Same thing today.

I haven't bothered telling him that, out of a class of 63, I stood 55th in ground school, 46th in flying. There didn't seem any point. After all, I did get my wings, and I dropped as many bombs into plowed fields, and shot as many canyons into clouds as the next fellow.

But I have been helping him out with some of the hard bits. He's having a bit of trouble with his landings. Bounces. I've briefed him carefully on what to do when you bounce 28 feet while making a landing. "Turn off all switches, put your arms over your eyes, and wait for the second bounce."

He didn't seem to think this was scientific enough. (They're all so scientific, these young fellows.) So I gave him, from personal experience, the ultimate advice on smooth landings. "Just attach a 1,000-pound bomb to one wing, ready to go off if you bounce, and you'll land like a feather."

I gave him a lot more good tips from the personal experience point of view. Spins, for instance. Told him how sickening they are and how easy it is to spin into the ground. Told him how to get out of a spin to the left, for example. "Hard left rudder, stick full back and swallow hard." Reflecting later, I wondered if it wasn't hard right rudder and stick forward. Oh, well he'll find out. Nothing like experience.

As an expert, I've explained to him how you recover control, on takeoff, when you are headed for the control tower instead of the end of the runway. "Cut the motor, put on your brakes, and pray."

With all this extra help, he should pass his crucial test. He's coming along nicely, except for that glazed look he gets in his eyes after a couple of hours of my stories. I put it down to nerves or too much dinner. I wonder?

INSTITUTE CONVENTION

1. Lakefield; Junior Activities, Miss Susan Alvey, R.R. 2, Hillier.

A banquet was served Thursday evening in the Club Canara dining room. Mrs. Rex Rollins introduced the head table. The Civic Welcome was extended by Ex-Mayor Ellis of Belleville.

Presiding at the evening session was Mrs. Allan Linton, Cobourg, 2nd Vice President. After a sing song and musical entertainment by Pat Hogg, also the Junior Institute Trio, Prince Edward, Miss McKercher presented a travelogue with pictures of Grenada. This aroused great interest and concern about the people and conditions there.

Friday morning, Mrs. Gresham presided. There were from standing committees and the Home Economists, Miss Mary MacEachron, Hastings; Mrs. Margaret Wolf, Northumberland and Prince Edward; Miss Doreen Hamill and of the Jr. Institutes, Miss Susan Alvey.

Between business sessions, entertainment was a skit by West Hastings and a Hat Fashion Show by North Hastings.

At Friday's luncheon in Club Canara dining room, retiring F.W.I.O. President, Mrs. E. Small and Senior Board member, Mrs. R. Rollins, were presented with pins. Miss McKercher and Mrs. A. J. Calnan presented with a surprise birthday cake.

Mrs. Clifford Reid, third Vice-President, led the last session. Sing song was followed by a panel on the highlights of the District Annuals by Mrs. Rex Rollins and Mrs. A. J. Calnan.

After entertainment by Hastings East, the sessions closed with an interesting report of the A.C.W.W. Convention at Lansing, Michigan by delegate, Mrs. R. Rollins.

MINERAL EXPLORATION CLASSES TO BE HELD

The Ontario Department of Mines plans to hold Mineral Exploration Classes at the Public Library, George Street, Peterborough, Ontario, from October 28th to October 31st, inclusive.

The course, to be conducted by Erwin Hamilton, geological lecturer, will consist of afternoon and evening sessions from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. and 8:00 to 10:00 p.m. daily.

The instruction, suitable for beginners and experienced prospectors, will emphasize elementary geology and mineral identification as well as practical exploration techniques and geological sampling. Mr. O. H. Bjarnason of the Mines Inspection Branch of the Ontario Department of Mines will describe drilling and blasting methods. Mr. Juhola will give a talk on the Ontario Securities Commission. A number of films of mining interest will be shown and free samples will be distributed.

Designed for active prospectors or those wishing to learn a new outdoor hobby, the course is open to any who want to attend. All lectures are free and there is no registration charge.

REMINISCING

Taken from the Review files of 50, 25 and 15 years ago.

50 YEARS AGO October 10, 1918.

Gordon Bridge, at the Lodge Room corners in Hungerford Twp., a reinforced concrete structure designed and built under the supervision of Mr. Fraser Aylsworth, County Bridge Engineer, was completed last Friday.

This bridge was fashioned after the neat, trim designs seen along the Toronto and Hamilton provincial highways and American state roads. The time occupied in building it was nine days. However, it will not be open for traffic for three weeks when the forms will be removed. The chairman of the county bridges committee, Mr. James Moore, Reeve of Elzevir, was untiring in his efforts to expedite this work.

Word has been received that Sigr. George White, formerly of Madoc, was struck by shrapnel in the elbow, which rendered his arm useless. He is now in hospital in England.

A hearty reception was tendered Earl Burnside by the citizens of Madoc on his return from France after an absence of two years, where he took part in the fighting on the Western Front.

We notice the following names on the casualty list: Major S. B. Van-Kleeck, Vancouver, formerly of Cooper; killed; G. H. Ballard, Madoc, wounded; H. J. Payette, Queensboro, wounded; E. Wannamaker, Eldorado, wounded.

Marriage — Miss Hilda West of Hastings and Mr. Robert Bryden of Madoc were married at Hastings last week. They will reside in Madoc, where the groom is interested in mining.

Deaths — Mrs. Joseph Ash passed away at her home in Huntingdon on Thursday, October 3rd, 1918, aged 68 years. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband and five sons: Wm., John, Elsie, Joseph A. and Thomas. Also one daughter, Mrs. S. Moore, Sidney Twp.

The death occurred at Three Rivers P.Q. Friday morning, October 11th, of Mr. Archie F. Moray, husband of Alice Thompson, formerly of Madoc, Ontario, niece of Mr. Thos. Thompson, M.P., aged 33 years.

25 YEARS AGO October 14, 1943.

On Monday, October 4th, friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Pigen in honour of their son, Wallace, who is a member of the armed forces. A presentation address was read by Mrs. Warren Hill, after which Mr. Angus MacKillean presented Mr. Pigen with a wrist watch. The address was signed, on behalf of his friends, by Ruth Empey, Angus MacKillean, Russell Empey and Gordon McCoy.

If any Canadian motorists are still in doubt about the reason for gasoline rationing they should look at a recent statement by Mr. Geoffrey Lloyd, chairman of British Oil Control Board. Mr. Lloyd gave some interesting information about the amount of gasoline required to conduct one of the big raids which the R.C.A.F. and the United States Air Force have been carrying out regularly against German cities. One four-motored Lancaster bomber needs 2,000 gallons for a single flight to the Ruhr and back. More would be needed for an attack on Berlin. When it is remembered that hundreds of these big machines take part in any operation against the continent it will be easily seen that more than a million gallons of gasoline may be burned up in one night.

Birth — In Belleville Hospital on Thursday, October 14th, to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth West, a daughter, Linda Christine.

Wedding — On Saturday evening, October 9th, Harold Edwin Marshall was united in marriage to Edna Jean Fairfield at the United Church parsonage. Rev. Alfred Poulter officiated.

Deaths — Ethel M. Taylor, aged 77 years, widow of the late Thomas Keene of Havelock, died in Toronto on Friday. She was a sister of Mrs. Chris Henderson and Mr. Frank Taylor of Madoc.

A gloom was cast over the community at the passing of Clarence Carmen of Eldorado. Mr. Carmen had been in failing health for the past four years and recently entered Belleville Hospital where he passed away on Saturday, September 25th. Left to mourn his loss is his wife, one daughter, Earla, and two sons, John and Milton.

15 YEARS AGO October 15, 1953.

It has been known for many years that sword fish are plentiful in Lake Huron, but seldom is one caught. Kel Kincaid landed one which he caught on a live minnow and since has displayed it in Kincaid Bros. grocery. The type of fish is reported to be most destructive and kills many game fish.

REPORT

During the week of October 6th to October 12th, 1968, officers of the Madoc Detachment Ontario Provincial Police, investigated nine motor vehicle accidents, all of a property damage nature.

There were 52 occurrences reported, nine thefts, five disturbances, two assaults, two malicious damage, two requests for assistance, with 32 miscellaneous occurrences.

Thirty-two charges were laid for various Highway Traffic Act offences, 78 vehicles safety checked, with 60 traffic warnings handed out.

Four thousand, three hundred miles of area roads were patrolled during 520 working hours.

Forty-three hours were spent in Magistrate's Court, Madoc, with Magistrate R. C. Jackson registering 62 convictions.

Here is a reminder to cyclists!

A BICYCLE, ridden after dark, must be equipped with a white amber light in front and white reflective tape on front forks. Your bike must also be equipped with red reflective tape and a red light or reflector on the rear. Remember a BIKE at night must have a LIGHT.

MOTORISTS — Drivers who feel that the no-stopping regulations are too tough might think about this historical note. In ancient Nineveh, where roads were sacred, posts were placed along the processional way inscribed "Royal Road — Let No Man Lessen It." It was decreed that anyone who parked a chariot or other vehicle along the road should be slain and his body impaled on a stake before his house.

al Hospital was officially announced today by J. N. Yanover, chairman of the board of governors. He said that from its early years before this century the Hospital has grown to serve an expanding need from a demanding population. Today the hospital serves an area of 60,000 people in Belleville and Hastings County with accommodation meant to serve half that number.

Magistrate Jackson will move his office from Tweed to Madoc on November 1st. Miss Mary Lloyd, his secretary, will also move from Tweed to Madoc.

Birth — Mr. and Mrs. Sam Shaw, Tweed (nee Molly Mumby) are happy to announce the birth of their son, Gary Samuel, on Wednesday, October 7th, 1968, at Belleville General Hospital.

Obituary — Bruce Phillips, R.R. 3, Madoc Twp., died suddenly at his home Monday, October 12th, in his 53rd year. He is survived by his wife, the former Mary Groves, two daughters, Donna and Marjorie, and one son Grant.

Showing at the Empire Theatre, Madoc: Mitzie Gaynor and David Wayne in "Down Among the Sheltering Palms"; also Michael Rennie and Debra Paget in "Les Miserables".

LOYALIST COLLEGE TO BE OFFICIALLY OPENED SATURDAY

Two ceremonies will mark the official opening of Loyalist College on Saturday, October 19.

Lorne M. Johnston, Assistant Deputy Minister, Provincial Schools and Further Education, who is a native of the Quinte Area, will deliver the official address and declare the College to be open at an outdoor ceremony on the Wallbridge Campus Site at 2:00 p.m.

Mr. Johnston was born just north of Stirling, attended Stirling High School and for a number of years was District Inspector of Secondary Schools with the Ontario Department of Education at Belleville, prior to receiving a promotion that led to his present position with the Department of Education in Toronto. He is a graduate of Queen's University and Peterborough Normal School.

Following the opening ceremony, the official guests and residents of the area who are also invited to attend will have an opportunity to see the inside of the Loyalist College temporary building. There will be conducted tours to show the public the type of specialized equipment already installed and operating and various innovations in classroom design and arrangement that are suited to the programs offered by The College. Loyalist, established to serve the four-county Quinte Area is one of 20 colleges of applied arts and technology in the Province.

At the opening ceremony, the Canadian Forces Band of Trenton, under the direction of Bandmaster Sgt. Howard Kelly will be present. The Band will provide musical entertainment prior to the ceremony and will also provide musical selections at the first convocation for the conferring of certificates and diplomas to graduates of The College. The convocation will follow the opening ceremony in the auditorium of Centennial Secondary School on Palmer Road.

Immediately following the convocation, the Board of Governors will present and dedicate a plaque to the Quinte District High School Board and the Principal and the Staff of Centennial Secondary School. The plaque will express the appreciation of the Loyalist College Board of Governors for the accommodation provided by the Quinte District High School Board in Centennial Secondary School where The College held its first classes in 1967.

WILLING WORKERS HOLD THIRD MEETING

The third meeting of the Cooper-Remington Willing Workers was held on Tuesday, October 1st, at the home of Mrs. Glen Rollins at 7:30 p.m. We were pleased to have as guest Mrs. Alex Clarke and Mrs. Byron Watson.

Roll call was taken and there were eight members present. Each member gave an answer to the question "What is your favourite variety of apples and why?" Each member brought samples of dried fruit for everyone to examine and discuss.

The demonstration was "An oven steamed pudding, made by Mona Walker and a 'Fruit Sauce' made by Carolyn Rollins.

Everyone ate the sauce and pudding and then washed the dishes. The meeting closed by all repeating the 4-H Pledge.

CARD OF THANKS

MR. & MRS. GEORGE W. K. ATKINSON

ATKINSON — BATEMAN

St. Paul's United Church, Stirling, Ontario, was the setting for the marriage of Bonnie Lee, daughter of Mrs. R. Elwood Bateman, to Mr. George William Kells Atkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Atkinson, Madoc, Ontario, on Saturday, September 21, 1968, at 10:30 a.m. The Rev. J. Bruce Small officiated before the altar which was enhanced by standards of white and yellow gladioli.

The church organist, Mrs. Harry Brown, played the wedding music, and also accompanied the soloist, Mr. Donald Armstrong, Frankford, Ontario, who rendered the Lord's Prayer and The Wedding Prayer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white street-length A-line dress of French crepe featuring an organza yoke accented with white daisies and a high neckline. Her headpiece, with the same daisies, was a bow of French crepe from which fell the veil which had also been worn by her mother on her wedding day. She carried a cascade bouquet of daisies and yellow sweetheart roses interspersed with ivy and baby's breath.

Miss Nancy Wilson of Kingston was her only attendant. She wore a street-length Empire-styled dress of yellow crepe with scoop neckline and bodice overlaid with white embroidery.

ed lace. A green velvet ribbon in her hair matched the ribbon waistline of her dress. She carried a nosegay of yellow and white daisies with baby's breath.

The groomsmen were Mr. Larry Griffin, Madoc, Ontario, and the ushers were Mr. John Atkinson, Madoc, brother of the groom, and Mr. Firth Bateman of Toronto, brother of the bride.

The reception was held at Maple Inn, Bloomfield, Ontario.

The bride's mother received her guests in a blue and green puff brocade coat dress with matching feather hat and corsage of yellow roses.

She was assisted by the groom's mother, who wore a Royal blue brocade sheath with jacket, black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

For travelling, the bride donned a light brown double-knit dress and coat ensemble with beige trim, a brown velvet ribbon in her hair, brown alligator shoes and bag. She wore a corsage of orange Sweetheart roses.

Out-of-town guests were present from Philadelphia, Montreal, Toronto, Kingston, Bowmanville, Belleville and Madoc.

On their return, the couple will reside at 793 Water Street, Peterborough, Ontario.

PUBLIC SCHOOL SOCCER

Last Friday must have felt like Friday the thirteenth to the top two teams. A fight for second place developed when the third place Spurs shut out the second place Road Runners, 2-0, and the last place Hawks came from behind three times to edge the first place Chargers, 4-3.

Richard Brown scored twice for the Spurs in a hard-fought game. His last goal was scored with three seconds on the clock. The Road Runners missed several scoring opportunities that were turned aside by good goal-tending by Jim Bjornahl. The win left the Spurs six points out of second with two games remaining.

The biggest upset of the afternoon followed. The Chargers opened the scoring in the first minute of play on a goal by Steven Johnston. The Hawks flew back into the thick of the fight on a goal by Gary Kotwa. The Chargers bounced ahead a second time on a goal by Melvin Houston only to have Kotwa come back and tie the score. Before the half ended, Danny Forestell put the Chargers ahead for a third time and the half ended 3-2 in favour of the Chargers.

Miway through the second half, Harley Willemssen added his goal for the day and again the score became tied. Both teams fought back and forth until, with less than three minutes remaining, the Spurs were awarded a penalty shot and Gary Kotwa made no mistakes and Spurs went out in front to stay 4-3.

Remaining games are: Chargers vs. Spurs; Road Runners vs. Hawks, 4:00 p.m. Friday and Road Runners vs. Chargers, 9:15 a.m., Saturday; Hawks vs. Spurs, 10:45 a.m. Saturday.

Standings:-

	W.	L.	T.	B.	Pt.
Chargers	3	1	0	12	30
Road Runners	2	2	0	8	20
Spurs	1	2	1	5	14
Hawks	1	2	1	3	12

LAST 4-LANE SECTION OF NO. 401 HIGHWAY OPENED LAST FRIDAY

The last four-lane section of the Macdonald-Cartier Freeway (Highway 401) from Highway 137 (Ivy Lea), easterly to Highway 2, five-and-a-half miles west of Brockville, was opened for traffic at 3:00 p.m. on Friday, October 11, 1968. It was announced by Highways Minister Geo. E. Gomme.

The opening of this 15 miles of the four-lane freeway makes possible a through-trip over the 510-mile route of the Macdonald-Cartier Freeway from Windsor on the west, to the Quebec boundary on the east, with a minimum of four lanes in service over the entire distance.

LOCAL and PERSONAL

Two new 401 service centres are now under construction in this area. They will serve both eastbound and westbound freeway traffic and are located approximately two miles east of Mallorytown (Interchange No. 110). Both are scheduled to be in full operation by Spring of 1969.

IN APPRECIATION

We would like to extend our most heartfelt thanks to Cpl. Scholtz and his men and all the men from Cooper and district who participated in the search for our son, David, on Monday night.

We are deeply grateful to all.

Marlei and Grant Brett.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Southard, Lakewood Ave., Ohio, and Mrs. Thos. Schell, Biggar, Sask., visited her sister-in-law, Mrs. Donehue.

Those who spent the Thanksgiving Holiday weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Francis and Sharon were Mr. and Mrs. John McCann and family, Madoc, Mrs. M. Scerri, Mary and Edwin, Belleville, Miss Barb. McCracken, Belleville, and Mr. Walter Francis, Crookston.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Phillips of Ottawa spent Thanksgiving weekend in Madoc, visiting his mother, Mrs. Mabel Phillips and Mrs. L. Balaam.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Rigney and baby, Kathleen, of Moncton, N.B., spent a few days this week in Madoc with her mother, Mrs. L. Balaam.

REVIEW ADVTs. BRING RESULTS

BELL LINES

By C. H. Buckley
Your Telephone
Manager

Bell Canada has always urged employees to use all possible safety precautions when working and in recent years has stressed safe driving habits. One of the safety groups in our Company recently circulated a report of an experiment made by a tire company and a precision instrument maker. The astonishing results show that too fast, tense, erratic driving is not only dangerous, but saves little time.

Two identical cars were fitted with instruments which registered every driving detail during a 1,000-mile trip. The devices showed how often the driver braked, and how hard; how many cars he passed and how many overtook him, and the total driving time. One driver was told to do what we all do when we are in a hurry — overtake when it's safe and take bends at the maximum speed the car and our own ability will allow. The second driver made the trip in a relaxed style, avoiding any risk and moving as the traffic flow permitted.

Results show that after 1,000 miles the speedhog finished only 31 minutes ahead of the easy-does-it driver.

The speedster had almost two and a half times as many swerves, stomps on the accelerator and "Here I go. Hope I make it" bursts on the wrong side of the road. In the test, the faster driver used about ten gallons more gas than his competitor. The added wear and tear on the hand driver's brake linings, suspension and engine was obvious.

During the drive, the fast car had four emergency brakings and 1,335 other brakings as compared to no emergency brakings and 652 other brakings for the slow car. The fast car overtook 2,004 cars as compared to 645 by the slow car and was overtaken by 13 autos, while the slow car was passed by 142.

It looks like we'd be doing ourselves and our cars a good turn by slowing down — especially when only a few minutes are lost in the process. What's a half-hour over 1,000 miles?

When the country's largest computer installation was delivered to Bell Canada headquarters in Montreal last month, the most crucial part of the move-in was lifting a 5,400-pound memory storage unit seven floors up the outside of our building. If tipped more than ten degrees, the unit would be damaged. We're happy to report that high-spirited proof was given that it arrived safely. A full champagne glass was taped to the top of the huge crate before hoisting began. Crate and glass arrived untoppled.

When in operation, the computer will do the mammoth job of handling details of Bell Canada's total investment, operating costs and manpower resources. It will be capable of performing 1,100,000 functions per second and will be linked by TWX, Datapac and other Company facilities to Bell Canada offices throughout Ontario and Quebec.

MADOC, HASTINGS COUNTY, ONTARIO

OCTOBER 24, 1968

Number 42

Established April 6, 1877

MADOC W.I.

The October meeting of Madoc Women's Institute was held in the home of Miss L. Connor.

The Roll Call, "What did I do with my fingers yesterday?", was answered by twenty or more members.

The president, Mrs. H. Brintnell, presided and the minutes and correspondence were dealt with.

The Treasurer, Mrs. C. Farrow, reported a very substantial balance from the booth at the fair.

Mrs. Albert Bailey reported on the first day's proceedings at the Area Convention held Thursday and Friday at Club Canara in Belleville.

The theme of the meeting was "Human Rights Year — Love Thy Neighbour". This was responded to by a 2-minute comment from each District President.

Mrs. H. MacKercher, Director of Home Economics, was guest speaker and urged the branches to strive for more members.

Miss L. Connor reported on the second day's proceedings. Hot meals for shut-ins was an idea for Branches to carry on. Ideas of future clothing, furniture, food, etc., were presented.

North Hastings presented a hat show.

Mrs. A. Bailey gave the highlights of the Consumer's report.

The Leader's Course, "Vegetables with a Flair", will be held at Mrs. S. Ray's home on October 28th, from 1:30 to 4:30 and again November 1st, if necessary.

A motion was passed donating $15.

"AT HOME"

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Pigden will be "At Home" to their friends and relatives on Saturday, October 26th, from 7:00 until 10:00 p.m. on the occasion of their 25th Wedding Anniversary. Please no gifts. 42-1 to the Institute for the Blind. A motion was carried to give the delegates each $1.50 for their dinner at the convention.

A discussion on the Hydro at the booth at the fair was held and three members will attend the next fair board meeting.

Miss Connor gave a short talk on the motto, "Our talents — what shall we do with them?" We express ourselves in what we do with them. Creation of something is necessary to our development. Papers were distributed on which each name was written and then gathered and drawn by Mrs. O'Riordan, as the oldest member present.

Each name drawn was presented with a hand-made paper flower. Miss Connor then demonstrated how these flowers were made.

The members then were taken by cars to Marmora Town Hall where tables were arranged with displays of various crafts. Leather work, cake decorating, bead work, nail work, knitting, crocheting, and weaving were a few of the arts and crafts shown.

Tea, coffee and cookies were available and everyone expressed their enjoyment of the entire afternoon.

BELLEVILLE MAN KILLED IN ACCIDENT

A Belleville youth, Robert R. Hewton, 23, was struck down and killed late Friday night while walking along an east end street with his girl friend.

Police said that the heavy rain, fog, and lights from a car set the stage for the mishap occurring on Herchimer Ave., Belleville, shortly before 11:30 Friday night.

The couple was walking north along Herchimer on the east side of the road when they decided to cross the street.

According to a witness, they crossed in front of a northbound car which slowed down for them. After it passed them, they stepped out from the centre of the road into the path of a south-bound vehicle driven by Louis Donald Schell of Marysville.

Hewton was struck and killed. His girl friend was not injured by the vehicle.

Sgt. Ralph Petrie said that according to a witness there was no speed involved in the accident.

"It appears that the couple was in that blind spot formed from the headlights of the two cars", said Sgt. Petrie, "and all of a sudden they were in front of the south bound car".

The fatality is still under investigation. The accident was reported by one of the residents on Herchimer who did not give his name.

Robert was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Loney of Madoc.

MADOC WINS TRENT VALLEY SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Madoc Intermediates and Picton met in the finals of the Trent Valley Softball League in the best of three series. Picton won the first game played in Picton on Wednesday of last week, 7-1.

The second game was played in Madoc on Saturday night with the locals defeating the visitors 4-1. Madoc also won the final game of the series which was played in Picton on Sunday, 9-8.

THIEVES STEAL COPPER

Madoc Provincial Police are seeking thieves who ransacked a small, private mine operation in lonely bush country about 25 miles northwest of here.

Police say thieves caused about $6,000 damage while stripping copper from mine machinery at Whetstone Lake in Lake Township.

The mine, which processed iron ore and was owned by Frank McCallum of Oshawa, had not been operating in recent years.

Diesel engines used to power the operation were broken apart in the hunt for copper components. Six motors and 15 drive belts were damaged in a nearby ore-crushing plant.

Police estimate about 2,000 pounds of copper — easily disposable as scrap — was taken. But repairing the damage would cost owners up to $6,000.

Whetstone Lake is about 12 miles west of Highway 62 in dense bush country, accessible only by truck.

FALL SPORTS DAY PLANNED IN MARMORA

A "Fall Sports Day" will be held at the Marmora Intermediate Public School commencing at 10:00 a.m. on Friday, October 25th, and running through until 2:30 p.m. Five schools of grades 5 to 8 level from Madoc, Madoc Township, Marmora, Stirling and Tweed will compete in both junior and senior classification. The girls' event will be volleyball, while the boys' is soccer. Some 350 pupils are expected to compete for the honours. Interested spectators are invited to observe these games.

TRINITY U.C.W., UNIT 11

Unit Two of Trinity U.C.W. met at the Manse for their October meeting with a good attendance of members and several visitors. The President, Mrs. H. Brintnell, opened the meeting with a few words of welcome followed by a hymn and prayer.

The Devotional was conducted by Mrs. H. Stickwood, who used suitable hymns, prayer, scripture and meditation on the theme of Thanksgiving. Mrs. Stanley Beatty presented the study on Japan, using several illustrations of the lives of people in Japan, as portrayed in the book, "Japanese Profiles." She was assisted by Mrs. G. White, Miss G. Raney and Miss A. Adams.

Several items of business were discussed and plan were finalized for the rummage sale on October 25th and 26th. The Presbyterian Rally will be held in Trinity United Church on October 22nd, and the Bazaar is planned for November 21st. The General Meeting of the U.C.W. will be held on October 29th. The Public Health Nurse will be speaking on topics especially interesting to young mothers and the not-so-young grandmothers. Mrs. A. Adams thanked Mrs. S. Beatty and also the hostess, Mrs. D. W. Heard. A half-hour of social fellowship concluded a worthwhile meeting.

WOODS, WATERS AND WILDLIFE

By JAMES WOODFORD
Feed the Birds!

October is a good time to set up a backyard bird-feeder. A window feeder, for instance, will bring wild birds within inches of your face. Placed at the kitchen window, the bird-feeder enables the family at breakfast to watch birds flocking before the pane for their morning feeding.

Birds you might expect at a window feeder — particularly if the feed mixture contains a high percentage of sunflower seeds — are black-capped chickadees, blue jays, white-breasted nuthatches, cardinals and purple finches. If the feeder contains a suet rack, downy woodpeckers should visit it regularly.

Among Ontario winter birds there are several species that prefer to feed on the ground. Thus, the seeds spilled by the sloppy feeding habits of other birds at the feeder are utilized by these ground feeders, such as slate-coloured juncos, tree sparrows, mourning doves and pheasants.

Several feeders are always better than one. Larger birds may dominate a single feeder so that some interesting species may leave your area in search of food.

Place feeders (ones not on window ledges) near cover, but not so close that squirrel can jump on them. Much to my three and five year old daughters' delight and my dismay, an enterprising and athletic black squirrel was able to leap about ten feet from a large maple to the roof of our large bird-feeder. After some careful calculations the feeder was moved two feet further back from the maple, while still avoiding some scotch pines. The squirrel problem was solved, at least for the moment. But the next night we looked out to see a raccoon perched on the feeder helping himself to sunflower seeds and peanuts.

The basic food for attracting birds

DEAR DORIS
advice from
Doris Clark

Long distance love

DEAR DORIS — When I visited my girl friend, a long way from here, she found me a date; Bob is 26 and I'm 19. We found we had quite a lot in common; and so we wrote.

As he works seven days a week, he's been down here just once. When I get a long weekend off he sends my train ticket and I travel to his house.

People have been talking. They feel I'm too easy to "catch" and that I shouldn't be going there; he should be coming here. Well, Doris, last time he came he was so tired he couldn't even be himself.

Am I wrong in going to his house? I'm so happy when I'm there because I'm with him and in beautiful country. His parents are always there; I feel really welcome and at home with them.

Right Or Wrong?
DEAR R. OR W. — Oh, shucks! Young love has to have a chance to blossom. The situation sounds like a pretty healthy one to me.

He wants to see you enough to pay your fare. His family are sharing his interest in you and keeping it all proper. You are old enough to behave responsibly, and so is he.

I can't see that your mother needs to worry — and if people talk, let's see what they say when they get invited to your wedding.

DEAR DORIS — This mere male is getting hung-up over a woman's temper tantrums. She is my wife. We have been married 10 years and I think she is getting worse.

Any small thing will set her off. She will turn on me, scream out her abuse, hit me with a spoon or a rolling pin. It isn't funny.

I'm afraid she's nuts. I swore I'd never shout back or strike her, but how much can a man stand?

Modern Jiggs
DEAR JIGGS — Doubtless your calm exterior adds to her ferment.

No sense to violence on your part. But it might save her flickering sanity to come up against a normal, healthy reaction which will not stand for the abnormal abuse she is handing out.

Better seek professional counseling before the situation worsens even further. She can be helped.

DEAR DORIS — Please send me the leaflet, Books Beat T.V. I have three children seven and under. I have always read to the children a lot.

However, my seven-year-old is having difficulty in reading and spelling. He is very intelligent but daydreams and just gets average marks.

Mommy
DEAR MOMMY — He may simply need practice. Start a new routine.

At bedtime story time, involve him in the actual reading. Let him start with something already familiar.

He could read the middle paragraph or last paragraph of your story — if necessary having a little notice ahead that he is going to have this part to play.

Praise, a hand-clapping cheer from the others, a small reward, and he'll try again.

DEAR DORIS — The minute I get excited my hands start shaking. They just tremble even when I try to calm down. At a party I dare not help in serving lunch or even take a person's hand in a game or when dancing. I feel I would rather not go, but I must in order to associate with people.

I have been to a nerve clinic and had a few treatments but they just don't seem to help.

Much Ashamed
DEAR ASHAMED — It's agony! But here's news for you: 99 44-100 percent of the people don't even notice your shaking and quaking. Nor do they notice the blushers or the perspirers.

Shake if you must — and it seems you must — but don't pull back into your shell! Dare to pass the sandwiches, hold hands or do any other old thing that seems indicated to share in a party. This is the way to poise and good mental health.

My incentive is gone

DEAR DORIS — My wonderful wife passed away three months ago. Slowly I am picking up the pieces. We have reorganized our routines, with my boy and girl taking on dinners and dishes, and all of us doing the shopping together at night.

But I am a salesman, which takes some self-starting. Not only that, but to sell things a person has to be enthusiastic. I'm sorry to say I have lost confidence in myself.

Now I realize that Ruth's interest and encouragement were like the gasoline in an engine.

No Sale

DEAR NO SALE — What you don't realize is that you are in a state of shock. You have tried to catch the ball and keep running, without even stopping for breath. You can't just adjust all the physical arrangements and have done with it.

The very depths of you have been shaken and need time and solace. Give yourself time. Try now to regain confidence by remembering all the faith Ruth had in you. If you valued her belief in you when you could talk to her, do you discount it now?

DEAR DORIS — I am 14. My parents both work and I have an older brother and younger sister.

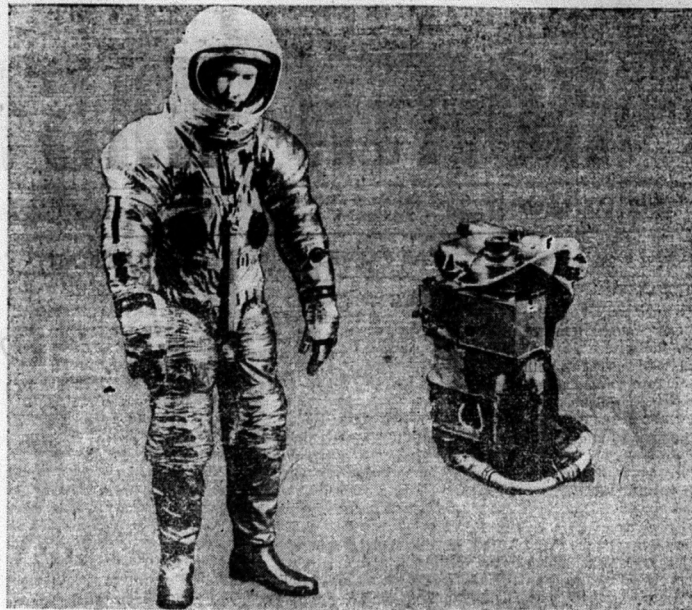

I cook supper, vacuum, do dishes morning, noon and night, iron clothes and many more things. On top of this I have to keep my grades high. For this I get an allowance of $1.25 a week.

I never get a thank you, which I would like to hear. How can I get them to appreciate my work?

Unappreciated

DEAR UNAPPRECIATED — I agree. A build-up from your mother would sound more beautifully in your ears than the one-twenty-five cents in your hand! Yet many a parent forgets that praise is more potent than a preachment when it comes to rearing capable young people.

Anyway, I'll praise you. And you'll be a wonderful homemaker, not many years from

THE NEXT STAGE. The Apollo 7 and its crew completed a "highly successful mission," and now it's off to the moon for the U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration people. is a mixture of millet, cracked corn, sunflower seeds, cracked peanuts and some grain. Suet is excellent for woodpeckers, chickadees and nuthatches. A "bird pudding" may be made by heating suet and seed mixture and then pouring it in an empty soup can. At is cools, stick a piece of wire in the centre of the top, then the "bird pudding" may be hung from a branch of a tree.

Once you start feeding birds, it is important to keep it up, because they will soon become dependent on you, specially when their natural food in the woods and fields is covered with ice and snow.

It's when a man gets too old to set a bad example that he starts giving good advice.

A Message to Farmers ...

Are you sick and tired of salesmen calling at your door looking for farm seed orders? Do you get the feeling that you are being "hustled"?

Take a good look at the situation and ask yourself why you should buy. Typical reasons are: — "I said yes to get rid of him"; — "He says prices are going up"; — "He claims his seed is cleaner or his mixture better"; — "He called five times and wore me down".

The simple fact is that there is no reason for buying from a door-to-door salesman in an area such as this where good, well-informed local dealers are ready to serve you.

The disadvantages are many and they all add up to inconvenience for you: Interruptions in your work; COD's to pay; freight to pay; inaccessibility of your supplier for repeat purchases or exchange if your plans are altered; definitely higher prices if you care to analyze the formula. In a word, a costly middle man.

The advantages for you are absolutely nil.

We conventional dealers are prepared now, with firm prices on certified forage seeds and ODA Hay and Pasture Mixtures of all kinds. We will book your order for spring at no increase over these prices. Order now if you wish — at your convenience and on your terms.

SUGAR AND SPICE

by Bill Smiley

An apology from Smiley

Every so often I get myself into such a bind that a razor blade and a tub of hot water seem the only honorable way out. The sole reason I am still with you is that either my wife has just ruined my last blade shaving her legs, or everybody in the house has just had a bath and there's no hot water left.

I'm in one of these now. Bind, that is, not bath. First of all, the Slovaks are after me. In a recent column about the Czechs, I used, not inadvertently, the phrase "those lousy Slovaks."

Six of my 12 Slovakian readers took exception, reading it out of context, as people always do when they want to take exception.

No less a person than Louis Gorek, secretary of the Slovak Benefit Society, read my article "by chance." By chance my foot. It was obviously sent to him by some lousy Czech. He wrote a letter to the editor, which ends with the intriguing expression, "Whoever is going to seed a hate will find himself in a hatred."

Another letter to the editor, signed by six Slovak veterans, suggested that I was not only IGNORANT, but a member of some Nazis (sic) organization. Well, I'd rather be lousy than both ignorant and a Nazi. (I am ignorant, was lousy when I was a P.O.W. and have not been, nor ever expect to be a Nazi.) Curiously, this letter too contains the expression "If you are going to seed a HATE, you will find yourself in a hatred." Collusion, what?

Well, good Slovaks, and your ladies I apologize. If our educational system was any good, you'd have known what I meant. The original said, "Here you are, a good, honest Bohemian (Czech). After World War I you are thrown in with those lousy Slovaks and told you are now a Czech-Slovakian."

Let's change that. Make it read, "Here you are, a good, honest Slovak. After World War I, you are thrown in with those lousy Bohemians and told you are now a Czech-Slovakian."

And that's about what they think of each other. Divide and conquer, I always say. But now I'll have the Czechs after me. The next Balkan war may be fought right here in Canada, with yours truly slap in the middle. The only way out that I can see is to buy two tickets to the next ball sponsored by the Slovak Benefit Society.

But even the vision of slaving Slovaks and choking Czechs seeking my blood doesn't bother me nearly as much as the next ordeal in my current bind. I'd rather face 100 of them, bare-handed, than go through with it.

I have to make a speech to the Women's Institute. I would rather walk barefoot over a glowing bed of red-hot coals than make the speech. However, it's my own fault.

Their secretary wrote me last June, asking me to speak. I ignored the letter, hoping it would go away, or that I'd die. Then came the mail strike. Thought I was safe. Not so. Early September she wrote again, sharply reminding me.

Still I stalled, but no use. It wasn't my sense of honor that made me accept. It was the fact that the secretary's daughter was in my home form. Every day she sat and looked at me with huge, reproachful eyes. Finally, I broke, and blurted, "All right, Marsha, all right! Tell your Mom I'll do it." She beamed. Her teach hadn't let her down.

What in the holy old red-eyed world does one say to a group of first-class women who have already heard a speaker on every possible topic?

Well, I have my opening paragraph ready. It goes like this: "The Women's Institute should be wiped out, with fire and sword, if necessary. Speaking as a man, I would like to see every branch smashed, all records put to the flames, and any executive members who might be caught sent to Canada's tundra to spend the rest of their lives making motions and resolutions and phoney Eskimo carvings and not asking people to speak to them."

On second thought, maybe I'd better take on the entire Czech-Slovak population of Canada, and get it over with quickly.

REMINISCING

Taken from the Review files of 50, 25 and 15 years ago.

50 YEARS AGO

October 24, 1918

The flu seems to have obtained the upper hand around here. Some schools and churches are closed.

Dr. Meaveia of Kingston General Hospital is assisting Dr. Eagleson during the influenza epidemic. Mrs. Gillespie, Mrs. Wyman, Mrs. C. Ross and Miss St. Charles are relieving the Doctor by assisting in the office.

At noon last Saturday the citizens of Madoc saw an aeroplane flying over the village. It circled a few times then disappeared from view. Word was spread around that it had made a safe landing about a half-mile from the village. A crowd assembled and it was learned that the aviator had left for Deseronto, but finding himself lost, landed to get directions. Many of our citizens had their first opportunity of seeing an aeroplane at close range and all who were able to avail themselves of this privilege did so. About 1:30 the plane made a short run along the ground then rose slowly. For the benefit of the spectators, the aviator circled several times before leaving.

Born — At Calgary on October 22nd, to Mr. and Mrs. Stewart A. McNell (nee Dora Thompson) a son.

Weddings — Two pretty weddings took place at the home of Mr. Joseph Christie on October 9th, when Miss Ida M. Devolin, second daughter of Mrs. W. Baker, was united in marriage to Mr. Frederick Thain of Wellman's Cors.; also Miss Luella Thain, daughter of Mr. R. Thain of Wellman's Cors., to Mr. Perry Bronson of Harold. The two couples were attended by Mr. Goldie Ellis and Miss Mary A. Devolin, Rev. M. Thompson and Rev. W. Christie officiated.

The Sacred Heart Church, Madoc, was the scene of a quiet wedding on Tuesday morning, October 22nd, when Miss Rose Quinn, niece of Mr. and Mrs. P. Quinn, was married to M. Wm. J. Stewart, Father O'Riordan officiating. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Loretta Cain of Marmora, while Mr. John Stewart acted as groomsmen.

The marriage took place in St. Peter's Manse, Madoc, on Wednesday, October 16th, of Miss Ida C. Eagle of Ormsby to Mr. J. A. Jackson of Wallaston Twp. Rev. W. S. MacTavish, B.D. Ph.D., pastor of the church, officiated. Miss Edith Jackson attended the bride and Mr. Allan Dicken of Carrying Place was best man.

Death — On Tuesday, October 15th, death came suddenly to one of our older citizens, Mr. Robert Dougherty, of Eldorado. To mourn his loss are his widow and one son, Charles.

25 YEARS AGO

October 21st, 1943.

Detlor News:— Sorry, but winter is surely coming, along with everything else. We were given a real downpour of rain on Saturday and Sunday, and some on Monday morning. All surfaces were covered with snow white after we had enjoyed two weeks of grand Autumn weather. Looks like the old time shovel service will soon be in order.

Sending of Christmas cards to Canadians and other British Military prisoners and civilian internees in Europe is prohibited this year, according to an announcement issued through the weekly bulletin of the postal Dept. Last year the large number of Christmas cards caused a heavy congestion of enemy censorship with the result that ordinary letters for the prisoners were very much delayed and the prisoners, themselves, have expressed the opinion that they would rather receive the letters promptly than have them held up through the sending of Christmas cards.

The local branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society informs us that they are still far from reaching their objective of 150 volunteers to give blood at the clinic next Tuesday. Madoc Village is falling behind the country units in its response to this urgent appeal. Many more volunteers are needed and we know Madoc Village will not fail in doing its part in supporting the boys overseas.

Births — In Madoc Twp. on Friday, October 15, 1943, to Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Tennyson, a son.

In Elzevir Twp., on Monday, October 18th, 1943, to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kehoe, a daughter.

At Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, on October 18th, 1943, to Sgt. and Mrs. Harry Thompson, nee Jean Phillips, a son, Joseph Paul.

Deaths — Mrs. Jane (Whalen) Mulrooney of Stoco, widow of Thos. W. Mulrooney, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Owen McEvoy, in Madoc, on Sunday, October 10th, aged 83 years.

Mrs. Harriet Catherine Carswell, widow of the late Thos. Carswell, passed away at the home of her daughter on Thursday, after an illness of six months. She is survived by one son, Allan, and two daughters, Mrs. Wm. Stiles of Napanee and Mrs. C. L. Redden of Campbellford.

President of the Coe Hill district for many years, Mr. Wm. Ferguson, died in Belleville Hospital on Monday, October 11th, in his 76th year.

15 YEARS AGO

October 22nd, 1953.

A most pleasant time was spent on Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nickle of Malone when over 75 friends and neighbours gathered to spend the evening with Mrs. J. A. Nickle, a former resident of the neighbourhood. Mrs. George Fox, on behalf of those present, read an address, voicing the good wishes of the folks to Mrs. Nickle and wishing, for her, much happiness in her new home in Madoc. Messrs. George Fox, Keith McCann and Reg Peate presented Mrs. Nickle with a purse of money and Mrs. Garnet McCann representing Zion W. A. also presented her with a cup and saucer. Mrs. Nickle, taken by surprise, graciously thanked her old friends for their kind wishes and gifts.

The Rugby season was opened in Madoc yesterday afternoon when the local High School team lost a close game to Tweed, 5-0. The game was played before a good crowd on the new sports field. The only score of the game was a touch-down in the second quarter by the visitors.

Wedding — On September 19th, 1953, at London, England, the marriage took place of Lois Esther Ann, daughter of Irving W. and Mrs. Plater of Hamilton, Ontario, to James Gregory Craigmyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Craigmyle of Burlington, Ontario. The groom is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. James Kincaid, Madoc.

Deaths — Stricken with a heart attack while at work, William Parks of Madoc died in Belleville Hospital Friday morning, aged 67 years. He is survived by his wife, the former Eliza Brady, one daughter, Mrs. Hubert Nickle of Madoc and two sons, Donald and Raymond, also of Madoc.

Joseph Walter Rogers, R.R., Madoc, died suddenly in Belleville Hospital Tuesday, October 20th, aged 79 years. He is survived by his wife, formerly Madeline Padgett, one son, Clarence, of Willowdale, and one daughter, Mrs. Archie Pitt, of Madoc.

MADOC

MR. & MRS. JOHN BRYNLEY MITCHELL

MITCHELL — FLEMING St. Peter's Presbyterian Church, Madoc, was the scene of a lovely September wedding uniting Beverley Anne Fleming, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fleming Jr. of Madoc, and John Brynley Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Mitchell of Picton. Rev. Vernon Tozer officiated at the double ring ceremony. Baskets of coral and white gladioli adorned the altar, while satin bows designated the guest pews. Appropriate nuptial selections were rendered by church organist, Mrs. Irene Crawford, accompanied by Mr. Stanley Hawthorne at the piano.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of pure white nylon organza. This simply designed A-line gown was highlighted by the elbow length lace sleeves, which pyramided to the cowl neckline. The long floor-length train of nylon organza was gathered at the cowl neckline and flowed gently to the floor. The four-tiered elbow-length headpiece of scalloped silk illusion in the popular styled Bouffant design was crowned with flowers and petals of nylon organza encrusted with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of Zorinia Sweetheart Roses entwined with ivy, Stephanotis and baby's breath. She wore a tiny pearl and diamond droplet, gift of the groom.

Matron of Honor, Mrs. Marie Pitt and the bridesmaids, Miss Eileen Ramsay, Mrs. Harriet Mitchell, Miss Judy Meraw and Miss Sandra Fleming, sister of the bride, were identically gowned in Melon Chiffon floor-length sheaths, flattered with an overfloat of chiffon. Their empire bodices were of guipure lace, designed with a rounded neckline and tiny sleeves. They chose matching daisy-flowered headpieces with over-the-face veils, tinted shoes and tiny white gloves. They carried hand bouquets of coral and white 'mums, completed with white bows.

Flower girls, Misses Lori Lee

Lewis, Rhonda Lewis and Patsy Lewis, cousins of the bride, were in short white dresses of silk organza over peau de soie featuring tiny puffed sleeves with daisy lace trim. They wore bands of white flowers, white gloves and white shoes. Their bouquets were of coral 'mums, completed with white bows. They wore silver lockets, gifts of the bride.

Attending the bridegroom was Mr. David Mitchell of Picton, while the ushers were Mr. Les Naylor of Don Mills, Mr. David Harrison, Mr. Roger Flake and Mr. Robert Mitchell, all of Picton.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor, where Mr. Stanley Hawthorne presided at the console of his organ. The bride's table was appointed white damask cloth and tall crystal candelabra with melon coloured candles, centered by an all-white three tiered wedding cake topped by two doves with rings under an arch of flowers and misted around the base by melon tulle.

The mother of the bride was attired in a sheath dress of pink and gold metallic brocade with matching pink tulle hat, mink stole, gold accessories and a corsage of deep pink sweetheart roses. Assisting her, the mother of the groom was attired in a two-piece ensemble of pale blue sparkle crepe, matching blue hat and black patent accessories. Her corsage was a white gardenia.

For the wedding trip, the bride chose an aqua dress and coat, black chiffon hat and black peau de soie accessories. Her corsage was a white gardenia.

The couple will reside at Madoc, where the groom is on the staff of the Madoc O.P.P. Detachment and the bride is employed by the Toronto Dominion Bank.

Out of town guests were present from Oshawa, Kingston, Toronto, Prescott, Port Hope, Tillsonburg, Bloomfield, Picton, Ottawa and Cleveland, Ohio.

IN MEMORIAM

EMPEY — In loving memory of a dear son, Russell Edward, who passed away October 26, 1967. He left us quickly, his thoughts unknown; But left us a memory we are proud to own. So treasure him, Lord, in your garden of rest: For when on earth, he was one of the best. Lovingly remembered by Father and Mother.

IN MEMORIAM

NOLAN — In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Kenneth Charles, who passed away October 26, 1956. We had him for a little while, His silken hair, his precious smile, His sweet brown eyes, his petal skin, For he, an angel from above, Was sent to us to give him love; To cherish him a while, and then, Return him to our God again. Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by Mommy, Daddy, Sharon, Sheila, Shelley and Sherri.

IN MEMORIAM

EMPEY — In memory of Russell E. Empey, November 20, 1921 to October 26, 1967. We cannot, Lord, Thy purpose see, But all is well that's done by Thee. Ever remembered by Dorothy, Nancy, Richard and Robert.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my friends and relatives for the many acts of kindness and for cards and treats while I was a patient in Belleville General Hospital and since returning home. George Lee.

CARD OF THANKS

A sincere thank you to everyone who remembered me with visits, flowers, gifts and all my cards while I was in Hospital and since I came home. Thanks so much. Jessie Holland.

WOMAN INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Two dead cows, two damaged cars and one injured lady were the results of two animal-car accidents occurring within minutes of each other Friday evening.

Highway 62 was the scene of the worst accident when a $300 cow owned by William Donnan, of Stirling was struck by a vehicle driven by 36-year-old Robert Malloney of Cooksville.

The cow was killed instantly and estimated damage to Malloney's car was $1,000.

A passenger in the car, Mrs. Helen Stoklosar, 76, was taken to Belleville General Hospital with lacerations and a knee injury.

Only minutes before the Stirling accident, another cow was hit at Stoco. The $400 animal, owned by Patrick Rush, had to be destroyed after it was struck by a car driven by Vincent Lynch, 39, of Tweed.

Damage to the car was estimated at $250.

In the Stirling accident, OPP officers said that about three of the animals had escaped their pasture and were on the road.

However, in the Tweed accident, OPP officers said that apparently the herd was being driven down the road in the dark when the mishap occurred.

Buy into Canada.

There are probably as many good reasons for buying Canada Savings Bonds as there are Canadians. There are the hopes, plans and ambitions you have for yourself and your family. There is the desire, which all of us share, to play a part in building the future of our country. The simple, safe, profitable way to help realize these goals is to buy Canada Savings Bonds.

They offer an excellent return. The average yield to maturity is 6.75% a year. There are fourteen annual interest coupons which begin at 5.75%, and rise to 7.00% for each of the last nine years. These can be cashed each year as they become due. Better still, if you choose to keep these coupons uncashed, you can earn interest on your interest. Take full advantage of this option and, when your Bonds mature, your total interest earnings plus your original investment will amount to $250 for each $100 invested.

They are available to everyone. Canada Savings Bonds are available to every Canadian resident in amounts from $50 up to $50,000, for cash or on instalments, wherever you work, bank or invest. Adults, children, businesses and institutions—all may buy them.

They are instant cash. You can cash them any time at any bank in Canada at their full face value plus earned interest.

Few investments are so profitable. None builds more surely for the future. Buy into Canada today. Buy Canada Savings Bonds. It pays.

It pays.

IN MEMORIAM

KETCHESON — In loving memory of our aunt, Mae Ketcheson, who passed away October 20, 1967. Just a thought of sweet remembrance, Just a memory sad and true; Just the love and sweet devotion Of the ones who think of you. Sadly remembered by Donna and Glenn, Scott and Todd Franks.

Biafra and genocide

GENOCIDE. The systematic killing or extermination of a whole people or nation. — Webster's Dictionary.

The debate which raged through the House of Commons last week, and struck into the consciousness of Canadians as has no other issue in the past decade, had this subject at its root — the threatened extermination of five million Ibo tribesmen who make up the rebel state of Biafra in Nigeria.

The West African nation has been torn by civil war for 18 months, but it was only in recent weeks that the extent of death and devastation began to be realized in the Western world.

For all the attention of Parliament, however, the facts of the tragedy still remained vague. From the outset, the daily news media did a remarkably spotty and incomplete reporting job. None of the big American or European wire services assigned correspondents permanently to the scene.

When Canada's external affairs committee went into special session to study the Biafran situation, information was still scanty. In fact, it took the flight of two Canadian MPs to Biafra, the NDP's Andrew Brewin and Tory David MacDonald, to bring a firsthand account to Ottawa.

And their report contrasted sharply with the findings of an international commission in Nigeria which had a Canadian on it, Maj. Gen. Wm. A. Milroy. While Milroy's commission had found no evidence of mass starvation (they were in Nigerian held territory, remember), the two MPs tended to confirm reports that up to 6,000 persons were dying daily.

Even here in Canada, the tragedy was compounded of a curious mixture of politics and humanitarianism. Prime Minister Trudeau and External Affairs Minister Sharp had both been under fire for failure to commit Canada to an all-out relief campaign. The Prime Minister had taken the position that if Canada was to fly in relief planes that might be shot down, we would have to be prepared to practically go to war against Nigeria to ensure that relief would reach the starving Biafrans.

Mr. Sharp has been even more vigorously attacked. Yet there was a heavy hint of irony in the fact that Canada's foreign minister was being criticized for not getting the United Nations to do something which the black African countries themselves had steered away from the U.N.

And in the U.S., Senator Edward Kennedy described Canada and some of the Scandinavian governments as the only ones really trying to do something to help Biafra.

The background to the Biafran tragedy is broad and bloody.

When the former British colony of Nigeria emerged as Africa's largest and most prosperous black nation, hope was high that it would lead that continent toward industrialization and democracy.

But Nigeria's 250 distinct tribes were never able to work together and in 1966 the Ibos — generally considered the most advanced of the tribes — took over the government in a bloody uprising.

Other Ibo-hating Nigerians soon struck back. An orgy of killing resulted in the deaths of at least 30,000 Ibos and many Ibos who had moved into various parts of Nigeria fled back to their home state of Biafra in the eastern end of the country.

The military governor of the eastern region, Col. C. O. Ojukwu, then sprang the trap into which, unwittingly, his countrymen have now been caught. He led Biafra to break away from Nigeria. Biafran troops at first swept through most of Nigeria but given time, the federal forces regrouped, and equipped with British arms, began to systematically push back the Biafrans until today, they are surrounded in a small pocket of bush country with only one major town in Biafran hands.

Other African states are reluctant to help Biafra because they, too, have tribal problems and no country wishes to follow a policy which could create similar divisions at home.

The Biafrans won't give up because they say they'll be wiped out if they do, so they may as well die fighting. The prospect is that the Biafran tragedy will soon rank with that other great blood bath of this decade which saw three million persons die in the anti-Communist purge which swept Indonesia under President Sukarno.

Long distance calling habits, together with requests from telephone users and municipal authorities, indicate the possible need for the expansion of the free calling areas for customers in the Stirling - Frankford - Wooler area.

C. H. Buckley, Bell Canada Manager, announced recently that a two week survey of telephone subscribers, to begin October 21st, would be undertaken in the three exchanges to determine what proportion of customers want the additional facility.

The proposed extension would eliminate long distance charges between Stirling and Belleville; Frankford and Wooler; also Frankford and Wooler and Belleville, Brighton and Stirling.

Since telephone rates are based on the number of telephones that can be reached without long distance charges, the monthly service rate for Stirling, Frankford and Wooler would increase slightly in accordance with the wider service area.

"This improvement in telephone service will take place only if a majority of customers indicate support for such a plan," said Mr. Buckley. "If this is found to be the case, the new service will be introduced early in 1971," he added.

RECORD ATTENDANCE AT KEMPTVILLE COLLEGE

There are 26 per cent more agricultural students at the Kemptville College than last year, according to the principal, Dr. F. A. Stinson. Enrolments in both junior and senior classes are at new records.

A three semester year was introduced in home economics last spring to add extra capacity. Senior students who attended the summer semester will qualify for their diplomas in December. This will permit accommodating a further group who will enter at the beginning of the New Year.

To keep training abreast of changing times, a number of alterations in curricula have been made. For example, part of the training consists of courses among which a student may choose according to his interests. The emphasis on markets, finances and business management has been increased. Student visits to farms, plants and factories, always a feature of the training at Kemptville, are used for a wider variety of studies. Another learning procedure is the introduction of interdivisional seminars at which students make presentations and hold discussions with other students and staff.

TRINITY U.C.W. UNIT 1

On October 9th, Unit I of U.C.W. met at the home of Mrs. Joe Ash, with 17 members present.

Mrs. Ken Gordon opened the meeting with a poem, "Autumn" Hymn 16 was sung and all repeated Psalm 117.

Mrs. Chas. Derry conducted the Worship Service on the theme "Gratitude is Giving", Hymn 18, "Now Thank we all our God" was sung. Members repeated a general Thanksgiving from the Hymnary. Bible reading was taken from Mathew 25, verses 31 to 36. Mrs. L. Bennett and Mrs. W. J. McCoy assisted Mrs. Chas. Derry in a Thanksgiving responsive reading. Offering was taken and dedicated by Mrs. Chas. Derry. Hymn 37, "Thou Glorious God", was sung.

Roll Call was answered. Minutes were read and approved. Visits on the sick were taken by Mrs. B. Embury. The Study Book on Japan was given by Mrs. Don Parks. The topic was "Third Generation Christian".

During the business sessions, each member was reminded of the U.C.W. Rally held in our church October 22. The General Meeting will be held October 29th, and should prove very interesting as there will be a guest speaker on Public Health. Fall Bazaar will be November 21.

The program was prepared by Mrs. Arthur Parks, who read a Thanksgiving Psalm. Mrs. A. Holmes read "Will God Sit at Your Thanksgiving Dinner?"

Mrs. F. Holmes sang a solo, "I'd rather have Jesus". Mrs. C. Holmes read "Thanksgiving Day", and Mrs. A. Empey told us some events of her trip to the Maritimes this summer while Mrs. Tanner showed picture post cards. Mrs. Parks closed the program with all reading Hymn 585, "Father We Thank Thee".

The Benediction was pronounced, after which an Auction Sale proved humorous and added to our funds. Lunch and a social half hour was enjoyed.

You will always stay young if you live honestly, eat slowly, sleep sufficiently, work industriously, worship faithfully — and lie about your age.

MANOR OFFICIALLY OPENED LAST FRIDAY

Friday's official opening for the new Hastings Centennial Manor at Bancroft was a historic day for North Hastings, according to the Village Reeve, Jack M. Brown.

Extending a civic welcome to the overflow crowd who attended the official opening ceremonies for the new $1,400,000 structure, Mr. Brown said elderly people from the area would now have less reluctance in becoming manor residents.

Previously, he said, people from North Hastings had to go to Hastings Manor at Belleville, and although they received the best of care, they missed the regular visits of relatives and friends.

Now with the new home at Bancroft offering the prospect of regular visits by family members, he felt that many senior citizens would change their mind about entering the home.

Tyendinaga Reeve Delbert Harvey, chairman of the county homes for the aged board of management, agreed that the new Bancroft home would fill a great need in the northern part of the county.

"The home will provide additional services for the care of our senior citizens", he said, adding that no sector of the population was more deserving of good care.

Hon. John Yaremko, Ontario Minister of Social and family services, said the new Centennial Manor at Bancroft was indicative of the tremendous change in the care of senior citizens which had taken place in the past one and a half decades.

He said there were now 140 homes for the aged in Ontario which were wholly or in part supported by public funds.

Noting that the Ontario government contributed $650,000 toward the construction of the 108-bed home, the minister used a biblical analogy to describe who gets what in apportioning welfare spending.

"I might say that allocating my department's expenditure is something like portioning out the loaves and fishes without divine intervention", he said.

He said that many categories of social need could well receive more assistance, but "we in gov't. must pause to consider that the money required of us for these expenditures is public funds."

County Warden Calvin White said the official opening of the second county home for the aged "brings to reality the dreams of the people of Hastings and particularly those who saw the great need for lodging such as this for the senior citizens of the area."

Following the official ribbon cutting by Lawrence Crawford, director, homes for the aged branch of the Social and Family Services, visitors were taken on a tour of the new building.

The Manor Chapel was dedicated at a special ceremony under the chairmanship of Rev. Peter Tett, Rev. H. J. Maloney, Bancroft parish priest, was unable to attend the official opening ceremonies due to illness.

The Manor facilities provide accommodation for 108 senior citizens and include a fully equipped laundry room, modern kitchen and auditorium, lounges and sitting rooms, barber shop and beauty salon.

Chapter two begins

The second year of the great experiment has begun.

The National Hockey League's six established teams and the six "Rookie" clubs have embarked on the most ambitious schedule ever. In all, the 12 teams will each play a record 76 games, two more than last season.

Last term the expansion teams proved they weren't the patsies everyone (including this scribe) thought they would be. The newcomers captured 40 games, tied 18 and lost 86.

In the new Western Division the pennant was not decided until the final day of the season. And only six points separated first place and fifth.

The Montreal Canadiens haughtily entered the Stanley Cup final against the St. Louis Blues. Montreal was conceded the cup before the first face-off, and most observers felt St. Louis goaltender Glenn Hall would give up five or six goals a game while his mates would be lucky to score at all.

Well, Montreal did win in four straight games, but two were decided in overtime and the other pair of Montreal victories were by no means decisive.

St. Louis Executive Vice-President Sid Salomon beamed: "The season exceeded our wildest expectations."

Financial problems wracked the founding Oakland Seals last term, and also, victory in only 15 games didn't help offset any difficulties. The team finished 22 points out of the playoffs and lost $1.8 million.

This year there are new millionaires controlling the team. These people have absorbed the club's financial losses, and with a large loan from Labatt's Brewery, a stable Oakland franchise does not appear to be impossible.

The $3 million contract for television with CBS is still effective, and most teams have their own local TV coverage.

Attendance will soar this year. Montreal and Toronto are always filled to capacity each game with Chicago not far behind.

Also, every established club has increased its seating capacity. Each expansion team outside of Oakland has revealed an increase in season ticket sales.

Projecting quickly into the future, it would seem that Montreal is a cinch for the Eastern Division title and another Stanley Cup triumph. Granted, injuries and rookie coach Claude Ruel could upset the Canadiens' steamroller, but not likely.

New York and Boston will probably wage a war for second place with Toronto's many rookies giving the Leafs the final playoff spot. Chicago and Detroit don't have the overall strength in personnel to make the grade.

In the new grouping Minnesota and St. Louis will do battle for the top spot with defensive-minded Philadelphia a distant third. Los Angeles will make the final playoff spot with Oakland and Pittsburgh watching instead of playing during playoff time.

One point is certain this season: the established teams, especially Toronto, will not take the expansion teams lightly.

Last year Toronto missed the playoffs by having the poorest record of any veteran team against the newcomers. The Leafs lost 11, won 10 and tied three against their Eastern Division foe.

However, the expansion team will continue to improve. But it will take them five or six years before they are Stanley Cup contenders.

After all, the American Football League still isn't capable of winning the Super Bowl championship over the National League champion.

DARK DAYS AHEAD. A Saskatchewan Wheat Pool official said that farmers in the Prairie Provinces will have little money during the coming year due to a depression brought about by the combination of weakness in the world wheat market and crop damage from a wet harvesting season. The experts predict Looking around the office at my knowledgeable cohorts, I decided to take an advance poll on the various sporting functions which will take place during the next year.

This highly secretive information should be classed as top secret, but dear hearts, here's your opportunity to win your second mortgage payment with a timely wager.

Young Bruce, the chief custodian of our grass roots procedures, offers these views: Ottawa Rough Riders to win the Grey Cup; Montreal Canadiens the Stanley Cup; United States an Olympic victory; Green Bay Packers another National Football League title and a win over Houston Oilers of the American Football League in the Super Bowl; Baltimore Orioles to defeat St. Louis Cardinals in the World Series next year; Vic Washington as the outstanding performer in Canadian football; Russ Jackson as the top Canadian griddler and a "no comment" on the top lineman.

Ron, salesman supreme, likes Toronto Argonauts for the Grey Cup; Toronto Maple Leafs for the Stanley Cup; Russia to take the Olympics; Green Bay to whip Oakland Raiders in the Super Bowl; Boston Red Sox to knock off Chicago Cubs in the World Series; Wally Gabler the best in the CFL; Russ Jackson as top Canadian and "no comment" on the best lineman.

Production chief, Steve, likes Argos for the Grey Cup; Detroit Red Wings for the Stanley Cup; U.S. an Olympic winner; Green Bay over San Diego in the Super Bowl; St. Louis to win the World Series over Cleveland Indians; Wally Gabler as top CFL'er; Russ Jackson top Canuck, and "no comment" on the lineman.

Sharon, our secretarial office lovely, picks Ottawa for the Grey Cup; Montreal Canadiens in hockey; U.S. as Olympic champs; Green Bay over Oakland Raiders in the Super Bowl; St. Louis Cardinals to defeat Detroit Tigers in the World Series; Peter Liske as Number One in CFL; Ken Lehmann the top lineman and Russ Jackson the best local grid talent.

Our service expert, Nick, goes for Ottawa in the Grey Cup; Montreal the Stanley Cup; Russia the Olympics; Baltimore Colts to take the Super Bowl honors over San Diego Chargers; Chicago White Sox to win the World Series over the St. Louis Cardinals; Don Sutherland as the top CFL player; Ed Harrington as the best in the line and Russ Jackson the top Canadian.

Our shipping boss, Paul, figures it Montreal Alouettes for the Grey Cup; Boston Bruins to capture the Stanley Cup; Russia the Olympics; Cleveland Browns to triumph in the Super Bowl over the Cincinnati Bengals; New York Yankees to win the World Series over San Francisco Giants; Wally Gabler as the top performer in the CFL; Russ Jackson the best Canadian and "I don't know" about the top lineman award.

Blonde Laura, our promotion and sales accounts braintrust, goes with Toronto Argonauts for the Grey Cup; Detroit Red Wings to take the Stanley Cup; Russia to win the Olympics; Oakland Raiders to upset the Los Angeles Rams in the Super Bowl; New York Yankees to capture the World Series against the St. Louis Cards; Whit Tucker ("I know him") the top CFL player; Tucker as the top Canadian and "I don't know" about the best lineman. Well, there ya go!

These predictions are straight from the average sports fan. In fact, some of these people aren't really sports fans, but rather, have just a smattering of knowledge about the world of sports.

It will be interesting to see how well they do. I've offered a cash prize of 3 cents to the winner.

THIS WEEK AND NEXT

by Ray Argyle

Levesque gets the power

There is a new political party in Quebec. It is made up of one part separatism, one part socialism, and one part optimism.

The new Parti Quebecois (Quebecer's Party) was launched last week, and may get its first test at the polls in by-elections later this year.

For all that most Quebecers appear still to believe in Confederation, the party is going to appeal to a lot of French Canadian voters. And much of the appeal is going to have very little to do with separatism.

The leader of the party, Rene Levesque, is well known all across Canada. His lean, good looks, high forehead and thinning hair make him look something like a monk or a matinee idol, a professor or a revolutionary.

Levesque comes from the same background and is about the same age (46) as Pierre Trudeau. Before entering Quebec politics under Jean Lesage and the Liberals, Levesque was a popular TV commentator and a leader in the assault on the establishment of the old Duplessis dictatorship.

Levesque became Minister of Resources in the Quebec government and was largely responsible for the nationalization of Quebec Hydro. But he was unable to force his own particular brand of left-wing separatism on the Liberals, and quit the party in 1967.

The Parti Quebecois came into being last week as a merger of Levesque's own Sovereignty movement, and the splinter Social Credit group, Ralliement National. This is a peculiar marriage. The RN was a right-wing group which gathered around former Social Credit MP Gilles Giguere. It broke away from Real Caouette because of his anti-separatist stand. And it is mainly a rural or small town group, while Levesque's main support is found among the French Canadian intellectuals of the cities and universities. However the RN did get seven percent of the vote in the last Quebec provincial election.

It is Rene Levesque's hope that the new Quebec premier, Jean Bertrand, is not anxious to call an election. The Parti Quebecois needs time to organize — much of its effort will be spent on TV where Levesque is an expert — and it would prefer to wait until 1970 when the next election is scheduled.

On the other hand, if there are signs that the Parti Quebecois is suddenly catching fire, it is likely Bertrand will throw caution to the winds and hurry into a vote, hoping to catch Levesque off base before he is fully organized. If Bertrand does this, however, he may be playing into the hands of the Quebec Liberals, who think their chances are greatly improved by the death of the Union Nationale's Daniel Johnson.

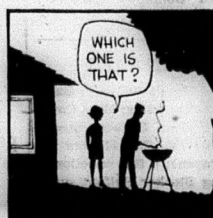

It is Levesque's idea that Quebec should come right out and declare its independence. Then it would negotiate with Ottawa.

His main goal, after setting up a French-speaking Republic of Quebec, would be to gain an economic and customs union with Canada. This would, supposedly, shelter Quebec from the economic reverses which would otherwise follow.

The Parti Quebecois platform avoids the extremism of French Canadian nationalist movements of the past. English-language schools would be tolerated but immigrants would have to send their children to French schools. French would be the language of business, the courts and political bodies. Foreign firms would have to hire a majority of their executives from Quebec. There'd be universal medicare and unions would be guaranteed the closed shop.

Rene Levesque once said that Canadians would be "too civilized" to resist Quebec independence. He will now try to convince his fellow Quebecers that they can enjoy independence without paying the price of an economic freeze-out by Canada.

SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED STUDENTS

The University Women's Club, Belleville Branch, has awarded three scholarships this year to girls graduating from Grade XIII in the city and district high schools.

The scholarships are awarded to three applicants who have achieved the highest aggregates in any seven upper school credits written in the current school year.

Winner of the University Women's Club Scholarship of $300 is Miss Pamela Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward K. Taylor, 12 Village Drive, Belleville. Miss Taylor, a graduate of Quinte Secondary School, is now studying Modern Languages at the University of Toronto.

Miss Susan E. O'Riordan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. O'Riordan, 80 Elgin Street, Madoc, has been awarded the Manly Macdonald Scholarship of $300. Miss O'Riordan, a graduate of Centre Hastings Secondary School is attending Trent University, taking an Honours English Course.

The Beverley Macdonald Scholarship of $300 goes to Miss Diane G. Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Young, R.R. 3, Bath. Miss Young attended Napanee District Secondary School and is now a student at the University of Western Ontario, taking Natural Sciences.

Through the generosity of Manly Macdonald, well-known artist, and of the interested public, the University Women's Club raises money for the three scholarships at its Spring Fair and Exhibition of Manly Macdonald's paintings.

Money from the sale of tickets on a painting donated by Mr. Macdonald goes entirely to the scholarship fund.

NEW 6-CENT STAMPS COMING OFF PRESSES

The first of the six-cent stamps that will soon be needed to post a letter are already coming off the presses.

The stamps are to be orange and feature all modes of transportation as their theme.

Post Office spokesmen said that 67 million of the stamps will be needed when the new six-cent letter rate becomes law.

The Commons gave final approval Tuesday to Postmaster General, Eric Kierans' bill providing for the new rate effective Friday, as well as for increases in the second-class rates for newspapers and magazines.

It must still be adopted by the Senate and get royal assent before becoming law.

The present domestic letter rate is five cents for out-of-town delivery and four cents for local delivery.

TECHNICAL TEACHERS' MEETING HELD

Technical teachers from all parts of the county had a get-together at Centennial Secondary School on Wednesday, October 23. The "Quinte Technical Teachers' Association" was formed and a slate of officers elected as follows: Chairman, N. Giffen (Picton); Vice Chairman, W. Slavins (Quinte); Secretary, J. Harkness (Morrison); Treasurer, J. M. Zaback (Napanee); Public Relations, J. Forshaw (Quinte).

The function was well attended and the subject seminars, held during the meeting, proved interesting to all concerned. A dinner meeting will be held in the Belleville Armouries on November 27th, and an interesting program is promised.

Mailing Lists Corrected

Our Mailing Lists have been corrected to Wednesday of this week. Look at your label to see if it is correct. If an error has occurred, let us know and the mistake will be rectified.

If the label reads prior to November '68, your subscription has expired and should be renewed at once.

CAR STRIKES BEAR ON HIGHWAY 62

During the week of October 20th, to October 26th, 1968, officers of the Madoc Detachment, Ontario Provincial Police, investigated nine motor vehicle accidents, eight of a property damage nature, with one personal injury accident.

Maurice Carman, age 17 years, of R.R. 1, Eldorado, was more than surprised when the vehicle which he was driving struck a bear on highway 62 last Saturday around 12:00 midnight. Damage to the Carman vehicle was estimated at $75.00. Prov. Const. Lawrenson is the investigating officer.

Suzanne Nesseth, age six years, of 65 Forsythe St., Village of Marmora, was taken to Peterborough Civic Hospital on Tuesday, October 22nd, as a result of injuries received when she was struck by a car driven by William Howard Wilcox of Marmora. The accident occurred on Forsythe Street, i.e. the girl's home.

50 occurrences were reported during the past week: one for break and enter, four thefts, two disturbances, one assault and three requests for assistance, with 39 miscellaneous occurrences.

164 vehicles were safety checked, 86 warnings handed out and 34 charges laid under the authority of the Highway Traffic Act.

4,370 miles of area roads were patrolled during 512 working hours. 30 hours were spent in Magistrate's Court, Madoc, Ontario, with Magistrate R. C. Jackson registering 43 convictions.

DRIVERS: Don't you tempt a car thief! When leaving your car, always make sure you lock the doors. Also, never leave the key in the ignition. Remember, you are much less likely to lose your car if you lock the doors — always.

Every mother knows which side the bread is buttered on — the side the kids drop on the floor.

PUBLIC SCHOOL SOCCER

The first round of play-offs was completed last week. The first-place Chargers downed the third-place Road Runners twice by identical 2-0 scores to take their two-game total goal series, four goals to none.

Ronnie Smith, Melvin Houston, Stephen Graham and Steven Johnson booted goals for the Chargers.

In Series B, the last-place Hawks on Gary Kotwa's three goals defeated the Spurs 3-1 in the first game. Richard Brown was the only marksman for the Spurs.

In the return match, Richard Brown and Timmy Bronson led the Spurs to a 2-1 win over the Hawks, but fell short by one goal. Peter Thompson scored the Hawks' lone goal, to give the Hawks a close 4-3 win in the two-game total goal series.

The Chargers and Hawks will now meet in a best two out of three final series. The first game is slated for Friday afternoon and the second game for Saturday morning at ten o'clock.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ash, Madoc, Ontario, wish to announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Carol Ann, to Mr. Edward Thomas Norman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Norman, Belleville, Ontario.

Wedding will take place November 30th, 1968, at 2:00 p.m. in St. John's Anglican Church, Madoc, Ontario.

ELDORADO 4-H HOMEMAKING CLUB

The first meeting of the Eldorado Apple Jacks was held on Saturday, September 21, 1968, at the home of Mrs. Shirley Blackburn. The election of officers was held and the results were as follows: President, Debbie Wannamaker; Vice President, Sheila Hageman; Treasurer, Nancy Blackburn; and Press Reporter, Lois Hageman.

The second meeting was held at the home of Debbie Wannamaker on Saturday, October 5th. The girls made Strawberry Shortcake and fruit salad at this meeting.

The third meeting was held at the home of Nancy and Bonnie Blackburn on Saturday, October 12th, where the members made oven-steamed Fruit Pudding, topped with Fruit Sauce.

The fourth meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Shirley Blackburn on Monday, October 14th. Each member arranged their own fruit cup with a combination of two or more varieties of fruit.

SNOWMOBILES NEED LICENSES THIS WEEKEND

All motorized snow vehicles must be licensed after November 1st, to be operated legally anywhere in the province, according to regulations released last week by Transport Minister Irwin Haskett.

In addition, drivers operating them on highways must carry insurance, have lights, front and back, and observe regulations of the Highway Traffic Act while driving. No drivers' licences will be required, but persons under 16 will not be permitted to operate a snow vehicle on a highway.

Licenses for the vehicles will cost $4.00 and will be valid for two years — from November 1, 1968, to October 31, 1970. Green and white plates will be issued and must be attached to the front of the vehicle.

Manufacturers and dealers will not be required to license unsold vehicles.

The snow vehicles will be permitted only on certain provincial highways designated by the Transport Department. They will be allowed on municipal roadways, except where prohibited by local by-law.

When operated on highways, each vehicle must have a white or amber light on the front and a red light on the rear. The lights must be on when lights are required for wheeled vehicles.

In addition to coming under the jurisdiction of the Highway Traffic Act, operators of snow vehicles will have to observe a number of special regulations.

A driver entering or crossing a roadway from property adjoining the roadway must first bring it to a complete stop, then enter or cross the right of way at an angle of 90 degrees.

Similar regulations govern the crossing of railway tracks.

WEDDING

McGUIRE - TROTTER

St. John's Parish Church, Perth, Ontario, was the setting of a pretty double-ring ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Gwendolyn Pearl Trotter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Trotter of Perth, Ontario, and Mr. Allan J. D. McGuire, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis McGuire of Hull, Quebec, on Saturday, September 14th, at 11:00 a.m.

Rev. Father O'Neill was the officiating clergyman in a surrounding of pink and white gladioli. Wedding music was rendered by Sister Superior of St. John's Convent.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over satin. A-line in design. Three white satin roses caught the long white veil of tulle illusion. She carried a bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses with baby's breath.

Mrs. Phyllis Hewton of Wellington, Ontario, sister of the bride, was matron of honour and Mrs. Ernie Larmon, also a sister, was bridesmaid. They were dressed in identical floor-length gowns of mint green chiffon crepe over taffeta styled with an empire waist. Dainty white daisies with yellow centres trimmed their gowns. Each carried a bouquet of yellow-centred mums and wore a mint green bow in their hair.

Mr. Gerald Trotter, Perth, brother of the bride, and Mr. Gary Piche, Ottawa, friend of the groom, were ushers.

For the reception at Farrel Hall, Perth, the mother of the bride received the guests in a pale blue metallic coat dress with silver and white accessories. A corsage of pink roses completed her ensemble. Assisting was the groom's mother in a beige and gold brocade dress, gold accessories, a brown fur stole and tangerine roses.

The bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Immediately following the dinner, open house was held at the summer residence of Mr. Bill Ferrier, Otty Lake.

For a wedding trip to the U.S.A., the bride wore a camel hair suit with brown patent accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

The couple are residing at Eastview, Ottawa.

Out of town guests were present from Ottawa, Hull, Tempeance, Michigan, Thorold, Wellington, Montreal, Maniwaki, Poland and Harper.

NEW REGULATIONS RE USED VEHICLES

Regulations, incorporating new and specific inspection standards to assure the mechanical fitness of all used motor vehicles, sold either privately as well as through dealers, for operation on Ontario's highways, were announced recently by Transport Minister Irwin Haskett.

Effective November 1st, any used motor vehicle will need a certificate of mechanical fitness before the purchaser can have it registered in his name and operate it on the highway. Inspection of the vehicle must be carried out by a licensed mechanic or a licensed dealer and certification of the vehicle will be based on the specifications spelled out in the new regulation. If a used motor vehicle is sold without such a certificate, the person applying for a transfer must surrender the licence plates to the Department of Transport and an unfit vehicle permit will be issued. Registration plates for the vehicle will be issued as soon as valid certificate of mechanical fitness is produced. Certificates are valid for a period of 30 days.

Private sales will now be affected by this legislation and used motor vehicles sold privately and through dealers will be subject to the new standards of inspection.

Mr. Haskett stated that more than 800,000 used motor vehicles are sold annually in Ontario. Defects in vehicles are a contributing cause in only a small percentage of collisions. Authorities' estimates vary from two to ten per cent. Of all motor vehicles involved in collisions in Ontario last year, 94.6 per cent were in apparently good condition. Some of the remainder suffered from defects that were not a contributing factor.

The aim of the new legislation is not so much to put vehicles off the road, but to get defects corrected for safer driving.

The Ontario Department of Transport has prepared a manual as a guide for licensed mechanics who will be doing the actual inspections and meetings are being planned across the province to discuss the new inspection procedures with them. The Department is also co-operating with the Centennial College of Applied Arts and Technology in Toronto in designing a course of instruction in the inspection procedures for licensed mechanics.

SUGAR AND SPICE

by Bill Smiley

October, I love you

Last month, I wrote of my annual love affair with September. It seemed to hit the spot. Fan mail doubled, from two to four letters. I even received a declaration of love from a lady who shall be nameless.

But October is another matter. I think we Canadians love it in a different way, this most glorious month of the year. It's the month when we wake up, come alive, feel the blood coursing through our hardening arteries.

It's a shattering experience for someone from another country to visit Canada in October. They are used to a change in the fall. Their leaves turn pallid browns and yellows. But when they see a vista of woods and water on a golden Canadian October day, they are literally stricken breathless.

We say, "Pretty ain't it?" An Irishman might say in awe, "Ecce Deus." Himself has dumped a rainbow, all but the blue, into your woods. And the blue He has flung, entirely, into your water."

But the vast, mad artist's palette, thrown across the country, is only part of the October scene and mood.

There's a quickening of the spirit that infects everyone. Fall fairs, those stubborn relics of a pioneer day, add their special flavor. Parades and pumpkin pies, hot dogs and horse races, and the warm, yellow wine of a Canadian October day, are unforgettable.

Hunters go into their special trance in this month. They crouch in duck blinds, they crawl through fences, they curse their misses. (And sometimes their misses, who can't see the point of it all.)

Golfers go goofy in October, desperately trying to get in the last few rounds, losing balls by the dozen among the fallen leaves, and praying for one more good weekend.

Sailing enthusiasts snatch every chance to get out in that perfect weather the month so often provides: nice breeze, warm sun, water so blue, it makes your heart leap. And so cold it makes your hands ache. October is ecstasy for the sport fan. World Series, pro hockey, and football at its height. He can sit staring at the machine until he nears senility and has to be spoon-fed.

Great month for the student. He has got through that muddle of September, and can now settle down to the serious business of falling in love, falling behind in his work, and falling into deep water, in that order.

And then, there's the burning of the leaves, a ritual which should be on the Canadian coat of arms. There's a tremendous satisfaction in scooping up a bushel basket of dry leaves, piling them on the fire on a dusky October eve, and seeing the orange and yellow flames spear skyward, searing the telephone wires.

Every year, I feel a pang of pity for the apartment-dweller, with no leaves to burn. He's like a kid who never gets a firecracker of his own to set off on the 24th of May.

And when does the city-dweller ever get the sheer, human satisfaction of seeing a sprightly north-west breeze pick all the leaves off his lawn and deposit them accurately on the lawn of his neighbor, who hates leaves and is always trying to keep his lawn raked?

And the thrill of the apple crops. The soft little fruits of September, the peaches and pears that go rotten so quickly, are gone. And you drive through the orchard country, trees drooping with red, and you pick up a bushel of spies, and you bite, and the juice spurts right over your shoulder. Food for the gods. Provided their teeth are not falsies.

And there's just enough sadness, as October nears its end, and days shorten, and trees bare, and gloomy November puts his clammy nose over your shoulder, to heighten all the joys of this most remarkable month, and make it something that is distinctly Canadian and distinctly you.

WEDDING

BRADSHAW - BROWNSON

Pink and white gladioli and ferns decorated the altar of Trinity United Church, Madoc, on Saturday, October 5th., 1968, when Rev. D. W. Heard performed the double-ring marriage ceremony of Margaret Anne Brownson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brownson, R.R. 4, Madoc, and Mr. Murray Glenn Bradshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bradshaw of Foxboro. Mrs. Emma Reid rendered the traditional wedding music and Miss Mary Dracup of Stirling was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of imported crystal crepe, featuring an empire waist of semi-attached Guipure lace with lily-point sleeves and a gently scalloped portrait neckline. The full-length coat was sleeveless with the two front panels in matching lace and the centre back panel in crystal crepe. A border of crystal crepe flowed down two self bows at the shoulders down the front to the hemline. The hem at the front tapered to the back to form a short train. Her shoulder-length veil of white tulle was scallop-edged, with a head-piece of white flowers and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and stephanotis with ivy.

Miss Marlene Brownson, sister of the bride, was maid of honour, attired in a floor-length gown of maroon blue chiffon over taffeta. The dress featured scooped neckline and was sleeveless. The waistline was trimmed with a border of Venice coin self-embroidery. Over the dress was a full-length chiffon cape with matching embroidery. The headpiece consisted of three rosebuds of imported velvet in matching shades with short illusion veil.

Miss Donna Fuller of Belleville and Miss Janis Bradshaw of Foxboro were bridesmaids. They were attired the same as the maid of honour. They all carried bouquets of white 'mums tinted blue.

The flower girl, little Miss Norma Wall of North Bay, cousin of the bridegroom. She was dressed in a floor-length gown of white crystal crepe styled similar to that of the bride. Her headpiece was a crown of blue flowers and she carried a basket of white 'mums tinted blue. The ring-bearer was little Martin Denyes of Batawa, nephew of the groom.

Attending the bridegroom was Mr. Rodney Moorcroft of Foxboro and the ushers were Allan Brownson of Oshawa and Earl Reid of Foxboro.

For the wedding reception held at the Legion Hall in Madoc, the mother of the bride received the guests wearing a maroon blue silk knit dress with feathered hat and black accessories and a corsage of pink 'mums. Assisting her the mother of the bridegroom wore a French blue crepe dress with an overlay of chiffon panels. Blue and white accessories and a corsage of white 'mums with silver completed her ensemble.

For the wedding trip to North Bay, the bride donned a three piece cape suit of mint green brocade. The suit featured a mandarin collar, double-breasted style. The cape was detachable an when wore was fastened with two self buttons. Brown accessories and a corsage of pink roses completed her outfit. They are residing in Foxboro.

COOPER-REMINGTON WILLING WORKERS

The fourth meeting of the Cooper-Remington Willing Workers was held on October 14th., at the Cooper Community Centre.

Roll Call was taken and there were eight members present. Each member answered, giving a list of fruits they freeze, can or dry at home.

Points of discussion were as follows: Importance of Breakfast; Fruit Beginnings; Fruit with Cereal; Fruit Endings; Fruit for Vitamin C; Fruit Cup Pointers; and the members' Record Books.

Mrs. Bailey helped with the meeting and showed the girls the proper way to slice an orange.

The meeting closed with the 4-H Pledge.

The fifth meeting was held on Saturday, October 19th., at the Cooper Community Centre.

Roll Call was taken and there were eight members present. Each member listed the fruits she ate the day before.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Glenn Rollins.

Mrs. Bailey assisted the girls in making an apple pie. After eating it, the dishes were cleaned up.

The meeting closed by repeating the 4-H Pledge.

SOLUTION

with Canada Savings Bonds

$250 for each $100. That's what you can get with this year's Canada Savings Bonds. Here's how.

The new Bonds have fourteen regular annual interest coupons which can be cashed each year as they come due. The first pays 5.75%; the second, 6.50%; the next three, 6.75% each, and the last nine a big 7.00% each. Total regular annual interest amounts to $95.50 on each $100 Bond.

If you choose you may hold all these regular annual interest coupons uncashed until your Bond matures. If you do, you will then get interest on your interest totalling an additional $54.50 on each $100 Bond.

At maturity, therefore, you can get back total interest of $150 plus your original $100 investment. This way each $100 Canada Savings Bond becomes worth $250. Other denominations can grow at the same exciting rate.

Adults, children, businesses and institutions—all may buy Canada Savings Bonds. They are available in convenient amounts of $50 up to $50,000 for cash or on instalments, wherever you work, bank or invest. And, as always, Canada Savings Bonds are cashable any time at full face value plus earned interest.

Few investments are so profitable. None builds more surely for the future. Buy Canada Savings Bonds and make your savings really grow.

Buy yours today!

POTTER QUESTIONS TAX REBATE

Ontario's property tax rebate scheme is an expensive over-reaching itself and should be abolished, believes Dr. R. T. Potter.

The Quinte MPP wants the provincial government to review the plan — show only in its first year — because its system of unselective, universal remuneration is not satisfactory.

"We're trying to help people in the province because of excessive taxation," he charges, "but I don't see how we are helping people who really need help."

The Conservative legislator, who is building a critic's reputation within his own party, touched off criticism of the rebate scheme Saturday during a debate at the Conservative Women's Advisory Committee regional meeting.

He opened up on the tax system when a delegate queried rebates to cottage owners. (The Ontario average rebate on cottage property is $53. But many Americans only pay $58 taxes — actually reduced to $5 with the rebate, the delegate claimed.)

"It doesn't look right — with us subsidizing people with cottages while poverty exists in the province", agreed Dr. Potter.

Monday the Quinte MPP termed it "ridiculous" that the government should subsidize summer cottage owners "when people haven't got a decent home to live in".

"My belief — and the old Progressive Conservative belief — is that we give assistance where assistance is necessary", he said. "When you subsidize everybody, you're making it so expensive you're not helping people who need it."

"It was mistake that it was ever done. The administrative costs must be at least $1,000,000 a year."

"I'd like to take a whole new look at this thing," asserted the MPP.

Another problem posed by the present scheme is its abuse by some recipients.

Some landlords, he charged, don't pass on the rebate in cases where tenants have no leases. Instead they threaten to raise rents if the tenants seek the rebate.

"It's been abused just like the student loans were being abused", he claimed.

Saturday, Dr. Potter warned the Conservative workers the government was "taking the money on one hand and then handing it back with the other".

There's a great tendency to be railroaded into these socialist tendencies because we fear that socialist parties will get support by offering free services."

He said he would be disappointed if the legislation was not discussed by the party's caucus in the Legislative Assembly.

Cottage rebates also were described as one of "the bugs in legislation" by Norris Whitney, MPP for neighbouring Prince Edward-Lennox.

"This is one of the unfortunate things that will have to be ironed out," said Mr. Whitney.

It would be discussed during the next party caucus.

Other panel members were Clarke Rollins, MPP, Hastings; Syl Apps, MPP, Kingston and the Islands; Lee Grills, MPP, Hastings; and Mrs. Alene Holt, chairman of the Ontario Conservative Women's Advisory Board.

Syl Apps, chairman of the select committee set up to study youth, was asked about the study.

"What I'd like to impress upon most people is the fact that most young people are fine people. It's a very, very small percentage that is not."

Mr. Apps mentioned teenage drinking problems. He said that the study considered lowering the age, but this was not recommended in the end.

The study decided to make people aware of the dangers of the habit.

Mr. Apps complained that older people were no example nor were television advertisements.

He said that following concern over accident rates among young people it was recommended that motorcyclists be forced to wear helmets.

Mr. Apps spoke of other recommendations such as temporary drivers' licences for teens from ages 16 to 18.

The study felt that there should be more nursery schools to look after children.

It was also recommended that there be institutions described best as "half way homes", rather than training schools.

He criticized schools for not keeping youth in good physical condition. "Their physical condition isn't good enough."

Mr. Apps recommended a department of youth with which he said young people might get a little more attention.

Lee Grills answered a number of questions concerning postage stamps.

He explained that it cost $16,000 approximately every time a new stamp was issued, but he said that revenue from them amounted to about $40,000.

Upon being asked how many different stamps were issued, he said that the average per year was about 12. He explained that during Centennial year about 20 were issued.

NOVICE HOCKEY

The Madoc I.O.O.F. Novice Team will journey to Belleville this Sunday, November 3rd, for an exhibition game with the Belleville All-Star squad. Game time will be 5:30 p.m.

Belleville was the only team in this zone that could defeat the local squad last year. Although 4 regular players have moved up to Pee Wee, most of the regular squad will be playing Novice again this year. A few new players will be making their debut this Sunday.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank friends, relatives and neighbours for the many acts of kindness and for cards and treats while I was a patient in the Toronto Hospital and since returning home.

IN MEMORIAM

TENNYSON — In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Gilbert George Tennyson, who passed away one year ago, October 30, 1967. This month is here with deep regret. It brings back a day we'll never forget. You fell asleep without saying goodbye. But memories of you will never die. A day of remembrance sadly recalled: Without farewell you left us all. Yet, unseen, unheard, you're always near. Still loved, still missed and forever dear. Lovingly remembered by Jim, Shirley and grandchildren.

COOPER

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rollins spent last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Don Campbell, Cobourg. Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn Rollins, Kingston, are spending some holidays with relatives in Cooper this past week. Miss Jane and Miss Joan Bailey took part in the judging competition at the University of Guelph on Friday. Mrs. Norman Cox, Carp, spent a few days with Mrs. Stanley Rollins and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Rollins. Mrs. Leonard Parks attended the funeral of her granddaughter on Friday in Milwaukee, U.S.A. Mrs. Flo. Card, Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Gih. Bailey and family, Madoc, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bailey. Saturday evening visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chapman were Mr. and Mrs. Doug Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Douglas, Crookston, Mr. and Mrs. Dave McMaster, Ixonia, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Douglas, Stirling, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Scott, Peterborough, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Chapman, Cooper. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sedore, Kevin and Kimberly, Springbrook, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Chapman. Monday supper guests at the same home were Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Burris and Jackie, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Foley, Marg, Shelley and Sandra Foley and Mr. Jerry Chapman. Mrs. Frank Parks visited Mr. and Mrs. Cor. in Veld, Eldorado, last Thursday. Mrs. Emma Hagerman, Bancroft, visited her sister, Mrs. Frank Parks on Friday evening and Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Rex Rollins were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hughes, Renfrew. It has been reported that Mr. Bob Chapman is sporting a new Honda. It will soon be too chilly, Bob.

BANNOCKBURN

Mr. and Mrs. K. Donly and family left on the weekend to take up residence in Stirling. Mrs. Fred Blondin, Peterborough, spent a couple of days with her sister, Mrs. Harris and Mr. Harris. Mr. and Mrs. K. Cunningham, Toronto, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Simpson and attended the Simpson-Donaldson wedding at St. Bartholomew's Church on Saturday. Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Donly on Friday, Saturday and Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Howe and Miss Alice Howe, Niagara Falls and Misses Catherine, Carole and Colleen Donly, Belleville. Rev. R. Campbell officiated at a wedding in Gooderham on Saturday. Miss Bonny Lemon, Kingston, spent a few days at her home last week.

IN MEMORIAM

TENNYSON — In loving memory of a dear husband, Gilbert Tennyson, who passed away October 30, 1967. God knew that he was suffering; That the hills were hard to climb, So he closed his weary eyelids And whispered, "Peace be Thine". His weary hours and days of pain; His troubled nights are past. And in my aching heart I know He has found sweet rest at last. God, put your arms around him; Keep him in your care; Make up for all his suffering And all that was unfair. Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by wife, Mary.

CARD OF THANKS

A sincere thank you to everyone who remembered us with cards, flowers and gifts and to those who helped in any way to make our Twenty-Fifth Wedding Anniversary such a memorable occasion. Eddie and Rita Burke.

BETHESDA U. C. W.

On October 2, 1968, the United Church Women Bethesda, White Lake, held their monthly meeting in the basement of the church in the evening. The president, Mrs. Vera Francis, opened the meeting with a reading, "Leaves". The theme song was sung and the theme prayer said. Roll Call was answered by seventeen members and 1 visitor. It was about something of interest seen at Madoc Fair.

There had been a number of sick calls made during the month. Mrs. Mavis Blackburn had the worship and the topic was "Worship For The Day". Hymn 61, "I Love To Tell The Story", was sung and Mrs. Marjorie Holland played the organ. Mrs. Ida Wickens read the Scripture, 1 John: 1-4. Hymn 27, "What a Friend we have in Jesus", was sung and prayer closed the worship part.

Mrs. Norma MacMillan read the minutes of the last meeting and they were adopted.

There was a number of thank-you cards read for boxes sent to the sick. The business period was very short. Mrs. Illa Mullet gave the treasurer's report and was very pleasing.

Mrs. Illa Mullet also had the program. There was a reading by Mrs. Ida Wickens, "A Gift of Friendship", and Mrs. Illa Mullet gave a reading "The Amen Corner".

Mrs. Vera Francis had a contest naming the States and Mrs. Illa Mullet was the winner. Hymn 52, "Sowing in the Morning", was sung and The Lord's Prayer closed the meeting.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Mavis Blackburn, Miss Ruby Holland, Mrs. Ida Wickens and Mrs. Illa Mullet and a social half hour spent.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the many relatives and friends who attended the gathering at Crystal Beach, Madoc, August 13th, in honour of Mrs. Beatrice Ellis, 326 Rubidge Street, Peterborough, and Mr. Allan Ellis, 764 Mary Street N., Oshawa. Our sincere thanks for the many letters, cards and telegrams of good wishes received from those unable to attend.

We extend our appreciation to Bill Hawthorne Jr. for his special arrangements and to Stanley Hawthorne for the favourite organ renditions vividly presented to remain a happy memory.

Unfortunately, Mr. Allan Ellis was in hospital and unable to be present at the gathering, but is now at his Mary Street address in Oshawa. Mrs. Allan Ellis is at Hillsdale Manor, Roseland Street E., Oshawa.

With regret we mention the sudden passing of Bates Raney on August 30, 1968, who was our capable Master of Ceremonies on this special occasion. Mrs. Bates Raney (nee Marjorie Ellis) lives at 5 Peter Cooper Road, New York City.

Bernice Welch,
Marjorie Raney,
Audrey Louden.

IN MEMORIAM

TENNYSON — In loving memory of a dear Father, Gilbert Tennyson. What we would give if we could say "Hello, Dad", in the same old way. To hear your voice, see your smile, To sit and chat with you a while; So when you have a Father, Cherish him with care; For you never know the heartache 'Til you see his empty chair. Remembered always, Bud and Norman.

IN MEMORIAM

TENNYSON — In loving memory of a dear Father, Gilbert Tennyson. A golden heart stopped beating. Two working hands at rest: God broke our hearts to prove to us He only takes the best. Ever remembered by Bill, Marlene and grandchildren.

HIGHWAY SPEED LIMITS, TO BE INCREASED

Maximum speed limits for passenger cars and motorcycles will be increased next month from 60 to 70 miles per hour on Highways 400 and 401 only. It was announced recently by Hon. Irwin Haskett, Ontario's Minister of Transport. The only exception will be for commercial vehicles other than buses, for which the limit will remain at 60 mph.

The new limits will come into effect on November 15th, when the replacement of speed limit signs on Highways 400 and 401 will be completed. The delayed effective date will allow time to make the required change in signing on 560 miles of limited access highway.

Mr. Haskett said the move was carefully considered for some time by officials of his Department after detailed study of accident experience and traffic surveys.

Mr. Haskett said that studies show that the accident rate is actually lower on 4-lane divided highways. The accident rate for the whole province on all types of roads was 5.8 per million miles of vehicle travel.

The experience on four-lane divided highways is 1.6 accidents per million miles of vehicle travel.

Mr. Haskett stressed that this is not an initial move in a general raising of traffic speed limits.

The Minister warned that maximum speeds are the maximum for driving in good weather, road and traffic conditions and advised drivers to slow down when conditions were unfavourable.

The present speed limits will remain in effect until November 15th, on and after which date the new limits will be strictly enforced.

IN MEMORIAM

TENNYSON — In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Gilbert George Tennyson, who passed away one year ago, October 30, 1967. This month is here with deep regret. It brings back a day we'll never forget. You fell asleep without saying goodbye. But memories of you will never die. A day of remembrance sadly recalled: Without farewell you left us all. Yet, unseen, unheard, you're always near. Still loved, still missed and forever dear. Lovingly remembered by Jim, Shirley and grandchildren.

Don't let George do it

If the Democratic party is soundly defeated in next Tuesday's U.S. presidential voting, it will be because the Republicans have been able to create a new coalition of voters.

Coalition is the key to American politics, because no single bloc is big enough to dominate the entire country.

The Democratic coalition which won six out of eight elections between 1932 and 1960 was based on the growing power of the big cities and the old strength of the Democratic "Solid South."

In 1964, a year which for the Republicans was a debacle, the Democratic coalition began to break up with Barry Goldwater taking a majority of the southern states.

The Republican party's traditional strength among small town, suburban and upper income voters has been reinforced by Richard Nixon's appeal to a broad cross-section including much of the south and part of the union movement.

The big, and unknown new factor in this election is of course the emergence of George Wallace as a strong third party candidate. The question is not whether he can win the election — he can't — but whether he will hurt the Republicans or the Democrats the most.

There are signs that the former governor of Alabama will hurt both the major parties about equally.

Wallace will almost surely sweep the south, depriving Richard Nixon of much-needed electoral votes from several states. But he also will eat into the white working class vote which supported Presidents Johnson, Kennedy and Roosevelt.

Wallace is promoting himself as the workingman's candidate, in a strategy which is aimed at draining off the Democratic party's trade union support throughout the industrial north.

The vote next Tuesday should run higher than 70 million, although there are signs hundreds of thousands of voters may stay home because they don't like any of the candidates.

After winning the greatest vote in history, Lyndon Baines Johnson has done what would have seemed impossible four years ago. He has brought the Republican party back from the brink of total collapse. His policies have so alienated vast segments of American voters that it is doubtful if the country is now on issues of race, war, civil rights, urban reconstruction, and welfare policies.

There have been many third party candidates in U.S. history but the only one who probably changed the outcome of an election was Theodore Roosevelt in 1912. Roosevelt had been elected as vice-president to William McKinley in 1900. He became president when McKinley was shot in 1901, and won election in his own right in 1904. The Republicans won again in 1908 with William H. Taft but Teddy Roosevelt bitterly opposed Taft's renomination in 1912. By running against Taft, he made it possible for the Democrats to elect Woodrow Wilson.

If George Wallace wins enough votes Tuesday to stop either Hubert Humphrey or Nixon short of a majority, the House of Representatives will have to choose the president. This has happened only twice in history. In 1800 the House chose Thomas Jefferson over Aaron Burr. In 1876 the House and Senate jointly chose Rutherford Hayes although his Democratic opponent, Samuel Tilden, had beaten him in the popular vote.

George Wallace's strength is tangible evidence of the backlash against the social upheaval which has set black against white, young against old, and the middle class against the working class.

It is the better educated, upper middle class which has become the advocate of social change in the U.S. The working class, fearful of black rivalry on the job and in the neighborhood, wants society left unchanged, dissent crushed, and disturbances put down. This cannot be, of course, and the American voter will either decisively repulse Wallace's bid on Tuesday, or pave the way for an American Hitler by 1972.

REMINISCING

Taken from the Review files of 50, 25 and 15 years ago.

50 YEARS AGO

October 31, 1918.

"Yours for Victory Loan, 1918" is the Canadian letter-writers' slogan in the Victory Loan Campaign. Everyone is asked to sign his or her letters this way. Already some are doing it and it is hoped the practise will become general.

"We are in the grip of a new disease". But is it a new disease or an old one revived? It has been given an old name: influenza. Most people think the name and the disease are comparatively recent but their knowledge not going further back than the great epidemic of 1889-92, called then the Russian influenza because it appeared to start in Siberia. But, in fact, both name and disease are extremely old. The word is Italian for "the influence" and takes us back to the time when causes of diseases were attributed to the malign influence of planets or supernatural beings. Records of influenza, like epidemics, can be traced as far back as 1173. From 1510 onward, the accounts are fairly accurate, so that the disease can be identified with certainty. In the 16th century there were three big epidemics and in the next two centuries, twelve, and in the last century, six.

Wedding — Marmora R. C. Church was the scene of the wedding on Wednesday, October 23rd, when Evelyn Marie Doyle became the bride of Vincent St. Charles Cox of Madoc. Rev. Father Murtagh officiating. Wedding music was played by Miss Bessie Cox, sister of the groom. The attendants were Miss Agnes Doyle, the bride's sister, and Mr. Clement Cox, brother of the groom.

Deaths — George Caverly, son of Mr. Charles Caverly, formerly of Madoc, died in Niagara Falls on Tuesday of influenza.

There passed away on Monday, October 28th, in Huntingdon Twp., Amy Reynolds, wife of Mr. William J. Reid of pneumonia, aged 27 years.

The late Garrett Barry of Marmora formerly of Queensboro, died recently at the age of 38 years.

Ralph L. Fisher McEwen, only son of Samuel L. and Sara McEwen, passed away at his home in Bannockburn on Wednesday, October 23rd, aged 15 years, after a short illness of pneumonia.

Lillian Thompson, wife of David Phillips, passed away on Friday, after a two-day illness from influenza.

Mr. Chas. Whytock received word on Saturday last that Roland West, formerly of Madoc, had died in Midland of influenza, aged 19 years.

25 YEARS AGO

One Hastings County canvasser in the Fifth Victory Loan, which gets underway across Canada on Monday will proudly offer his country's bonds to the public and he will have a justifiable reason. That particular man is R. P. Gunter of Coe Hill, canvasser for the Bancroft district. His eldest son, Ivan Gunter of the Hastings and P.E. Regiment won the military medal for conspicuous gallantry in Sicily and had the medal pinned on his tunic by General Montgomery, commander of the British 8th Army. Himself a veteran of World War I, Mr. Gunter has two sons in the armed forces. A second son is with the R.C.A.F. stationed in Labrador.

Madoc Village and district can feel justly proud of their 2nd Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic held in the basement of the United Church on Tuesday. A total of 85 volunteers gave their blood that morning, showing a gratifying increase over the 52 who donated at the first clinic nine weeks ago.

In a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Jowett of Madoc Village, dated September 13th, Pte. Wilfred Jowett states that he was wounded in the Battle of Sicily in the leg and arm and at the time of writing was in an English hospital.

Born — In Madoc Village on Sunday, October 25th, to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gordon, a son.

Marriage — A lovely autumn wedding was solemnized at Sacred Heart Church on Saturday, September 25th, when Marguerite Hilda, daughter of Mrs. Feeney and the late Fred Feeney became the bride of Edward Joseph Meraw, son of Mrs. Meraw and the late T. Meraw of Tweed. Rev. Father Hyland officiated.

Death — Mrs. Harriet Holland, widow of Alfred Holland, died at her home, Huntingdon Twp., on Thursday, October 21st, aged 80 years. Surviving her are three sons, Robert Ward Holland and Alfred Wesley Holland of Huntingdon Twp., and Arthur Ross Holland, Sidney Twp., also one daughter, Mrs. Henry Mullett, Crookston.

15 YEARS AGO

October 29th, 1953

The first 1953-54 meeting of the Home and School Association was held in the Public School on the evening of October 13th. Officers installed for the new season were Pres., Mrs. K. Kincaid; 1st. Vice Pres., Mrs. Brownson; 2nd. Vice Pres., Mr. D. Stewart; Treasurer, Mrs. C. Howse; Recording Sec'y., Mrs. J. Rankin; Cor. Sec'y., Mrs. L. Blue; Executive Mr. R. Birch, Mrs. H. Brintnell, Mrs. R. Daffoe, Mrs. G. Duffin, Miss L. Connor. The new Principal of the Public School, Mr. D. A. Runnalls, welcomed the members and guests and wished the Association a successful year.

Wednesday evening was a red letter day for Kiwanians in this district when nearly 150 members of the Tweed and Madoc clubs, their wives and visiting Kiwanians gathered in the Tweedsmuir Hotel, Tweed, to celebrate the Tweed Club's first anniversary and the Madoc Club's fifth. General chairmen for the evening were George Duffin of Madoc and Roy Woolfrey of Tweed who went all out to make the evening the grand success it was. The guest speaker, Mr. McIntyre Hood, was introduced by John Bristol of Madoc. Mr. Hood, who is the Managing Editor of the Oshawa Daily Times, took as his topic the coca-cola slogan, "The Pause that Refreshes". In his remarks, he stressed the importance of taking time to rest, both physically and mentally and suggested that the Kiwanis hour of friendship was an excellent way to refresh one's self from the high speed in which we are living today.

Birth — Born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Prentice, Toronto, at Welland General Hospital on October 17th, 1953, a son, Robert Francis, a brother for Heather and Carol.

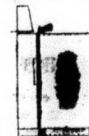

Deaths — Mr. Russell Vollick of Point Anne, formerly of Madoc, died in Kingston General Hospital on Friday, October 23rd, in his 62nd year. Mr. Wesley Vollick of Madoc is a brother.

William Allan McCoy, Belleville, died at his home on Wednesday, aged 74 years. He is survived by his wife, the former Laura Burris, and two daughters, Mrs. Ronald (Betty) Walmsley and Mrs. Clayton (Eula) Burley, both of Belleville, and one sister, Mrs. Owen Burris, of Madoc.

DEAR DORIS

advice from
Doris Clark

He's a back stabber

DEAR DORIS — When the manager of this store hired me he said, "I don't know what it is but we just can't seem to keep a girl in our office." I soon found out. I just could not get along with the office boss; he was so hateful to work for.

Four months later, he said he was going to fire me if I did not work any faster; so rather than be fired, I quit.

I have tried all over town looking for work, for six months, but I was beat before I started because when asked, I gave the name of my previous employer for a recommendation, and I did not get any.

Stymied
DEAR STYMIED — It isn't fair. Even if an employee were to be at fault, once, a single reference from an offended employer shouldn't have the power to prevent all further progress.

Something or somebody has to counteract Old Hateful's influence. I'd suggest you approach a respected citizen who knows you and your family well for a character reference. Your minister or doctor, or a teacher who helped you over some of the rough spots, might be the one to do it.

And here's a cheerful thought: Sooner or later such an office boss gets his own reputation for being a poor person to work for; and other employers take what he says with a grain of salt.

DEAR DORIS — These days nearly everybody goes steady at 13 or 14. It's not really tying yourself down to a guy. Well, it is, but put it this way: If you don't then you sort of switch hands too often.

Every guy you go out with will try for a kiss, and after dating three or four boys you have a reputation of being easy to get something out of.

I can see your point of view but if you were our age I am definite you would see it this way because I have seen all my girl friends switch hands and get "easy pickings" reputations. No amount of persuasion would change my mind or any others.

Deeply Concerned

DEAR DEEPLY — So accepting a date means "yes" to a kiss? or more? I can see dating one fellow several times; but I'd like to think our girls were particular about how soon and to whom they permitted caresses — of any kind!

It's the going steady that is almost like an engagement that I object to. Happens, I hope, a little later than 14.

Any other Concerned's like to put in five cents' worth?

DEAR DORIS — When we have company or when we go visiting, I don't have anything to say. Whenever someone directs a question to me, I often fail to grasp the meaning of it. Other times I answer without thinking, then I worry if I said the right thing.

When I say something, it comes out awkwardly most of the time. I think of a better way to say it but it is too late then.

Embarrassed Andy

DEAR ANDY — And the more you worry, the less you know what to say! But don't you all? Almost anyone can think of an occasion when words failed him. Then the exact-right sentence comes crystal clear, say in the middle of the night, when he lies awake thinking about his social failure.

Perhaps the best answer is to grow some brand new habits of concentration — of a special kind. Concentrate on how the other person is thinking; how he feels; and devote yourself to putting him at ease.

This calls for exercising both imagination and sociability. And self-forgetfulness (the opposite to the real culprit, self-consciousness).

Confidential to Shocked — No overbearing father has the right to reject medical advice which could mean the difference between health and illness for his son.

Schizophrenia adds up to a pattern of assorted symptoms which can gradually seal a young human being off into a sort of tomb. Caught soon enough, the sufferer can be helped tremendously.

ST. PETER'S W.M.S.

Mrs. Getha Burns was hostess for the October meeting of St. Peter's Women's Club. Miss Loren Connor, the devotional convenor, used Thanksgiving as the theme for this part of the program. She read Psalm 100 and then all joined in singing the hymn, "Come Ye Thankful People, Come". Miss Connor read a story and poem on Thanksgiving and concluded with prayer.

The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Muriel Brett and the treasurer's by Mrs. Daisy Bateman. The president, Mrs. Mary Trotter, conducted a business discussion.

The guest speaker, Rev. Mr. Vernon Tozer, used as his motto, "We seek to praise God with our hands". He said that the Women's groups in the church keep going even if the church is without a minister and that they are always able to help out at the end of the year if there is a shortage of funds. In this way, they praise God with their hands.

Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Aletha Woods and Mrs. Margaret Wallace.

ST. JOHN'S A.C.W.

The ladies of St. John the Baptist Anglican A.C.W. met at the home of Mrs. Roy Brownson on Monday, October 7th., at 2:00 p.m.

There were eleven members present, with two visitors. The meeting was opened with the Crusade Prayer, followed by the member's Prayer and Devotions. The Bible reading was taken from St. Luke's Gospel and read by Mrs. Velma Carman, the theme being, "Who is my neighbour". The minutes of the last meeting were read, also a financial statement and sick report. The business part of the meeting was very interesting, with several decisions being made, one being that the group would continue to help support an orphan boy overseas; also dates were made for Rummage Sale, etc.

The meeting was closed with prayer and a very delicious lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. K. Thompson thanked Mrs. Brownson for a very enjoyable afternoon. The next meeting will be on November 5th in the Parish Hall.

MRS. MULINDWA SPEAKS AT U.W.C. MEETING

The U.W.C. of Belleville and District were honoured Thursday to have as their guest speaker, Mrs. Mulindwa from Uganda. She was introduced to the club by Miss Handford, the Provincial Director of Eastern Ontario, C.F.U.W.

Mrs. Mulindwa described the location, climate, crops, resources and history of her country, then described family life and customs. She then showed how the close-family ties and the custom of collecting dowries from men in exchange for the daughter's hand in marriage affected girls' chances of being educated. The fact that education is not free even at the elementary school level prevents 50 per cent of Uganda's children from getting any education whatsoever.

Mrs. Mulindwa's account of the very demanding role of being one of the few university graduates was very interesting. The acceptance of the financial, political and moral obligations of their positions is a great credit to Uganda's women. An amazingly high percentage hold positions of great responsibility. In 1966 they had two women in parliament.

Educated women take on the responsibility of encouraging further education for their youth in spite of very limited funds. Some organize nursery schools and solicit funds from individuals and clubs to help university students. If Mrs. Mulindwa's spirit and tenacity are typical, Uganda's women could not help but make a great contribution to the development of their country's progress.

Mrs. Marion Gray thanked Mrs. Mulindwa and presented her with a stirring brooch with a maple leaf, a small token of the club's appreciation for a most stimulating talk.

WOODS, WATERS AND WILDLIFE

AUTUMN LEAVES
By James Woodford

Tree leaves in autumn disclose brilliant colors that have hidden within the leaf all summer.

For the most part, leaves do not "change color" at this season. Rather, the substance called chlorophyll which colors leaves green dies. As a result, the yellows, oranges, reds, and purples that have been masked all summer by chlorophyll green emerge in autumnal glory.

Despite its legendary role, frost does not cause the change in tree leaf color. In fact, a hard frost too early interferes with the chemistry of the leaf and may dampen fall color. The association between the death of tree leaves and frost is a matter of timing, rather than of cause and effect. Tree leaves have completed their summer's work and are dying at about the time that frost arrives.

The yellows and oranges of autumn leaves come from the carotin that lives in the leaf all summer. Carotin is a chemical best known for coloring carrots. Like other colors within the leaf, it is necessary but less important than chlorophyll which must be exposed to the sun.

The reds, blues and purples in leaves all come from the same chemical, anthocyanin, which is an ingredient of leaf sap. Whether the color shade is on the red or blue side depends upon acidity of the tree's sap. The red maple, for instance, is highly acid and thus has remarkably brilliant reds in its leaves.

The trees with bluish or purple leaves have alkaline sap. Anthocyanin reacts with acid or alkaline much as that old indicator litmus paper. In acid it turns red; in alkaline, blue.

Brown is a prevalent late autumn color which was not mentioned earlier because while the chemicals that make brown have been present all summer, the color, strictly speaking, was not present through the growing season. Leaves have other colors through the season, but they acquire brown as death nears.

Browns may come from two sources. A final color phase of carotin may be brown. The more common brown, however, comes from tannin in the leaf. This tannin is the same tree chemical that can tan leather brown or tan. It can have a similar effect upon the leaves of trees with high tannin content.

THE SPORTS BEAT

By Glen Moy

Our great prat-fall

Okay, so we took a worst licking than a four cent stamp during the Christmas rush. So what? Let's not hang down our heads and cry. Save that for the Tom Dooleys.

Canada sent its best team ever to the Olympics, and perhaps this is not a relevant point, but it was also the largest group of athletes we've ever sent to an Olympic meet. It appeared that finally we were going to capture a few medals.

Our athletes went through high-level training in preparation for the mile-high Mexico altitude. In the Pan-American Games at Winnipeg, Canadian athletes didn't disgrace themselves. Their showing actually gave most observers a touch of optimism regarding the pending Olympics.

Why, then, did our athletes fall on their prats? Why didn't they dash, swim, trot, ride and jump their way to glory? Why? Why?

Perhaps the answer does not lie with the athletes, but rather, the onus should be placed squarely on the shoulders of the administrators handling our Olympic hopefuls. Our athletes must be amateurs, but should our administrators also be amateurs?

Canada's top female half miler, Abby Hoffman, curtly remarked: "We've got no system — a non-system — too many small, uncoordinated bodies with no money, no administrative expertise, run by people who aren't able to run it properly."

She continued: "There's incompetence throughout, and it shows up pretty plainly at the Olympics. There's incompetence at the top and all the way through."

"Did you know that Lloyd Swindells, the Canadian team manager, arrived here the day before the Games were to open? We'd (the athletes) been here for two weeks by then, with no team manager."

"To make matters worse, he didn't even live in the athlete's village. He lived in a downtown hotel. He came out here during the daytime, I heard."

"Something else. Six people have to be nominated for two races, two of them being alternates. So what did our coach (Doug Kyle of Calgary) do? He named the six people and then trained four of them, plus one alternate, only the alternate they trained wasn't one of the girls who'd been named and she couldn't compete."

"That's pretty typical of the way it's run for the other 11 free years and 11 months. It's just a big batch up. Here we are with 150 athletes and only one doctor and one physiotherapist. The French have all kinds of doctors and masseurs."

"We have two track coaches (Kyle and John Minichiello of Vancouver) and I couldn't even begin to ask them how to run my 800-metre final. These coaches are oriented internationally. I don't suppose they even knew who was in my race."

"Canadian athletes have to be tough: to be athletes at all. Training facilities are lousy."

There are two ways to build athletes — a crash program of say 200 athletes given all the training and facilities they require. That's the fastest way. Or there's the mass base program, a cross country thing. But they can't decide which one they're going to adopt so no one can make a move."

"The performance of our athletes are a reflection of the administration of the sport."

Well spoken, Miss Hoffman.

Match, the Hastings County Plowmen's Association and the Mohawk Plowmen's Association held a joint match on Saturday, October 5th. As this was a special occasion, the Hastings County Plowmen's Association was pleased to be invited to take part in this joint match, which was held on the farm of Stewart Hill, Deseronto.

Good weather and soil conditions prevailed and there were some excellent lands ploughed by the 18 competitors in 8 classes. The sponsoring Associations wish to report the class winners and to publicly acknowledge the support given by commercial donors, and individuals. A presentation banquet was held in the Council House in the evening, with Mr. Arthur Duncan, Batawa, as guest speaker.

The Mohawk Plowmen's Association and the Hastings County Plowmen's Association wish to publicly thank all those who assisted in any way.
